More Italians Straggling Into British Outposts To Give Themselves Up—Town Of Bardera Is Evacuated

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 27.—(AP)—British headquarters announced today that a 570-mile drive of Imperial forces into Italian Somaliland, leading to the capture of Mogadiscio, the capital, had brought the surrender of large Fascist forces, "evidently demoralized".

Several thousand prisoners have already been counted, a communique said, with many more straggling into the British outposts.

FREE ALLIED SEAMEN

During the advance which resulted in the capture of Mogadiscio, the British forces freed 200 Allied seamen who had been held for months as Italian prisoners of war at Merca, a coast town southwest of the capital.

The proportions of the Italian retreat were described in a Royal Air Force communique, which said pilots reported the important town of Bardera on the Juba river deserted and the river ferry destroyed.

The R.A.F. also made dive-bombing attacks on the Italian military post at Lugh Ferrandi, in northwestern Somaliland, near the Ethiopian border, indicating the British forces were spreadng their advance across the entire width of Somaliland.

SKIRMISH WITH NAZIS

A skirmish with a reconnaissance unit "believed to be German" west of Aghila, Libya, was announced by headquarters.

A communique said the Germans were driven back.

Today's War Moves

TODAY'S journey to Ankara by Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador to Russia, indicates there are obscurities and possibilities of alteration in Russia's immediate Balkan policy. If Stalin had shown a fixed and absolutely rigid attitude toward threatening events in southeastern Europe, there would be no necessity for Sir Stafford's participation in the Ankara discussions.

Further implication that Russia may be in a fluctuating mood perhaps exists in the fact that Premier-Foreign Minister Molotoff has postponed for two days in succession a speech he was to have delivered before the present meeting of the Supreme Soviet. It would seem probable that some hope at least exists among the Ankara conferees of interesting

Howe Declares Financial Post No. 1 Saboteur

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—"I make this charge that the No. 1 saboteur in Canada since the beginning of the war is the Financial Post," Munitions Minister Howe said in the House of Commons Wednesday.

Mr. Howe threw the house into excitement as he shouted out the charge at the end of a speech on aircraft and other war production. He complained of a tendency in the press to publish all sorts of rumors about his department and to attack it. In this, he said, The Financial Post was prominent.

"The Financial Post attempted

DISAPPEARANCE OF BRITON MAY LEAD TO BREAK

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 27.—(AP) — George Rendel, British minister to Bulgaria, announced tonight his diplomatic mission "does not propose to remain in Bulgaria in a humiliating position or to play into German hands."

British quarters earlier had emphasized the mysterious disappearance of Wodin Grenovitch, British passport officer, might lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Britain and Bulgaria.

Mr. Rendel protested to Premier Bogdan Philoff and said later the British legation was "taking an extremely serious view of the situation."

"If relations are broken," Mr. Rendel said at a press conference, "it will be the first step toward carrying Bulgaria into the war. If we leave here Bulgaria will have to face the consequences of being a theatre of war.

"Adequate causes for breaking relations almost exist already."

Associates of Grenovitch said they had "good reason to believe" he was taken off a train while en route from Sofia to Istanbul, Turkey, "by

PREMIER WILL MOVE SUPPORT WAR SAVINGS

Independents Charge Aberhart Amended Their Resolution

Endorsation of the Dominion war savings certificates campaign and adoption of "effective methods of financing the war and preparing for the post-war period by the national control and issue of money and credit without inflation," are among points stressed in a resolution which will be moved in the legislature by Premier William Aberhart.

The resolution is expected to produce a spirited clash between the government forces and the opposition.

Full text of the premier's resolution follows:

"Whereas the Dominion government has adopted the sale of war savings certificates and stamps as one of the methods of financing the war; and

"Whereas this method of financing the war has been designed by the Dominion government to achieve the primary and foremost abjective of the British Empire at the present time, namely, winning the war;

ENDORSE CAMPAIGN

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that this legislative assembly endorses the campaign for the sale of war savings certificates and stamps which is now being carried on throughout Canada as a part of our war effort:

"And further that this assembly urges that every citizen of Alberta should co-operate with the Dominion government in the winning of the war in every reasonable way possible; and

"Finally, that this assembly urges upon the Dominion government the necessity of adopting effective methods of financing the war and preparing for the post-war period by the national control and issue of money and credit without inflation."

Independent members have given indication that they will move an amendment to the premier's motion.

Spokesmen for the Independent Party have declared that they initiated the movement to have the legislature give complete endorsation to the war aid resolution in the belief it would assist the sale of stamps and certificates.

In order to inform the government on this matter, they had submitted their resolution to the Premier, suggesting that he should move it in the house and that J. H.

U. S. EMERGENCY DEFENCE BILL IS SENT TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The House of Representatives passed and sent to the United States Senate today a $1,533,439,702 emergency defence appropriation bill after overwhelmingly defeating an anti-closed shop amendment which its opponents said would "tie the defence program into knots."

The measure, carrying funds for completion of the army's big housing program and a vast expansion of naval shore establishments, including development of naval aviation outposts at Guam and Samoa, went through without a recorded vote or even a ripple of opposition.

British Agitators Landed At Night Blamed For Disorders

Germans Take Measures To Suppress Uprisings In Netherlands

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Nazi propagandists today sought to blame disorders in the German-occupied Netherlands on "British agitators" landed by parachute and swift motorboats at night.

They said measures were being taken by German military authorities to suppress the disorders in Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

The German idea at first apparently was that Jews were chiefly responsible for the disorders. Today, however, the propaganda ministry spokesmen said there were other "dark elements, including British agents."

"Depend upon it," they said, "the counter measures will be sharp enough to be effective with the greatest promptness.

"There is no preventing parachutists from landing and some boats might reach the coast but no big vessel with upwards of 1,000 agents could land.

Industrial Cologne Area Heavily Bombed In Big R.A.F. Sweep

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The air ministry news service said tonight that 150 fires were burning at one time during the Royal Air Force's raid on Cologne last night.

By NED RUSSELL

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—Powerful formations of the R. A. F. bomber, coastal and fighter commands rained bombs on the Cologne area of the German industrial Rhineland, the submarine base at Flushing, the invasion port of Boulogne, and German airdromes in occupied France in a series of raids during the night.

Indicating the vast sweep of this latest R.A.F. attack, the air ministry announced that four planes failed to return, but despite these losses, described the raid on Cologne as "very successful."

Both explosive and incendiary bombs were used.

Many heavy bombs were dropped on targets on both sides of the Rhine and large fires were started, the ministry asserted.

The attack was concentrated on the Cologne area, it was indicated.

In the target zones on which the British planes centered their attack are factories, oil refineries, a network of railroads, freight yards and the great Hohenzollern bridge across the Rhine, the main

Churchill Rejects Demand For Debate On Leased Bases

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Prime Minister Churchill rejected in the House of Commons today a demand for a debate on the leasing of defence bases to the United States.

"I do not think it would be desirable to have a debate on this subject at the present time," the prime minister declared.

"I must really emphasize that there is a war on."

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN CHURCHILL ON BILL IN HOUSE

By HAROLD FAIR

LONDON, Feb. 27—(CP)—The House of Commons today gave unanimous second reading to a bill which will enable Malcolm MacDonald to retain his parliamentary seat while serving as high commissioner to Canada. The action was taken after Prime Minister Churchill announced in debate the matter would be treated as a vote of confidence in the government.

The Prime Minister's ultimatum was delivered to a hushed house at the start of an all-day debate. It marked the first time he has asked for a vote of confidence since he formed his government in the grim days of last May. The house gave the measure second reading without objection as a formal vote was not necessary

The bill did not mention Mr. MacDonald by name but it has been associated with his appointment. It is designed to cover cases of mem-

LAPOINTE SAYS OTTAWA PAPER MUST ANSWER

Would Have To Answer In Courts For Alleged Subversive Statement

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Justice Minister Lapointe today told the House of Commons The Ottawa Citizen would "have to answer in the courts" for what he declared was a subversive statement and "an appeal to disorder," in a recent editorial.

Mr. Lapointe made his statement after M. J. Coldwell, acting C.C.F. leader, speaking on Defence of Canada Regulations, quoted an Ottawa Citizen editorial which he said concluded with the comment that when men come home from the present war, after handling Bren machine guns, "they will know better where to shoot" in order to satisfy their claims.

"Was there ever a clearer case of incitement to men in uniform to use force?" Mr. Coldwell asked.

MUST BE IMPARTIAL

"Justice must be impartial. What has been done by the attorney-general for Canada (Lapointe) to whose attention I drew this editorial? What has been done by the attorney-general of Ontario?"

Defence of Canada Regulations, Mr. Coldwell said, failed in their present form to safeguard many elementary rights of Canadian citizens.

"We insist that every accused person, organization and newspaper ought to have the right to a proper hearing before an impartial and competent tribunal," Mr. Coldwell declared.

He spoke on the motion of Prime Minister MacKenzie King to set up a committee to review the regulations with particular study of the laws relating to naturalization and deportation.

Italians Present Bill To Spain For Aiding Insurgents

ROME, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Stefani, Italian news agency, disclosed today that Italy, claiming she had spent 7,500,000,000 lire (about $375,000,000) aiding the insurgents in the Spanish civil war, had presented a bill to Spain for 5,500,000,000 lire (about $275,000,000) to be paid in 24 annual payments.

Mutual Problems In Mediterranean, Balkans Are Settled

Russia Will Be Discussed When Sir Stafford Cripps Attends Conferences Being Held In Ankara Tomorrow

ANKARA, Feb. 27.—(AP)—British and Turkish leaders were authoritatively reported today to have reached full agreement on problems affecting the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean.

It was indicated that conferences tomorrow would turn on the subject of Russia. Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador to Russia, arrived at Istanbul by plane from Moscow today and was to join the conference at Ankara.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Gen. Sir John Dill, chief of the Imperial General Staff, and ambassador Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen met in the Turkish cabinet room with Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, Field Marshal Chakmak and officers of the Turkish general staff "for a general review of the situation."

Unofficial reports said Great Britain was sounding out Turkish reaction to a plan for regulating traffic through the Dardanelles, strategic waterway linking the Mediterranean and the Black Sea. Some sources said they believed Mr. Eden would propose Turkey assume strict jurisdiction over the strait, barring all merchant traffic without special permission.

(Such a step possibly would be designed to cut off one route for oil shipments to the Axis powers—Italy in particular. It might also be used as a club to prevent Bulgaria—de-

Yugoslavia Speeding Defences As German Invasion Threatens

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Diplomatic dispatches from Belgrade said today that the Yugoslav general staff had ordered a speed-up of defence preparations, apparently in fear that German armies now in Rumania might attempt to get at Greece through Yugoslavia instead of Bulgaria.

Fitting into this picture of Yugoslavian alarm was a report at Budapest, Hungary, that Foreign Minister Alksander Cincar-Markovic of Yugoslavia had been called back suddenly from the Hungarian capital, where he had gone to sign a Yugoslav - Hungarian friendship pact.

(Although no reason was advanced at Budapest for the abrupt return of the foreign minister, diplomatic quarters heard that it was connected with "impending events of importance between the Axis and Yugoslavia.")

SOFIA, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—The German legation today denied that German troops are in Bulgaria and added that Germany "has no intention" of sending troops across Bulgaria.

Hungary-Yugoslav Treaty Is Signed

RESERVE ARMY UNITS ARE TO BE 'PREPARED'

For Possible Active Service In Canada Announcement Says

CALGARY, Feb. 27—(CP)—Brig. F. M. W. Harvey, officer commanding Military District 13, in a statement Wednesday announced units of the Canadian (Reserve) Army will be placed on a "prepared" footing for possible active service in Canada.

The status of reserve units and plans to enable them to fulfill their responsibilities to the active army were discussed extensively at the recent Ottawa conference attended by commanding officers of all military districts in Canada, Brig. Harvey said.

British Fighters Stop Nazis Before They Can Take To Air

Patrol German Airdromes To Bag Raiding Planes At Take-Off

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The air ministry news service disclosed today two-man British night fighters are patrolling German airdromes to shoot down Britain-bound raiders as they take off.

Describing last night's bomb and machine-gun attacks on airdromes in northern France, the service said one crew flew down from the dark at two airdromes and claimed a probable victim at each.

A taxi-ing German plane was hammered with two full bursts of gunfire and then bombed, the Ministry said, and one in flight was forced down with three bursts of gunfire and appeared to crash.

"Our night fighters over this country were active too and damaged a Junkers 88 and a Heinkel 111," it declared. "Both machines appeared to be in such trouble that, if it had been daylight, our patrols would probably have seen them crash."

Assertion Brings Strong Retort From Senator Chandler

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Senator Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio), charged in the United States Senate today President Roosevelt is "deliberately holding back aid to England in order to put pressure on this Congress" to pass the administration's British aid bill.

His assertion brought a retort from Senator Albert Chandler (Dem., Kentucky), "The senator from Ohio says he wants to help England, but he wants to help them just enough so they're certain to get beat."

PLAYING BOTH SIDES

"He (Taft) wants to be in a position at some time in the future," Chandler declared, "that both sides will think he was for them. He wants to aid them $2,000,000,000 worth so they will get beat."

Taft had interrupted Senator Prentiss Brown (Dem., Michigan), to read a newspaper article which reported that the administration is preparing to assemble surplus defence materials to be dispatched to Britain when the pending bill was passed.

Contending the president had power all along to transfer such materials, he asked why action had not been taken earlier if the president wanted to help Britain.

"I think this statement was given out," he said, "solely for the purpose of putting pressure on this Congress."

Meanwhile, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, told reporters there now appeared to be "no serious objection" among supporters of the British-aid bill to accepting an amendment by Senator Scott Lucas (Dem.-Illinois) which would establish a joint congressional committee to consult with the president regarding defence measures.

F.D.R. AVOIDS DELAY

The committee would be composed of the majority and minority leaders and the chairmen of the foreign affairs committee of both houses.

Stephen Early, press secretary to the president, told newsmen Mr. Roosevelt will continue a series of conferences with war, navy, state and treasury department officials so "we will not be guilty of a minute's more delay than we can prevent" when Congress acts finally on the aid bill.

Much work remains to be done in gearing the administration to handle the aid program, Early said. Several conferences were held yesterday.

Early was asked "how far has the President progressed on these talks on setting up machinery on the lease-lend program?"

"NOT AS FAR AS STORIES"

"Not nearly so far as the headlines this morning indicated," he said. "The stories read pretty well but the headlines have him moving supplies from arsenals and getting ready to make a complete and immediate turnover. That is not so."

Senator Dennis Chauvez (Dem., New Mexico) and Senator Prentiss Brown (Dem., Michigan) took up the cudgels on the bill in the Senate today.

Chauvez contended the legislation invited war while Brown argued that it was the best, "the only weapon" at hand for the self-defence of United States democracy.

With the general debate now in its tenth day, some supporters of the bill manifested fresh uneasiness over the possibility of a surprise opposition filibuster, despite an agreement to start consideration of amendments next week.

FAVORS CLOTURE

Sen. Frederick Van Nuys (Dem., Indiana), said he would not be surprised at such tactics; and announced that in such an event he would favor cloture of debate. Normally considerations of amendments signifies approach of a final roll call, but it was pointed out opposition senators could continue to speak at any length during the amendment discussion, if they wished.

Cloture—which requires a two-thirds majority—would impose drastic limitations on any speechmaking. No senator would be allowed to address the chamber more than once, and his time allotment would be one hour.

Van Nuys voiced the belief enough votes were available to impose cloture—but a number of colleagues seemed dubious about this point.

"U.S. MUST COME FIRST"

Chavez in the speech he prepared for senate delivery, declared the pending bill "spells W-A-R."

By fighting for Democracy abroad, he added, the United States may lose it at home.

"The United States must come first," Chavez continued, "and if I have only one gun, I shall not saw it through the middle and send one half overseas.

"I challenge any member to name one single instance in which, under this bill, the defence of the United States will be advanced. I must insist immediately that the defence of England is not our defence."

The New Mexico senator took note of the statement in the 1940 Democratic platform that armed forces would not be sent out of the Americas "except in case of attack."

"COULD PROVOKE ATTACK"

"There are, of course, ways to provoke attack," he said.

"Is that what we want? Are we facing an attack? This is precisely what the provisions of the lend-lease bill would do—authorize and provoke attack. Should we allow our naval bases, navy yards and ports to be used by any belligerent for refitting, rearming and overhaul, we are committing belligerent acts. This is recognized by the proponents of this legislation."

Brown, championing the bill in his prepared address, predicted a German victory would force the United States either to do battle with the Nazi military machine or to build a defence so formidable Hitler "will not dare to attack us."

If it should become necessary, he said, to maintain huge armed forces for defence, "our leadership, drunk with the heavy wine of military power, would soon follow the course pursued by all military dynasties—imperialism.

"It would soon be argued that Canada was necessary for our defence, that Mexico, Central America, the nearby islands ought by right to be ours.

"BEST, ONLY WEAPON"

"In other words, because human nature under similar circumstances reacts in the same way, a Prussianized, militarized America might act as a Prussianized Germany has acted."

To avoid such a course, Brown declared, the pending legislation "is not only the best weapon at hand; it is the only weapon which we can now at this hour grasp and use" for maintenance of U.S. democracy.

Continued discussion of possible amendments to the bill brought word that the administration leadership was considering accepting a revised version of the proposal by Senator Allen Ellender (Dem., Louisiana), which would state nothing in the bill empowered the president to send troops outside the western hemisphere.

Some provision might be worked out, it was said, under which the president would have to obtain congressional sanction before exercising any authority he now has to send troops outside the western hemisphere.

Faster Merchant Vessels Urged To Ease Convoy Task

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Building of faster merchantmen to ease the convoy burden on destroyers was urged today by Lord Rotherwick, president of the United Kingdom Chamber of Shipping.

At the annual meeting of the chamber he criticized the government shipping policy of ordering a large number of vessels with slow speeds. He said that only after 18 months of war was the government turning its attention to the faster cargo-liner type of vessel.

"A fast ship can do two voyages for one voyage performed by a slow ship," Lord Rotherwick declared. "The call on destroyers already overworked would be greatly reduced as these fast ships would not need to be convoyed."

COMMITTEE IS FORMED AFTER WARM DISPUTE

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Today's notice for setting up a parliamentary committee to investigate war expenditures followed a closed conference Monday attended by Conservative House Leader Hanson and some of his supporters, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King and certain of his ministers, in which it is said there was a warm exchange between the Conservative leader and Mr. King.

One rumor was that the prime minister threatened to resign his post if the Conservatives persisted in their demands to extend the scope of the committee. Liberals attending the conference said this report was not true, but declined to amplify the statement on the ground it was a secret conference.

Admitting the argument grew hot and heavy Conservative sources also declined to be specific about what took place but suggested there was basis for the report the Prime Minister had threatened to quit.

The argument, it was said, was over whether the committee should be permitted to report on expenditures made since the war began or be limited to current expenditures to see whether economies could be made. The reference to the committee is the same as that used in setting up a similar committee in the British house.

RESERVE ARMY UNITS ARE TO BE 'PREPARED'

manding reserve units in the district has been called by Brig. Harvey for next Monday, when plans for implementing the decisions of the Ottawa conference will be laid and other questions raised in Ottawa will be discussed.

FITNESS FOR OVERSEAS

The first responsibility of reserve units which have no counterpart in the active army, is to see that a larger percentage of officers and men is medically fit to go overseas, Brig. Harvey said. It should also be made clear that all those so medically fitted should signify their willingness to serve overseas.

In addition to those medically fit for service overseas, every man in the unit should be fully fit to take an active part if called upon to perform any active service in Canada.

(For service overseas, the medical category must be "B" or better; for service in Canada "C" or better).

In all probability, a training period somewhat similar to that authorized for 1940-41 will be authorized for Canadian army (reserve) units this year, said Brig. Harvey.

NO TIME SET

Another month's training would probably be authorized, he said, half of which would be spent in camp. No time has yet been set for the camp. The remaining two weeks' training would be made up through regular unit parades.

More advanced and consequently more interesting camp training could be expected, he added.

Regulations governing new four months' training requirements for officers for the Canadian army (active) were discussed at the conference.

The officers' training regulations would be released in full in the near future, he said.

NEW REGULATIONS

In brief, the new regulations provide for three months' training at a "common to all arms" training school, for all officers to be posted with active units. This will be followed by a months training at an advanced training centre for the branch of the army which the officer will be assigned.

Plans for the new four months' period of training under Canada's compulsory military training regulations were discussed.

It is expected, Brig. Harvey said, that the new basic training centre at Camrose will commence operations about March 21.

The present military training centre at Red Deer will become an advanced army service corps training centre, and there will be a re-allotment of personnel from the Red Deer and Grande Prairie centres.

WAR SPENDING COMMITTEE TO BE APPOINTED

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Prime Minister King gave notice of motion in the votes and proceedings of the House of Commons today of a resolution for appointment of a 24-member select committee of the house on economics in war expenditures.

The committee will "report what, if any, economies consistent with the execution of the policy decided by the government may be effected."

Proposed members of the committee are:

D. C. Abbot (Lib.-Montreal-St. Antoine-Westmount), Peter Bercovitch (Lib.-Montreal-Cartier), Percy Black (Con.-Cumberland), J. A. ## Piggott To Become Director General Housing Projects

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 27—The department of munitions and supply has taken in hand the problem of housing for war workers in the appointment of Joseph Piggott, Hamilton, Ont., contractor, to an executive capacity under Hon. C. D. Howe. Mr. Howe disclosed the Piggott appointment yesterday in parliament, without details, and it is understood Mr. Piggott will become director general of housing. He built the Bank of Canada building at Ottawa, among other big projects. Details of the impending housing crisis were given in a despatch to The Bulletin yesterday.

Plane Wreckage

SALONIKA, Greece, Feb. 27—(AP)—Observers on the Ionian coast near Prevexa said today the wreckage of four Italian bombing planes were washed ashore yesterday after an air battle with Greek planes over the Epirus region of Greece.

Where Conflict Threatens

Britain's co-ordination of her African and Aegian fronts and a German drive through Bulgaria into Greece are likely coming events in the Balkan theatre, where a new stage is set for war. Map shows routes a British expeditionary force could take to aid Greece and paths of invasion German troops may use.

No reason for the abrupt recall of Cincar-Markovic was given, but diplomatic quarters heard it was connected with "impending events of importance between the Axis and Yugoslavia." He arrived here yesterday.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Reports circulated in diplomatic circles today that Bulgaria is prepared to join the Rome-Berlin Axis. There was no immediate confirmation, though a Berlin dispatch to Hungarian newspapers said "Bulgarian-German relations are expected to be clarified in the next few days."

SIX AMSTERDAM CIVILIANS ARE SLAIN IN RIOT

AMSTERDAM (Via Berlin), Feb. 27—(AP)—Six civilians were killed and a number wounded on Wednesday in clashes between the police and "disturbers of the peace," it was announced last night.

A brief German announcement claimed that these deaths had occurred in police actions during which "the ringleaders of nightly attacks against the police patrol and a secret Jewish organization were uncovered."

"During the act of restoring order six disturbers of the peace were killed and a number more or less severely injured.

"A great number of persons responsible for the disturbances or having participated therein were arrested."

Strikes and riots brought the imposition of a German military administration upon all the provinces of Northern Holland yesterday and the people were warned that violations of orders might result in 15-year sentences and even the death penalty.

Industrialist Is Second Figure In Bottle Throwing

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A German industrialist who said he had lived three years in Sofia declared today he was the second man in the bottle throwing episode in a cafe here Saturday night with the United States minister, George Earle.

Dr. Carl Decker, 34, received three American newspapermen in his office and said he had given a lawyer information for a court complaint against Mr. Earle.

Flames Destroy Cherhill Store

CHERHILL, Alta., Feb. 27.—The entire business section of Cherhill was threatened by fire Wednesday evening when flames destroyed the general store owned by Dmytro Pich. Only a small part of the stock of the store was saved and a small amount of insurance was carried.

Fire is believed to have started in the kitchen at the rear at 9 p.m. No one was in the two-storey building at the time. Residents formed a line of bucket carriers keeping the blaze from spreading to other buildings in the vicinity.

PREMIER WILL MOVE SUPPORT WAR SAVINGS

PREMIER AMENDS

Independents further claim that the premier examined their draft of a resolution, amended it and then sent it back to them. After examining the premier's re-draft the Independents found therein some statements which would lead to controversial debate in the house, which they claimed would be more detrimental than helpful to the war effort.

Objection has been taken by Independents to inclusion of the word "reasonable" in relation to winning the war "in every reasonable way possible." They claim the word "reasonable" should be expunged from the resolution. They also take exception to that part of the premier's resolution urging need of national control and issue of money and credit "without inflation". This, they claim, is controversial.

On Independents refusing to second the premier's resolution, a seconder in opposition benches was found in Angus J. Morrison, Labor, Edson.

INDEPENDENT RESOLUTION

"That this legislative assembly endorses the campaign for the sale of war savings certificates and stamps which is now being carried on within this province and throughout Canada as an integral part of our united war effort; and further

"That this assembly urges upon every citizen of Alberta to make the greatest possible contribution to this plan and to our country in the present crisis."

U. S. ATTITUDE IS ATTACKED BY CIANO'S PAPER

ROME, Feb. 27—(AP)—Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano's newspaper, Il Telegrafo of Leghorn, today attributed United States "antipathy" toward the Nazi and Fascist regimes to "pride and fear" which balked at admitting other countries were better than the United States.

American pride, declared Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of the paper, could be summed up in the words "best in the world" he said were applied to everything in the United States.

"The average American," he wrote, "is firmly convinced, first, that he is the best type of man in the world, and then that he is living in the best country in the world.

"That is the unconfessed but true reason for the latent and lively antipathy with which the American people have considered the two totalitarian European regimes from the outset.

"They felt obscurely that those regimes constituted something big in the history of the world achieved outside America and were averse to them exactly for this reason."

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN CHURCHILL ON BILL IN HOUSE

GREAT IMPORTANCE

Mr. Churchill, winding up the debate, said he attached very great importance to these high commissionerships.

"I am anxious that in war time we should fill vacancies by men of outstanding political reputation, with long experience in the house and of the cabinet and the government," the Prime Minister declared.

He added that Mr. MacDonald's appointment had given the greatest satisfaction in Canada.

The Prime Minister said that even if Mr. MacDonald's appointment had not been made, the need for such a bill had become imperative.

He explained that Mr. MacDonald, in accepting the appointment as a wartime duty, expressed the hope he might remain a member of the house, and the Prime Minister promised to seek from parliament any statutory power needed.

SERVICE TO COUNTRY

Mr. Churchill told the house that at Ottawa Mr. MacDonald would be serving his country abroad in the same way as other members who are in the army, navy and air force.

He waved aloft a white paper listing the names of 166 members of the house in the forces and declared "this is a roll of honor."

Opponents of the bill withdrew an amendment which would have forced a vote and the bill was given a unanimous second reading.

The opposition contended that the sending of members abroad on jobs for the duration of the war while permitting them to keep their seats leaves their constituencies without representation.

Among members serving abroad are Sir Samuel Hoare, Ambassador in Madrid, and Sir Stafford Cripps, Ambassador in Moscow.

The attorney-general said a member of the house could be appointed an ambassador under existing law without losing his seat, but declared the government was "unnecessarily hampered" under laws which disqualify members if they are appointed to such posts as high commissioners in the dominions.

NEED FULL FREEDOM

Among those speaking in opposition to the measure was Sir Cuthbert Headlam, Independent, who asked that the Prime Minister explain why Mr. MacDonald would be "any more able to help win the war in his new position by retaining his seat in the house of commons."

The Prime Minister replied that "at this time, when we are fighting for our lives, it is in the interests of the country that the government should have full freedom as long as it retains the confidence of the house to make the appointments it desires."

"It seemed to me," the prime minister said at another point, "that as the house had approved the sending of two of its members as ambassadors to Moscow and Madrid no very serious, and certainly no novel, constitutional issue would arise if it sent another to Canada.

WITHDRAWS AMENDMENT

"I had never dreamed that between these two cases — the two ambassadorships and the high commissionership in Canada, all of which are out of the country — it could have been represented that there yawned and gaped this vast, hideous gulf of constitutional principle."

After Mr. Churchill's speech Kenneth Pickthorn, Conservative, withdrew an amendment opposing second reading before a select committee considered the matter.

Earlier the attorney-general had said the government was prepared, after passage of the bill, to have a select committee consider the basis of the permanent constitutional position of members regarding holding offices under the crown. Mr. Churchill promised to testify if called.

Holland which led to a number of deaths and institution of a military administration in one province (North Holland) are not to be regarded as a great political development. It is a little incident which cannot possibly cause any serious trouble.

"Psychologically, the behavior of the Hollanders is easy to explain; the country is occupied by a foreign power, and if such occupation be by God or devil resentment in some quarters is inevitable and Germany thoroughly appreciates the situation—which the Reich had no wish to impose on blameless Netherlands citizens.

"FERTILE GROUND"

The police made no statement regarding his disappearance.

George Rendel, British minister in Sofia, was received today by Premier Philoff to protest concerning the affair, and later said British authorities are "taking an extremely serious view of the situation."

It has long been expected Britain would sever diplomatic relations with Bulgaria as soon as Nazi troops began crossing the Danube from Rumania.

Legation attaches said they believed there was a definite connection between the disappearance and the looting of the passport control office safe Saturday night. They intimated papers of great value had been sought by the thieves.

Mr. Rendel made it clear he had no wish to recommend a break in diplomatic relations now. At the same time he insisted he would not leave a single stone unturned to find Grenovitch. If these efforts fail, he said, we will know what to do.

One Man Killed In Big Explosion At Powder Plant

ACTON, Mass., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A heavy explosion shook the black powder section of the American Powder Company plant today, killing one man and critically injuring another, but heavy damage was averted due to the isolated location of the building.

Charles McKinnon, 44, was killed outright, and Matti Savolainen, 57, was critically burned. Company officials reported they were the only two in the building at the time.

The men were working on an order of fuses which, company officials said, were not intended for the United States government. The company refused comment on the possible cause of the explosion.

NIPPON MOVE IN DIPLOMATIC FIELD COMING

Journey Abroad By Japan Foreign Minister Will Decide Plans

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(CP)—Advices received from the Orient today indicate Japan may be about to make another major diplomatic move, perhaps rivalling in importance her adherence to the German-Italian alliance last Sept. 27.

This is likely to take the form, the advices say, of a journey abroad by Yosuke Matsuoka, Japan's foreign minister, in the course of which he may visit one or more of the cities of Hankow, Moscow, Berlin, Rome.

MAY BE POSTPONED

Latest developments, however, may compel a postponement. Japan is confronted with an immediate crisis in her effort to further establish herself, as the dominant power of "Greater East Asia" through imposing her plans for peace between Thailand and French Indo-China. The French are balking. Tokyo may find it necessary to act.

However, reports have been current for some days both in the Orient and Europe that Matsuoka is contemplating a trip to Berlin.

Today's advices say evidence is increasingly convincing that Matsuoka is preparing to go abroad and add Hankow, Moscow and Rome to the possible itinerary.

Matsuoka is directing the Tokyo peace conference which, according to the Japanese press, now is considering Japan's "final mediation plan" calling for Indo-China to yield to Thailand large areas along their border.

The Japanese say Thailand is "cooperating" in the establishment of their "new order." The French apparently were not. The Tokyo press is calling for pressure to make them yield. Tokyo has ordered its nationals in French Indo-China to be ready to leave at a moment's notice. In Saigon, Japanese leaders met to consider the crisis.

POSSIBLE PURPOSES

The advices from the Far East indicate that if Matsuoka does journey abroad the possibilities of his mission may cover almost the whole range of power politics. It may be a peace mission, in keeping with his recent expressions of readiness to act as peacemaker anywhere in the world. It may seek to free Japan's hands for new enterprises. Experienced observers believe Matsuoka might have these purposes in visiting the cities named:

Hankow: Attempt to make peace with Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, perhaps meeting Chiang face to face in an effort to end the war, now nearly four years old, that keeps an army of 1,000,000 Japanese in China.

Moscow: Try to speed up current trade and other negotiations with the Kremlin, perhaps even negotiate the non-aggression pact with the Soviet which Japan is known to desire in order to free her rear from the danger of a Russian blow.

Berlin: Either to strengthen Japan's ties with the axis and discuss a common program of action against Britain and perhaps the United States or explain to Hitler and his aides why Japan does not desire now to plunge into the war against the British Empire despite the Treaty of Berlin.

Rome: Much the same as Berlin.

Trapper Tells Story Of Finding Wrecked Plane In Which Banting Died

The first eye-witness story of the condition of the plane in which Sir Frederick Banting and two companions were killed in Newfoundland was telegraphed to the British United Press today by Harold Hicks, one of the five men who located the plane on Monday afternoon.—EDITOR.

By HAROLD HICKS

MUSGRAVE HARBOR, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—Returning from a trapping cruise with four companions Monday morning, I saw a plane cruising overhead. I stopped and saw a piece of paper dropped, which I picked up.

It was a message saying a plane had crashed about a mile away. We hurriedly proceeded to the place indicated, found the wreckage of the plane and one man lying helpless on the ice.

The plane had come down on a pond west of Musgrave Harbor. Three of the men were dead, two having apparently been instantly killed in the crash.

Sir Frederick Banting died some hours after the crash, but he bound Pilot Mackey's wounds before collapsing. He died soon after from exposure and serious injuries.

NUMB FROM COLD

Mackey was far gone and numb from cold and from pain of four days' and nights' exposure in winter weather. He was unable to stand. We thought he was dying and quickly placed him on a sled and rushed him to Musgrave Harbor, where first aid was administered and his wounds attended to by a nurse. He was revived but was suffering severely from head injuries and body bruises.

Best information obtainable on the cause of the crash was that Mackey found engine trouble when fifty miles off the coast and turned back and headed for a Newfoundland airport. Losing speed, he saw a crash was inevitable and he called to his companions to bail out. He believed all had cleared the plane before the crash but said he was terrified when he reached the wreck to find two dead and Banting in a dying condition, but finally conscious though suffering severely.

link between northern Germany and occupied territory.

There are also in the Cologne area armaments and munitions factories, an aluminum factory, chemical works, power stations and inland docks, wharves and warehouses.

The British raid was of "fairly heavy" intensity, aviation quarters said.

It was the first raid on Germany's third city since December 31, and the 58th of the war.

In addition to this raid, it was indicated that British planes made a fairly heavy attack during the night on the invasion ports.

Watchers along the southeast coast saw great flashes over the mists which covered the Dover strait, the bursting of anti-aircraft shells and the beams of searchlights.

The biggest flashes seemed to come from the Boulogne area.

Yesterday afternoon British planes had made a sweep over the invasion ports and bombed the Calais dock area.

"Little Damage" Is Admitted By Nazis

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(UP)—The official news agency said today that British planes had "attempted" to attack industrial works in western Germany during the night in favorable weather but that heavy anti-aircraft gun fire had forced them either to turn back or to fly so high that they could not bomb accurately. The result, the agency said, was that most of the bombs fell in open country and only private dwellings were damaged. It was added that a "number" of persons were killed or wounded.

SEVEN KILLED, 9 INJURED AS PLANE CRASHES

Eddie Rickenbacker, Noted American Flying Ace, Among Survivors

ATLANTA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Dropping away from a radio beam, an Eastern Air Lines plane ripped itself to pieces in a pine woods near here today, killing seven persons and injuring nine others, including famed flier Eddie Rickenbacker.

The 14-passenger sleeper on the New York-Atlanta run smashed against a wooded knoll shortly after 2 a.m. (11 p.m. M.S.T. Wednesday) while attempting a beam landing after a run from New York. Searchers did not find the wreckage until shortly after dawn when an injured passenger made his way to a phone to call for help.

THREE OF CREW DIE

Five miles from the airport and 700 yards from the nearest dirt road, rescue work was painfully slow and it was not until mid-morning that seven bodies had been removed from the smashed cabin and nine injured taken to hospitals. Two or three of the injured were in critical condition.

Undertakers reported seven bodies brought in. Three of these were identified as those of the crew, Capt. James Perry, co-pilot, L. E. Thomas and Steward Clarence Moore, all of New York.

The other four bodies were those of passengers listed on the official E.A.L. roster as:

William D. Byron, Williamsport, Maryland Democrat in the United States House of Representatives; B. C. M. Vanderhoop, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Juan Maria, San Salvador, Central America, and A. Leibowitz, Atlanta.

RICKENBACKER BADLY HURT

Identification of the dead was made difficult by the fact they were dressed in pyjamas.

Of the nine in hospitals, those in the most serious condition seemed to be Rickenbacker, who had a fractured leg and back injuries of undetermined extent; H. A. Littledale, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, from Short Hills, N.J., whose injuries were not determined at once, and Mrs. Littledale.

J. S. Rosenfeld of New Orleans and N. Hansell of the Bronx, N.Y., both were able to walk away from the shattered plane, the former giving the alarm that brought searchers to the isolated crash scene approximately five miles southeast of the airport and 15 miles from Atlanta.

OTTAWA WHEAT RATE PAYMENT NOT ACCEPTED

QUEBEC, Feb. 27—(CP)—The provincial government has decided to decline the Dominion government's offer to pay 50 per cent of the cost of transporting 3,200,000 bushels of wheat from Western Canada to Quebec for sale to the province's farmers, it was announced Wednesday night by Adrien Morin, assistant deputy-minister of agriculture.

Mr. Morin said that the Dominion offered last month to pay half the cost of transporting 8,000,000 bushels of wheat to Eastern Canada on condition that the eastern provinces would pay the balance of the transportation costs. The offer also specified that the provincial governments were to see that the grain was distributed to farmers for animal feed only and at prices which did not include the transportation costs.

The provinces, Mr. Morin said, expected the railway companies to reduce their transportation costs by 25 per cent, but that at a meeting in Montreal recently, the companies refused the reduction. The companies claimed, he said, that grain now was being transported from the West at a minimum cost.

It was established on the other hand, said Mr. Morin, that when the Dominion government's offer was made known, the sale agencies in Western Canada immediately raised the grain prices.

French Cabinet Not Acceptable To German Party

LONDON, Feb. 27—(CP)—The new Vichy cabinet, formed only two days ago, already has come under criticism of the German-controlled press in occupied France, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported Wednesday night.

The BBC quoted a report by D.N.B., German news and propaganda agency, which said "The Nazi-sponsored party in Paris refuses to recognize the new cabinet as a cabinet of co-operation."

The Paris newspaper, L'Oeuvre, says the new cabinet "is only a comprise and criticizes several of its members as unsuitable to carry out the policy of collaboration with Germany," the BBC added.

LONDON, Feb. 27—(CP)—The Vichy radio announced Wednesday night that Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander of the French African forces, "Has decided to cut short his visit to Dakar" and is flying back to Algiers, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported last night.

Vichy radio said Gen. Weygand went to Dakar, in West Africa, last Sunday.

Today's War Moves

Russia in new suggestions about future Balkan developments.

There can be no doubt whatever that Stalin looks with disquietude upon any German action that would place the Nazis in northern Greece. Once there, they could threaten the western gateway of the Dardanelles, which is Russia's principal water line of communication with the western world.

It is equally certain that Russia is in no position to fight Germany at this time over any issue, whatever. Yet, though seemingly compliant, Stalin must be constantly alert to any change in existing conditions that would act favorably for Russia and keep Germany out of Greece and away from the Dardanelles.

It is also certain that Adolf Hitler does not like the idea of using force in the Balkans. Only as a last resort, to try to rescue Italy, does the Fuehrer seem prepared to act.

The Germans, British, Turks and Russians are all waiting. None is eager for the war's spread in the southeast and neither belligerent seems willing to take the first step to precipitate a conflict on the new front.

RUSSIAN INFLUENCE

Russia is in a position to exert fresh influence in two ways. The first way would be to urge Turkey to join with Great Britain in fighting the Germans if they moved into Bulgaria or at least allowing the British the use of Turkish bases.

Bucharest reports have recently revealed a belief there that if the Germans try to enter Greece, the conflict will be principally in the air. In that event the British would be helped if allowed to use air bases in European Turkey for offensives against the massed German troops and against the Rumanian oil fields.

SOVIET MAY CONSENT

Since the Germans have planned to utilize Bulgarian territory without Bulgaria becoming a belligerent, the Russians might consent to British use of Turkish airports on the same basis. The Turks probably would agree only if Russia made no objection.

Another possible use of Russian influence lies in peace negotiations between Greece and Italy. Reports have been circulating that Yugoslavia may be used as an intermediary in arranging peace terms. Russia has much influence on the Yugoslavs and Yugoslav diplomats are participating in the Ankara talks.

Greek abandonment of the war, however would doubtless depend on the conditions of peace. If the Greeks were able to gain some territory in Albania, without loss elsewhere they might cease fighting.

It has been rumored, however, in Balkan capitals, that Bulgaria wants a Greek outlet to the Aegean Sea. Russia might persuade Bulgaria to forego this claim. If that were done, the prospects of a Greek peace would be increased. Germany might be satisfied with that way out to avoid a Balkan conflagration and Hitler could press acceptance on Premier Mussolini.

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BRITAIN has played a powerful card in the Balkan crisis in sending her ace diplomat, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, to Ankara to confer with Turkish officials. Uncertainty as to Turkey's attitude in event of a German march in Bulgaria is the most confusing factor in the Balkan situation.

It might be well to recall that Mr. Eden's last trip eastward from London carried him to Africa, and was followed swiftly by the British African offensive. Presumably Mr. Eden carried the go-ahead signal to the British army of the Nile.

The British victories in Africa might prove persuasive to the Turks if they need persuasion to fulfill their treaty obligations as Britain's potential war ally.

It is to be assumed that the ground-work for British-Turkish war co-operation has been laid in previous conferences between army staff representatives in Ankara. If Mr. Eden is in a position to pledge quck transfer of British fighting forces to Turkey or Macedonia it might easily be the deciding factor in shaping Turkish policy.

The Ankara conferences seem calculated to force Berlin to move in the east, or to exhibit a significant weakness.

British economic experts report the Germans already feeling the oil pinch. They say it will become serious before next winter. There have been many indications that security of her Rumanian oil sources, and not the rescue of Italy, is the primary objective of Germany's Balkan manoeuvres.

Failure of Germany to carry through with a Balkan thrust now would be a double blow to Italy.

Just how eagerly Rome is grasping at every straw to bolster Italian morale is freshly indicated. Rome made much of a claim that German ground troops as well as planes are helping Italy in Libya and scoring victories. That any substantial Nazi mechanized force has actually arrived there through the British Mediterranean blockade is highly improbable.

BIG U.S. AUTO PLANTS MAKE WAR SUPPLIES

Airplanes and Machines Of War Turned Out At Fast Rate

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The United States automobile industry has begun shipment of sub-assembly units for airplanes.

Machines designed and built for automobile forgings are ramming out shell blanks.

Plants for the production of more aviation engines and other machines of war are being speeded to completion in Detroit, Dearborn, South Bend, Chicago, Indianapolis and other points.

BUILD PLANE ENGINES

Machine tools required by the thousands are being delivered on schedule to plants nearest completion.

These are a few excerpts from a summarization of the motorcar industry's progress on defence work, compiled by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association and made public today.

The report said Packard will be ready by early summer to start production on the first of 9,000 Rolls-Royce aircraft engines it is to build for the United States and Great Britain. Six hundred men already are at work building trial engines.

The new Ford aviation engine plant will be ready next month with production to start in the spring and reach volume proportions in August.

Chrysler, the survey says, will start rolling out 25-ton army tanks by early fall, well ahead of schedule. One-third of the quarter-mile long tank arsenal already is occupied.

OTHER MAIN POINTS

Other points emphasized in the review are:

Packard marine engines are going into U.S. navy torpedo boats at the rate of 10 a week; production soon will be stepped up to 15 weekly; almost the entire production of General Motors' Diesel engine plant at Cleveland has been converted to "making propulsion machines for the United States fleets."

Automobile forge plants, machining departments and stamping plants in Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Toledo and other points are tackling production of shells of many types, shell casings, fuses and percussion caps, and others are busy on parts for big guns and designing sample weapons for the army.

Hudson Motor Car company is building a $13,000,000 arsenal for production of gun and torpedo parts and ammunition components for the navy and already is making bomb components. Elsewhere in the industry four plants are far along in conversion or construction for early production of late model machine guns.

BRITAIN MOVES AGAINST ENEMY INSURED GOODS

LONDON, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Regulations designed to make it impossible for goods exported from the United Kingdom to be insured with enemy companies, and to limit further the amount of foreign exchange available to the axis were announced Wednesday night.

Under an order issued by the ministry of economic warfare, the board of trade and the commissioners of customs and excise certificates of origin and other documents will be refused for goods insured with enemy companies. The regulations are expected to become effective within six weeks.

The right of neutrals to insure their goods with whatever company they prefer remains unchanged, but if the insured ships goods of benefit to the enemy, Britain will refuse them "passports" which give them benefit of British control of the seas.

Ships lacking necessary documents will find difficulty in obtaining supplies and facilities in British-controlled ports.

Ocean Shipping Rates To Orient Are Increased

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—The Far East conference Wednesday announced increases in freight rates ranging from five to around 33 per cent. on cargoes from the United States to ports in China and the Philippine Islands. The advances go into effect April 1.

Current rates to Yokohama, Osaka and Kobe were unaltered.

Marine quarters attributed the rises to three factors. A world-wide shortage of ship bottoms; higher operating costs, and competition from the charter trade.

Overtime Win

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Kansas City Americans took a close overtime decision from the Omaha Knights 4-3 last night in an American Hockey Association game. Leswick scored the winning goal in the second overtime period. The other American scorers were McManus, Betts and Papike with Reay, Peer and Wilder scoring for the Knights.

150 War Plants For Canada During 1941 U.S. Learns

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—department said Wednesday Canada expected to complete 150 war factories, costing $270,000,000, by the end of 1941.

Advices from Canada indicated the projects include:

Shell plants, $31,000,000; armaments, $96,000,000; aircraft, $15,000,000; automotive, $6,000,000; chemicals and explosives, $87,000,000; machine tools, $11,000,000; miscellaneous, $34,000,000.

The department said originally most of these plants expected to buy their machinery in Britain, but lately have turned more to United States for machinery.

Keeping In Touch

The Canadian public will be gratified to know, from information given in parliament, that Canada's diplomatic contact with the Vichy cabinet is proving useful to the authorities at London. Obviously direct relations between London and Vichy cannot be maintained. But it is important that some line of communication be kept open, and unoccupied France in touch with its former allies, who are still its friends. It would be very much to the advantage of the Axis powers if France could be shut off entirely from these former associates and the French people made to think they stood alone in a world where none cared for their fate. It is pleasing to know that Canada is supplying the connecting link between semi-isolated France and the fighting democracies whose victory will mean its liberation.

Pleasing and also prospectively important; for France has not struck its last blow for liberty. When the time comes, Frenchmen will break their bonds, help to overthrow the dictators and take a hand in the recreation of Europe. Even Marshal Petain already has seemingly drawn a line beyond which he will not go in accepting dictation from Hitler. His countrymen will go the whole way, under his leadership or without it, when circumstances make this possible. Canada, in holding open the lines of communication, is doing good service alike to France and to the cause of freedom everywhere.

Mogadiscio

By a sudden spring, as remarkable as the swoop on Tobruk, British forces in east Africa captured Mogadiscio, capital and chief seaport of Italian Somaliland. In three days they appear to have covered some 200 miles of the coast highway, taking Brava in their stride. Beyond Mogadiscio there are few places of any military importance, and there as at Bengasi the question arises whether it is worth while to pursue the enemy through a wilderness where he can do little harm and probably cannot find supplies on which to subsist very long.

Effective resistance on that front may be assumed to have been smashed, the more certainly because the retreating Fascist forces were too disorganized and dispirited to even make a fight for the capital.

Of equal importance, the port is only 200 miles in a straight line from the border of Abyssinia, with a ready-built highway offering still another avenue of invasion into that territory. Mombasa, 500 miles to the south, is the nearest really good harbor in that direction, and the capture of Mogadiscio moves the sea base for operations and the landing of supplies that much nearer to the scene where future fighting must take place.

With columns from the Sudan driving steadily into Eritrea and Abyssinia, the opening of this new road from the sea on the southeast places the Italian troops in those territories in danger of being surrounded. From all directions save the east the attacking forces can now converge upon them—and to the east lies the sea, and hostile warships.

Lend Or Pay?

Canada's war effort is planned on the "all out" scale. The country has been pledged by its Government to fight on land, on sea, in the air, and on the production front, to the limit of its physical capacity. This policy has been whole-heartedly endorsed by the public at a general election. The Minister of finance has undertaken that this maximum effort will be financed "somehow".

"Somehow" means either by taxation or by borrowing, or by a combination of both methods of raising money. It follows that if for any reason attempts to raise money by loans do not succeed, taxes will have to go up. This is something worth considering in relation to the sale of war savings certificates. If this sale should fall short of the objective, the alternative means will have to be employed, and taxes increased.

Those who have worked out their income tax dues, and all who have fair knowledge of the new and increased levies adopted since the war began, will agree that taxation is already high. Anyone who has paid attention to the estimates brought down in parliament can foresee that it is bound to go higher, even if all loans asked for are fully subscribed. Should any loan project come short of the mark, the increase in taxation will have to be proportionately greater.

The choice now confronting the public is to buy war savings certificates or prepare to pay higher taxes than will otherwise be necessary. An "all out" war effort cannot be possible unless, in one way or the other, the money is forthcoming.

Purposeful Prevarication

Ten days or so ago Berlin announced that one of its surface raiders had sunk fourteen merchant ships in a convoy headed for Britain. All but five of the ships in the convoy have reached port safely, thereby demonstrating that the enthusiastic commander of the raider was out nine ships at least in his count. At that he was not farther from the truth than the other pirate who some weeks ago "sank" half of a convoy of thirty-four ships, all but four or five of which reached their destinations in due course. And neither of these fictionists has taken the laurels from Herr Goebbels, who won fame early in the war by sinking a battleship that had never existed, and has been sending the Ark Royal to the bottom periodically from the commencement of hostilities.

These "terminological inexactitudes" are not peculiar; they are typical of the standing relationship between Berlin official reports and facts. This normal spread between realities and Nazi announcements is not due simply to the difficulties of obtaining accurate information. Lying is one of the standard tactics in the Nazi code. It is relied upon to cause alarm and fear among enemy peoples, to keep up morale in Germany, to build up an impression of Axis invincibility in neutral countries. Adherence to the truth is to the Nazi mind foolishness when a falsehood seems likely to strengthen faith at home or create dread abroad.

So when Herr Hitler states, as he did on Monday, that his raiders and U-boats sank more than 200,000 tons of merchant shipping in 24 hours, the presumption is that he is lying or repeating a lie given to him by some under-strapper, and doing it for a purpose; the purpose being to extract a reply from London that would indicate where these marauders might find victims.

The safe way to interpret Nazi victory announcements is to cut the claims in half and then subtract a margin for exaggeration.

A majority of the governments in the western hemisphere have decided to protest to Britain against the seizure of the French vessel Mendoza inside the "neutrality zone." If they had policed the zone and thus made it neutral in fact, the seizure could not have occurred. While the zone continues to be a rendezvous for blockade-runners, Britain can not be seriously blamed for not recognizing it as neutral water.

It is said that promises are made to be broken and this is supposed to be particularly the case with election promises. Mr. Davis' platform of 1887 contains fourteen distinct planks; and as nothing has been heard of thirteen of these since the evening before election, it may be well to refresh the public memory as to what they were:

1. Sir John.
2. Self government for the Territories.
3. Increased allowance for public works and school funds.
4. School funds to be raised from school lands.
5. Local men for local offices.
6. Settlement of war claims and rebellion losses.
7. Bridging of principal rivers.
8. Opening of odd-numbered sections for homesteading.
9. Opening Indian reserves for settlement.
10. Lease question to be settled by a commission.
11. British Columbia mining laws.
12. Settlers before survey to have homestead rights.
13. Increased representation for Alberta.
14. Scrip to half-breed children born between 1870 and 1885.

By Harold L. Weir

Lent began yesterday.

Whether or not you are a believer in a fixed and formal period of self-denial, you will agree that the principle of the observance, at least, is good for the soul.

Self-denial this year can be practical as well as spiritual. Let your immolation swell the fund that enables Canada to carry on the war of freedom and justice.

Let the fruits of your sacrifice be turned towards the safety of the little children of Britain in the name of Him who said, "Forbid them not."

* * *

The significance of the war news of the past few days lies in the fact that Hitler's possible moves are narrowing down to only two or three choices and it is thus becoming easier to forecast where his next operations will take place.

The success of the Nazi army at the beginning of the war was wholly due to the very wide choice of action enjoyed by the Fuehrer. With his tremendous air force and his swiftly-moving, highly-mechanized units, he had all his neighbors at his mercy. His immediate world, so to speak, was his oyster.

Thus, he was enabled to employ that element of surprise which is the essential factor in that type of warfare he knows best.

With so many avenues of attack open to him, he could keep everybody guessing. This was the fundamental secret of his effectiveness in the first period of the war.

* * *

Today his worries are greater than his opportunities. And the perplexity of the campaign has transferred itself to his shoulders.

The British know exactly what they are going to do next. Hitler is being forced to try one desperate experiment after another.

His movements in the Balkans have been dictated by stern necessity which may impel him, much against his will, to open up a second major battle front. No one knows better than Hitler what a precarious business this is. Not only are the actual risks of conflict materially increased, but the greater his area of occupation, the greater must be the German force employed in controlling it.

He already has two million of his five million soldiers guarding his conquests. Before he is through in the Balkans, he may have to use another million to police his restless, truculent and resentful subjects.

Knowing as he does that the conquest of Britain is the only feat that will give him victory, this constant dilution of his forces must drive him almost to despair.

* * *

Two vital necessities have brought him into the Balkans:

First, the pitiful showing of Fascist Italy in the African and Hellenic campaigns which has made it essential for him to bolster up this faltering ally or suffer the loss of prestige that would ensue from complete Italian collapse.

Second, the need for greater supplies of food wherewith to keep life in his immense armies and in his conquered peoples.

These latter needs make it easier to speculate on the nature of his next move. In this connection, one must not overlook the ease with which he could march into the broad and level plains of the Ukraine, a district of wonderful agricultural richness and a source of that lubricating oil which is not obtainable in Rumania and which the German forces are said to require badly.

Of all his possible routes of conquest in the Near East, that into the Ukraine is easiest and most tempting.

A consideration of this fact renders it clear that Josef Stalin, by his fearful temporizing and shifty manoeuvering, undertaken to save his own skin and power, has rendered the richest part of Russia vulnerable to a ruthless and truthless invader.

Had Stalin dealt with Hitler with a firm and fearless hand, had he encouraged Turkey and Bulgaria and the other Slavic states to hold out against the Nazis, the Ukraine would not lie today in the possible path of a terrible Hun horde.

With the passing of every hour, it seems more obvious that the Communist dictator has virtually bartered away the finest part of the Russian heritage for a slim and fanciful guarantee of his own personal security and power.

* * *

The announcement is made that recruiting is to be speeded up in Canada. In the Edmonton district alone, it is said, some 1,750 men are urgently required by various army units.

The assurance, frequently given, that Ottawa is not yet planning to enforce a wider conscription measure indicates the reluctance with which the Government, rightfully enough, approaches the problem of compulsory service.

Yet the situation seems clear enough. It is a situation that every Canadian should fully realize.

With an invasion attempt portending and vast military operations in Europe on the cards, Canada must have a much larger army of offense. With the Japanese situation gradually darkening, Canada must have an equally greater army of defense.

It is with no desire to violate military and naval secrets that I say the Japanese picture is considerably more sombre than most people have believed.

So the choice lies today with the young men of Canada. Are they going to join the active forces as volunteers or as conscripts? It is up to them to say.

Nor should they rely on the present act to limit their service to Canada. The act employed in the last war still stands on the books and enables the Government to send conscripts to any part of the world.

* * *

Hitler is said to have had manufactured 700,000 British uniforms for the use of German troops who, he hopes, will shortly serve him in Britain.

It would have been equally appropriate and a good deal more honest had he undertaken to supply German uniforms to Lindbergh and other totalitarian gentlemen who are serving him so well in the United States.

1,200 Censors In Bermuda

The London News Chronicle

HAMILTON, Bermuda.—Of eight big hotels on these islands built for tourists, only three are filled and as busy today as they were in pre-war winters. These are the three hotels (two in Hamilton, the capital, and one outside) that have been taken over lock, stock and barrel by the British government for the use of the censors. For the smallest of these hotels, the Inverurie, the government are paying rent to the tune of $36,000 a year. For each of the other two, the Princess and the Bermudiana, the figure is in the neighborhood of $10,000 a month.

This makes the total certainly more than $250,000 a year for rent alone.

The number of censors at work on the island in mid-December was 660. By the end of January there will be 1,200. If any more arrive another hotel will have to be rented.

Details of what the censors find in the mail they open and how the information obtained is put to use is not, of course, for public consumption. But the Comptroller of Censorship, Mr. C. R. Watkins, has divulged a few of the censor's more amusing, if less valuable finds.

* * *

Mussolini's navy sent an order to New York for five cases of a seasick remedy. Another order from Rome asked for the urgent delivery of a thousand pairs of running shorts. An American sent a cheque to Hitler for £250. It was a perfectly good cheque in every respect except that it was endorsed "for funeral expenses only."

A letter writer in Hungary gave an American friend a lurid account of his latest love affairs. "It does not matter," he explained in a postscript. "The British censors are not human."

The censors are human though. When a little American girl wrote a letter addressed simply, "Mister Santa Claus, Greenland," the United States post office forwarded the letter to Europe (presumably they thought it might get to Greenland via England). It was intercepted by the Bermuda censorship. The little girl asked Santa Claus for a doll, and she got it.

* * *

The tacit co-operation of the American postal authorities has had the result of making the British censorship of all regular mail between the United States and Europe completely watertight. Every letter or parcel posted in the United States and addressed to Europe is now routed via Bermuda. The same is true of all mail sent from Europe addressed to the United States.

Yet, one of the strange quirks of the censorship is that, even in war-time, registered mail remains inviolable. It can be opened for inspection and delivery, and may be definitely delayed. But every registered letter must be accounted for, and when peace comes delivery has to be made to the proper person. After the last war it took the belligerent countries two or three years to sort out and deliver all the registered letters they had been holding "for the duration."

Today a big room at the censorship headquarters in Bermuda is devoted to the storage of registered letters addressed to enemy territory, many of them containing uncut diamonds, banknotes or negotiable bonds sent to Germany by Germans in the United States.

* * *

It is the aim of the censors in Bermuda to forward censored mail by the same boat or 'plane it arrived on. It is their boast that no mail even for enemy countries, is nowadays delayed beyond the departure of the next ship or 'plane. Speed depends largely upon how well the mail is arranged according to category. (Press matter, private matter, business matter, etc.), when the censors receive it.

The methodical Germans arrange their mail best, the censors say, but the Teutonic methods suffer as usual from lack of imagination. For instance, German newspapers and magazines are not now allowed through Bermuda unless they are addressed to libraries, colleges or newspaper offices. Yet week after week Berlin continues to send the censor its neatly ordered stacks of magazines addressed to private subscribers.

Not a censor doubts that they'll continue to send them regularly until the war is over or until paper shortage interferes with their publication.

An Empire 'Goes West'

Robert J. Casey in the Chicago Daily News

What had become of the great Italian air force? Where were the reserves of fresh troops to halt these maniacs who seemed to need no water and never slept?

One airplane ride over this district shows why the late Italo Balbo's great sky fleet no longer functioned. The landscape in this area shows a few demolished forts. From above most villages seem intact and ready for life to be resumed in them much as it was before the Italians came.

But you go few miles without seeing wrecked airdromes. The northern desert is strewn with the fossils of Il Duce's high-priced bombers, fantastic skeltons of blackened duralumin.

You gain more respect for the communiques of the Royal Air Forcce as you look at them. Maybe you discounted reports that as many as 86 of there machines had been destroyed on the ground one night in a single airdrome. But here they are, count 'em—the menace that never got going.

So the R.A.F. whittled down the edges of Bengasi and smashed up columns of transport, while the mechanized division pushed up from the south and the army conquerors, made to seem superhuman and relentless by the terror of the fugitive warriors, came inevitably from the north.

And so presently the amazing anti-climax. The aged priest goes out to the end of the isthmus road to meet the man with the white flag and to pray that his people be spared the wrath of the Senussia tribesmen. A dirty-faced officer meets, him, listens, only half comprehending.

"What are you talking about? There are no Senussi. We are Australians. How about surrender, huh?"

"My dear sir, the town is yours."

They did not exactly ring the church bells and fling out the red carpet as the Australians—with bayonets fixed and no monkey business—came into the city. But they did everything else.

The Arabs tossed their fezzes. The Italian civilians laughed hysterically. The Italian troops, who had been fighting them in the dust, up the road a piece, made sure they were not avenging natives, and cheered them—our saviors, our liberators.

There was nobody in all the area who did not know that an empire had just gone west. But there was no time to pay attention to such things.

The Amazing Smuts

Kingston Whig-Standard

The magnificent broadcast recently from Africa by Premier Smuts brings to mind the fact of his great scholarship.

When he was at the University of Stellenbosh in Cape Colony, the last term of his first year arrived with the necessity of mastering the Greek grammar and the authors required, and which he had skipped for lack of preparatory work. He couldn't go on to Cambridge without it. He repaired to a farm for a week, and memorized the whole Greek grammar — declensions, conjugations, irregular verbs, everything—and during that term read the Greek books prescribed. To the surprise of the professor he presented himself for the final examination. But the professor had a bigger surprise coming to him. When he had examined all the papers, he found that Smuts was at the top of the list.

On The Record

By Dorothy Thompson

"The American Century"

Last week in "Life" there appeared an editorial by Mr. Henry R. Luce, called "The American Century." It was more than an editorial; it was an essay, and I have an idea that it is more than either; that it is an American document. Honest, bold, imaginative, it calls spades, spades, presents the choices of the present in clearer terms than those to which we are accustomed and projects a daring future. The editorial has been reprinted. It is obtainable from the offices of "Time Incorporated," 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City. Those who missed it should send for it.

* * *

Mr. Luce is a Willkie Republican. Mr. Luce's publicans have maintained for seven years a critical attitude toward the Roosevelt administration. It has not, however, been a blindly partisan attitude. It has not been critical for the sake of criticising, but critical according to the views of objective reality of the editors and writers. Now Mr. Luce says, with candor and intelligence, that it is "our job to help in every way we can, for our sakes and our children's sakes, to insure that Franklin D. Roosevelt shall justly be hailed as America's greatest president."

For Mr. Luce, like Mr. Willkie, happens to care more for the fate of his children and his children's children than he does for the fate of any political party. He is, of course, correct. The most we can all hope for is that Mr. Roosevelt will succeed in the most grandiose way. Those who help him succeed will govern America tomorrow, under whatever party label. If he fails, it will be a miserable America to govern.

* * *

Mr. Luce says logically, reasonably and clearly, that this century will either be a Nazi century or an American century. It won't be a French century and it won't be a British century. If it is an American century it will be a century in which Great Britain and all she stands for as the builder and carrier of Anglo-Saxon ideas will live and flourish. But the senior partner in the Anglo-Saxon world of tomorrow will not be the British Isles but the United States. That is in the cards. Mr. Luce quotes the London "Economist," highly intelligent British weekly that has often formulated policy, to this effect. "The Economist" says:

"In any permanent closer association of Britain and the United States an island people of less than fifty million cannot expect to be the senior partner . . . the center of gravity, and the ultimate decision must increasingly lie in America. We cannot resent this historical development."

"The Economist" is right and Mr. Luce is right. Because they are right the futile pleas of certain Congressmen that Britain should state her peace aims show only a complete ignorance regarding the distribution of power in the English-speaking world. Only America can state the peace aims of the new world. Britain, says Mr. Luce, will accept our peace aims, provided they are in harmony with the basic ideals of freedom, justice and law.

Mr. Luce draws objectively the two pictures: isolationism and internationalism. He sees that we have already rejected the former. Isolationism means letting the rest of Western civilization go altogether. It means holding North America and Central America, together with an undefined small part of South America, and making this complex strong enough to resist all comers. But it means living in a far more limited world than we have ever lived in throughout our whole history.

But internationalism means more than "aid to Britain." Internationalism means taking up the full responsibility that destiny has placed in our hands as a nation of 130,000,000 people occupying the greatest land space between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. It means taking upon ourselves the complete responsibility of leadership which is ours for the taking.

"Like most great creative opportunities, it is an opportunity enveloped in stupendous difficulties and dangers." But "if we do not want it, if we refuse to take it, the responsibility of refusal is also ours, and ours alone."

* * *

Mr. Luce does not think that the assumption of leadership in behalf of freedom, democracy and justice means that we undertake to police the world from Alaska to Timbuctoo. He writes with clear realism to an obvious fact: "America cannot be responsible for the behavior of the whole world. But America is responsible to herself as well as to history for the environment in which she lives. Nothing can so vitally affect America's environment as America's own influence upon it, and therefore if America's environment is unfavorable to the growth of American life, then America has nobody to blame so deeply as she must blame herself."

And "in its failure to grasp this relationship between America and America's environment lies the moral and political bankruptcy of any and all forms of isolationism. It is most unfortunate that this virus of isolationist sterility has so deeply infected an influential section of the Republican party. For until the Republican party can develop a vital philosophy and program for America's initiative and activity as a world power it will continue to cut itself off from any useful participation in this hour of history."

Mr. Luce should not be surprised by the behavior of a large branch of the Republican party. In every single country the Tory parties have been those most willing to sacrifice the national honor, power, prestige and eventually existence out of the fear of revolutionary developments at home. The fear is a bogeyman. Revolution in the sense of disorder, breakdown and civil war thrives in the atmosphere of hypocrisy and indecision. We are having a revolution—a world revolution—which is turning and changing political structures, economic structures and social relationships from Scotland to Peiping. The question, however, is whose revolution?

And I thank Mr. Luce for these words: "But to say that revolution is in progress is not to say that the men with either the craziest ideas, or the angriest ideas, or the most plausible ideas, are going to come out on top. The revolution of 1776 was won and established by men, most of whom appear to have been both gentlemen and men of common sense."

Mr. Luce might have added that the Revolution of 1776, which was in reality a civil war inside the Anglo-Saxon world, has since then won over the whole length and breadth of the Anglo-Saxon world. Certainly the British commonwealth has been Americanized. The very constitution of the Union of South Africa was constructed according to the philosophy of "The Federalist"—the philosophers of the American Revolution.

* * *

To Americanize enough of the world so that we shall have a climate and environment favorable to our growth is indeed a call to destiny. It means some reforms. Particularly in the economic field in relation to the nature and use of wealth, but those reforms are in the cards and a clear international policy will make them easier, not harder. For this country alone has the power—if it also has the intelligence and the will—to bring about a reconstruction of a large part of the world in harmony with freedom, and with an honest promise of prosperity for all.

* * *

Mr. Luce's essay will evoke others—others, I hope, from his own pen and from other's pens. It stands out for its bold affirmation of opportunity, sweeping aside the floundering timidity that has cursed our policy ever since the last war. If we had been doing our part in the world this war would not have happened. Now we must do it or take a back seat in history. This will be either an American century or it will be the beginning of the decline and fall of the American dream.

The Gospel According To St. Mark Chapter 3 (Cont'd)

And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man, and then he will spoil his house.

Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme:

But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation;

Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

And the multitude sat about him; and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

Letting George Do It!

From the London Evening News

George is the name of the automatic pilot by means of which aircraft almost fly themselves on their required courses.

How he got the name of George is not known. For a long time the authorities would not acknowledge his christening, but he was George to the pilots from his very infancy, and now, grown up, he is George to everybody. Even air marshals know him by name.

He is a piece of gyroscopic mechanism taking charge of the aircraft, working rudder, elevators and ailerons, just as a human pilot would, but even more quickly.

George seems to anticipate the need for such correction, raising a dropping wing automatically.

George keeps the aircraft straight and level at a set air-speed and allows the pilot to study his maps, recognize landmarks below, check up on navigation, and prepare for action. In war, when vigorous avoiding action has often to be taken, George is frequently cut out because evasion is the thing he does not take to very kindly.

But on the way out, particularly when there is a long journey to make through continuous bumpy clouds, the automaton is clipped in and the human being has a rest. Again when there is a change of pilots, George steps back into position while the second pilot is taking over.

In the flying boats, when long hours are spent over the sea, the pilot knows that his mechanical friend can be depended upon.

He would not claim to be able to "take-off", climb, avoid enemy fire, bomb, or come in to land, but he can do all the rest of the work.

GRANDE PRAIRIE

GRANDE PRAIRIE AND BEAR LAKE VOTE TO UNITE

Ratepayers of the Grande Prairie municipality voted unanimously to unite with Bear Lake municipality at the annual meeting here Saturday. Facing identical problems of administration, and public works and being already one under the new school unit and the hospital unit, it was felt that greater efficiency and economy could be obtained, especially in the matter of roads, if both municipalities united.

W. Garrett was re-elected councillor in Division 4. There were two nominations in Division 2, W. Rygier and T. W. Warden. R. Carveth was re-elected hospital board representative.

Preparations are now under way towards making the annual musical festival which will be held here on May 13, 14 and 15, an outstanding success, it was announced following a recent meeting of the executive. The following adjudicators, all of Edmonton, have been engaged: Music, G. A. Kevan; folk dancing, Mrs. J. R. Love; elocution and dramatics, Mrs. Doreen Rees.

Mountain Resort Makes Progress In Savings Work

The war savings campaign in Jasper is progressing well. Last week a report for the committee showed that 159 regular savers have signed to loan money for the duration. Jasper's quota, 250 regular savers, will probably be reached this week-end or early next week and the count may well go over the quota set. A big banner, "Loan for Victory" dominates the downtown section of the town and several stores have "Smash Hitler" displays in their windows. A fine exhibition of souvenirs from the last war and from the Battle of Britain are on display in one window.

PUPILS STAGE PLAY IN HALL

Members of the Belle Valley high school staged a successful play, "Willie Grows Up," on Friday evening in the Independence hall. The caste included Angela Falls, Margaret McGillis, Isobel Cameron, Jean Mitchell, James Ducarne, Leonard Whitson, Hugh O'Neil, Thomas O'Neil, Bruce Gill and Julien Hews. The play was directed by Margaret Mallandaine, teacher.

William Sim, son of Charles Sim, of the Independence district, six miles north of here, is confined to an Edmonton hospital. The young lad was thrown from a horse and suffered three broken ribs.

A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flynn on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. A large number of friends gathered at their home.

TWO HILLS

Whist Drive For Red Cross Held In School House

A whist drive sponsored by the Two Hills Ladies' Sports Club, was held recently in the school to benefit the local Red Cross. Michael Ponich, secretary, directed the party in the absence of Stanley Clarke who usually takes charge of this job. Lunch was served at the conclusion of the games.

The Two Hills hockey club will have its financial situation relieved somewhat after the proposed raffle of an afghan is over. At a recent ladies' gathering at the home of Mrs. J. Stanton, it was decided to make an afghan and then raffle it, the proceeds to go to the hockey club.

Motor traffic has been slowed down considerably after the recent snow storms. All subsidiary roads are completely blocked while the main thoroughfares make "tough going" for any motorist. The hard packed snow cannot be very easily cleared so that the snowplough has not attempted to clear the Vegreville-St. Paul line on which Two Hills is a link. This is the line that the regular bus plies daily.

Officers Named Red Cross Branch

At the annual meeting of the Evarts branch of the Red Cross, officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. P. Cameron; vice president, A. Duncan; secretary, Mrs. Wm. McPherson; treasurer, Mrs. J. Staniforth.

E. W. Long of Bentley has purchased the business of the Farmers' Meat Market from W. J. Begert. Mr. Long will take over the business on March 1.

SPEAKER TELLS OF OSLO BATTLE

Contrary to the generally believed story Oslo was not captured by the Germans from the sea. Hundreds of airplanes carrying troops, landed with machine-guns and equipment, forged into ranks and took possession of the capital. German losses in the battle were not less than 25,000 and 35 per cent of her attacking naval forces. This battle proved a direct help to Great Britain in frustrating and delaying a possible attack on the British Isles.

These statements were made by Benjamin Vogt, Canadian superintendent of shipping for the Norwegian government, to an audience in the Camrose Norwegian Lutheran church Monday. Mr. Vogt is on a speaking tour of Canada, coming from England, where he had charge of the Norwegian Merchant Marine. He is now working on the organizing of Norwegian forces to fight the Nazis.

He described the trickery and treachery by which the Nazis overcame Norway, with use of American and French flags to deceive the Norwegian navy.. Norway is and will continue to be an ally of Great Britain, he said.

Mr. Vogt was introduced by Rev. A. H. Solheim of the Camrose Lutheran church. He left later for Saskatoon and points east.

Legion Members Are Working For Red Cross Funds

At the recent annual meeting of the local Legion in Faust, the following officers were elected: Presi-Brillon; secretary treasurer, G. T. dent, M. Graham; vice president, J. Anderson.

Alive to the urgency of the times, members are contributing their part at raising means for the Red Cross and the Soldiers' Comfort Fund. Plans are perfected for holding a bing party on March 8 at the bush camps and saw mills some ten miles south of town.

Police Officer Is Accident Victim For Second Time

CALGARY, Feb. 27—(CP)—Out of hospital barely a month after being badly hurt in a crash with a truck, Constable John W. Rogers, Calgary city police, was again injured Wednesday morning when his motorcycle collided with a car.

While Constable Rogers lay in the General hospital last night, recovering from a fractured left leg, shock and bruises, police said Walter Ivan, was held in a city police cell in connection with the accident.

He is alleged to have been driving the auto involved.

Many Candidates In West Qualify As Lieutenants

OTTAWA, Feb. 27—(CP)—Between December, 1938, and March, 1940, 5,616 candidates were successful in defence department examinations for qualification as lieutenant, it was shown Wednesday in a return tabled in the House of Commons replying to a question by Brooke Claxton (Lib., Montreal-St. Lambert-St. George).

Of the 2,797 candidates who qualified in March, 1940, 380 came from Winnipeg military district, Regina 187, Victoria 171 and Calgary 92.

BANTING MAY HAVE JUMPED FROM PLANE

Belief Based On Report Open Parachute Found Near Body

MONTREAL, Feb. 27.—(CP)—His aircraft in trouble, Capt. Joseph Mackey was returning to a Newfoundland airport when the military plane crashed and killed Sir Frederick Banting last week, it was announced Wednesday in an official statement.

The statement said it is "too early to give a full detailed story" of the accident, adding: "We do know, however, that the pilot of the aircraft must have experienced some mechanical or other trouble and that he endeavored to return to Newfoundland airport."

No details of the trouble were issued by radio from the plane, located Monday, the statement added.

Besides Sir Frederick, two other men were killed in the crash.

The aircraft, which was being "ferried" to Britain, was "forced to land during darkness and the pilot attempted a landing on a frozen lake and the wheel tracks on the lake showed that he came in close to the trees bordering the shore."

MAY HAVE JUMPED

In landing, the statement said, "the aircraft slewed around by some rocks that were in its path and ran into the bank head on. Fire did not break out and it will be possible to examine the aircraft with a view to determining the cause of the landing.

Capt. Mackey was reported in the statement to have suffered "minor injuries and exposure."

Earlier, official sources here expressed belief Sir Frederick had jumped by parachute from the plane but from too low an altitude. The belief was based on information his parachute was open when his body was found near the craft.

(An official statement issued at Newfoundland airport, Nfld., said it was not known whether Sir Frederick had been thrown from the plane or whether Capt. Mackey had carried him from the aircraft after the crack-up.)

STATEMENT GIVEN

The Montreal statement follows:

It is at present too early to give a full detailed story in regard to the accident in which Sir Frederick Banting lost his life.

We do know, however, that the pilot of the aircraft must have experienced some mechanical or other trouble and that he endeavored to return to Newfoundland airport.

No detail of the trouble was issued by radio from the plane and the only messages picked up indicated that he was intending to land at a Newfoundland airport.

At the present time, and until the aircraft and its engines and radio apparatus can be fully examined, and the pilot of the aircraft can give detailed information as to what happened, there cannot be any definite statement as to the difficulties encountered.

LANDED IN DARKNESS

The plane was forced to land during darkness and the pilot attempted a landing on a frozen lake and the wheel tracks on the lake showed that he came in close to the trees bordering the shore. During the landing the aircraft was slewed round by some rocks that were in its path and ran into the bank head on. Fire did not break out and it will be possible to examine the aircraft with a view to determining the cause of the landing.

The lake itself is in an inaccessible spot approximately 10 miles from Musgrave harbor and the only method of reaching Musgrave harbor and the scene of the accident at the present time is by aircraft equipped with skis.

An expert engineer has already visited and made a preliminary examination of the aircraft, but other experts have not been able to reach the aircraft and conduct the necessary detailed examination.

WEATHER CAUSES DELAY

Unfortunately, bad weather has interfered with flying in the region resulting in delay in the experts reaching the plane. The country near Musgrove harbor on the east coast of Newfoundland is lake and bush country of a very difficult type. In addition, it is covered by three feet of snow which added to the difficulty of locating the plane in the first place and getting to and from it after it had been located.

The pilot who was found where the plane crashed was suffering from injuries and exposure and up to the present has not been brought away from Musgrove harbor and has not, therefore, been in a position to make a report on which an official statement could be based. It will, therefore, be appreciated that some time must necessarily elapse before the causes leading to the accident and the sequence of events can be reliably ascertained.

Returns To Coast From Military Conference East

VANCOUVER, Feb. 27—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. R. C. Alexander, general officer commanding the Pacific command, arrived here Wednesday night from Ottawa, where he attended a conference of military authorities.

He left at midnight for his headquarters in Victoria.

Gen. Alexander said that national defence problems were discussed and ironed out at the conference, the first of its kind in Canada since the start of the war. No general recruiting had been decided on, he added.

HOWE DEFENDS PLANE OUTPUT BEFORE HOUSE

Production Rounding Into Shape—Criticism Disturbing Factor

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Canada's infant aircraft industry has been "seriously disturbed" by recent criticism but is rapidly rounding into efficient shape, Munitions Minister Howe declared Wednesday in the House of Commons.

The minister quoted a report on anticipated production prepared by H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver, chairman of the wartime requirements board, indicating that outstanding orders would be completed next year, most of them by March, 1942.

FULL RESPONSIBILITY

In a two-hour presentation, frequently interrupted be heated exchanges, Mr. Howe gave a detailed account of aircraft production in particular and munitions production generally.

He took full responsibility for conditions existing and said that when unexpected strains had been placed upon the aircraft industry by the course of the war last spring he had told his colleagues he would attempt to make deliveries six months earlier than previously planned.

The minister charged the Financial Post was the "No. 1 Saboteur" in Canada since the war started, and scoffed at recent reports Mr. MacMillan had quarrelled with him and had resigned. When Mr. MacMillan recently left for Vancouver for his daughter's wedding he had said he was being "sabotaged" Mr. Howe said "and I agreed with him."

Opposition Leader Hanson declared he had never said anything derogatory of Mr. MacMillan or of any other executives of the munitions department, adding, "if the minister had been as frank in days gone by as he has been today much that he complains of now (criticism) would have been obviated."

"STABBED IN BACK"

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the charges and criticisms directed against Mr. Howe had started while the latter was in England. Mr. Howe had been "stabbed in the back."

The minister struck out a recent criticisms voiced in the house by Mr. Hanson and others indicating a breakdown in aircraft production, and similar criticism appearing in newspapers.

These criticisms, Mr. Howe said, had created a disturbance in the industry, particularly those associated with Federal Aircraft Limited, created by the government last summer to handle a $50,000,000 order for Avro-Anson bombers for training purposes.

Of the 10 major divisions of war industry in Canada, seven were up to or ahead of schedule, the minister said.

These covered general equipment, construction, shipbuilding and repairs, mechanical transport, chemicals and explosives, shells and components of shells, and steel and alloys.

Mr. Hanson had less than half an hour to comment on the minister's presentation before adjourning the debate and the subject may not be reached again for several days. Today the house will be in committee on estimates.

"POPULAR SPORT"

Mr. Howe, starting his promised statement on aircraft production, said it was "rather a popular sport to criticize the department of munitions and supply."

Heavy duties—purchasing in Canada of munitions and war supplies for Canadian forces and the British government—involved a considerable department expansion.

It had been described by a critic as "cumbrous and amorphous." To show the department organization, the minister tabled a chart of the departmental set-up.

"I read in the press every day that the department is breaking down, that my own health is failing and that I am close to the breaking point," said Mr. Howe.

"I haven't noticed it but perhaps I would be the last to do so. The Prime Minister, however, keeps a very close watch on the work of all departments and if I were close to the breaking point I am quite sure he would very quickly transfer me to other duties.

"I ask no sympathy for myself. I did not ask for the job of minister of munitions and supply. I intend to carry it out to the best of my ability until I am relieved of it."

Speaking of prominent men who have joined the department, the minister said, "I doubt if these men would have left their important positions to join a department that was cumbrous and amorphous."

EFFICIENT ORGANIZATION

"All we can do is organize industry as efficiently as possible and place work with the firms best able to perform it," Mr. Howe said.

"If an industry is new in the field, such as the aircraft industry, we find we are not able to forecast what it will do. We have to base our plans on what we think it ought to do."

There were 10 major divisions of production in Canada, Mr. Howe said. Seven of them were up to or ahead of schedule.

General equipment division ran into some difficulties at the start of the war but now was well ahead of schedule. This covered personal equipment and supplies for the forces.

Construction had undergone a stiff test last season and had "met every demand."

In the shipbuilding division production forecasts had been "greatly exceeded."

Canada's motor transport was one of the best organized industries and had been so effficient on war orders that Great Britain had not found it necessary to go into the United States market for mechanical transport.

UP TO EXPECTATION

Chemical and explosive plants had "lived up to every expectation." Several plants were well ahead of schedule and none were "seriously behind schedule."

Shell plants and production of component shell parts were "well up to schedule" and production at the moment was about 350,000 shells a month or 1,000,000 every three months.

Alloy and steel production had enlarged greatly.

"Great results were obtained in small arms ammunition production. Canadian plants now were making 60 per cent "red label" (suitable for aircraft) ammunition against 40 per cent in U.S. plants at the same stage of production.

Aircraft production was not up to schedule and tank production was two months late in starting, but at present rate of progress lost time could be recovered.

Mr. Howe said the aircraft industry, a new industry in Canada, had "nothing to be ashamed of," because predictions turned out to be too optimistic."

"We are going to get tank production shortly," he declared.

"Just when no one can say but we are well ahead of component parts and we did not expect a finished tank before March."

The minister said on this type of tank the whole vehicle was to be made in Canada, except the engine and transmission, which were obtained in the United States.

Preparations were being made for production of "cruiser tanks" in Canada on a joint British U.S. design.

MACMILLAN REPORT

The minister produced a report on aircraft production prepared by H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver, chairman of the war requirement board. He said he could have all but a section dealing with guns, placed on the house records. The report was prepared in January, when the minister was away from Ottawa. It said production of Anson planes might not start "until after July, 1941," and might reach only 200 or 300 in 1941. But if production was "carefully reorganized at key points" and lost time recovered, production might be double that and might reach 800 or 900 by the end of March, 1942.

Noorduyn manufacturing technique "had advanced further than any plant," the report said. It could turn out 210 Harvards by March 31, 1942, and 56 Norsemen by September, 1941.

Vickers plant was expected to complete its contracts by Jan. 31, 1942.

NEW PLANT

Boeing Aircraft would start manufacture in a new plant scheduled for completion next month and it was expeceld 14 amphibians would be complete by March, 1942.

An order for Lysanders was expected to be completed by the National Steel Car Company in March, 1942. The Fleet Company was scheduled to have delivered 404 planes next month and 200 more by next September.

De Havilland Corporation was described as "smooth running" and was expected to complete an order for 554 Tiger Moths next September and 135 other light trainers by June.

An order for 600 Hurricanes for the British government was expected to be completed by the Canadian Car Company, after some delays due to change of design, by July 31, 1941.

Canadian Associated Aircraft had been subject to numerous delays due to late arrival of designs and to "divided management," the report said, but was expected to deliver 160 Hampdens by March, 1942, for the British government. This company was formed among Canadian aircraft companies and controlled by Great Britain, Mr. Howe commented.

National Steel Car was expected to have delivered 116 Lysanders by Dec. 31, 1941, the report on anticipated production concluded.

Canadian Educational Leaders Meet With Minister Of Defence

On Monday, Feb. 24, the heads of Canadian universities and colleges met with Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, and the Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of national war services, and other officials of these departments, to discuss new compulsory training regulations as they affect students subject to call. They are shown in this photograph, taken in the conference room of the National Research Council. Seated from left to right are, Maj.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar; Dr. G. J. Canada Car and Foundry Company: Total contracts—$29,574,000; value of Hurricanes delivered—$6,715,000; orders outstanding—$23,859,000.

Canadian Associated Aircraft (a British company): Orders to date for 160 Hampden planes and eight of these shipped to England with two more ready for delivery.

Noorduyn Aviation, Limited: Contracts for about 45 Norsemen planes and 210 Harvard trainers; production of Harvards expected to begin in November.

Jap Bombers Do Heavy Damage To City Of Kunming

KUNMING, China, Feb. 27.—(AP) —Twenty-seven Japanese bombers attacked Kunming late Wednesday, inflicting the heaviest damage yet wrought on this often-bombed city.

Casualties were said to have been few, however, and the Chinese said no military establishments were in the raided area.

The English Pentecostal Church was damaged and a Catholic school demolished.

(Japanese reports in Shanghai said Kunming was bombed by "waves" of naval aircraft operating from French Indo-China. Kunming is a strategic point on China's lifeline, the Burma road.)

Lord Willingdon Back In London From S. America

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Viscount Willingdon, accompanied by Lady Willingdon, has returned to Britain from South America where he headed the British trade mission.

Ill-health forced the former Governor-General of Canada to abandon his intention of leading the mission on its final investigations in Colombia and Venezuela. His health improved during the voyage home, but it was understood that he requires further rest for a short time.

Not Fortified

LONDON, Feb. 27—(CP)—Britain today announced a provisional agreement under which Spain has promised to refrain from fortifying the Tangier international zone.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25¢.

Unclaimed Money Over 3 Millions

OTTAWA, Feb. 26—(CP)—Enough money to make a man a millionaire three times over lies unclaimed in Canadian banks. Figures tabled in the House of Commons disclosed that at Dec. 31, 1940, unclaimed balances of the 10 chartered banks and two Quebec savings banks totalled about $3,182,000. More than 23 per cent of the total represents amounts on the books of branches outside Canada.

Soviet-Rumanian Treaty Is Signed On Barter Basis

Two other documents signed provide for the regulation of payments under the accord and list materials to be exchanged.

It is understood Rumania will export to Russia high-test gasoline, mineral oils and industrial products in exchange for Soviet cotton, manganese and other raw materials.

BANTING WORK BENEFITS ARMY GENERAL SAYS

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps in England, said Wednesday in a cabled message, the Corps already has felt the benefit of work done by the Late Sir Frederick Banting, and that his endeavers would "continue to bring comfort to us and confusion to our enemies."

Sir Frederick was killed last week in an airplane crash in Newfoundland during a trans-Atlantic flight to Britain. In a tribute to the 49-year-old Toronto scientist, Gen. McNaughton said regret over his death would be even deeper "in all ranks" when full significance of his army work became known.

Gen. McNaughton disclosed that it was at his request that Sir Frederick gave up his desire for active service overseas and undertook the organization of "research of far-reaching importance to us and which he alone could do."

Gen. McNaughton, president of the National Research Council, sent his message to Dean C. J. Mackenzie, acting president while the general is overseas.

Meningitis Case Is Reported At Training School

CALGARY, Feb. 27—(CP)—One case of cerebro spinal meningitis, and one suspected case, were reported to the city health department Wednesday, from No. 2 Wireless Training school, Royal Canadian Air Force.

This definite case brings to seven the number of cases reported in the city this year. Five were military cases and two civilian. Five cases have been discharged from hospital and the sixth is progressing favorably.

TORY LEADER IS TAKEN TO TASK BY WAR VETERAN

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Opposition Leader Hanson was taken to task in the House of Commons yesterday for remarks he made in debate last week when he said no Canadians were in the field of battle as were the Australians.

George Cruickshank (Lib., Fraser Valley), a veteran of the First Great War, said he resented the remarks on behalf of all war veterans.

"I wonder what contribution he (Mr. Hanson) thought he was making to the war effort when he cast such an aspersion upon the men and the women who are enduring daily bombardment from the air," said Mr. Cruickshank.

Mr. Hanson did not reply.

The International Nickel Company's Frood Mine

LIKE GIANT ANT-HILLS are the mines where three shifts of workers push production without cease. Drills burrow, ore cars rumble. Crushers pound. Shafts vomit ore.

From the International Nickel Company's mines in the Sudbury District in Northern Ontario come thousands of tons of ore a day to feed the smelters, refineries and rolling mills of the company in Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

In these mines new production peaks have been reached to bridge the Empire crisis.

For Canadian Nickel, vital to peacetime industry, is also vital in time of war. When alloyed with other metals it makes them tougher, stronger, more resistant to wear and corrosion. So it is used not only in aircraft and motorized equipment, but also in the machinery, tools and equipment being rushed into service to produce the sinews of war.

Stampeders Beat Flyers 6-1 In Playoff Opener

Looking them Over

by JACK KELLY

THE saints be praised the Flyers and Stampeders are not playing a two-game, total-point series to see who takes a belt at Lethbridge for the Alberta senior hockey championship. Last night's shellacking would have just about rubbed the Edmontonians out of the picture.

But it's a best-of-three-game affair and the only thing that counts in that is a win. Don't think that the Stampeders' 6-1 victory means that they are six times better than our prodigal Flyers. In fact if they actually are better, it is only by a shade.

All season the Alberta League has produced nothing but these lop-sided wins and it now looks like the playoffs are going to do likewise.

The turning point came in last night's game when the Calgarians got a 2-1 lead by virtue of two tallies in the second period. Word from fans at the game is that the Flyers shot the works in a third period gamble by sending up four and five men at a time. This was sound strategy. There was nothing to be gained by playing safe for the sake of keeping the score down. The Flyers either had to win or else it didn't matter a hoot by how much they lost.

The gamble failed though and this can be taken as proof that the Stampeders drew up a solid defensive once they were in the lead. The four scores Calgary got in the last period were breakaways from the Flyer power attack—goals of the kind any good team is bound to get if their opponents keep ganging up on them long enough.

Tuesday night will be another start for the Flyers and if they can win here on their home ice they should be no worse than even money to eliminate the Stampeders in the third game at Calgary on Thursday. The Edmonton club is by no means beaten yet.

Panton Leaving U. of A.

YESTERDAY President Kerr of the University of Alberta announced that owing to war conditions and C.O.T.C. training work which eliminated the need of physical training for men students, the post of Physical Director, filled during the present term by James Panton, is being discontinued. The president took pains to point out that this was in no way any reflection on Panton.

Loss of Panton is felt keenly by the students. In the short time he has been at the U. of A. he has made physical training highly popular as a result of his advanced views. One of his first moves was to ditch the obsolete and useless routine exercises for girls, except in cases where a student needed some corrective exercise, and replace them with instruction in the fundamentals of such games as golf, tennis and badminton.

The university that obtains Panton's services will have a first class physical director.

Curlers Unsung Heroes In Toronto

IT SEEMS that among other things, Toronto does not appreciate the fine art of curling—I mean the kind that is done on ice with brooms and granites. Ralph Allen, sport columnist of the Globe and Mail paints the following touching picture of the lack of public interest in the Ontario bonspiel:

"SOMEWHERE in the cavernous wastes of one of the local curling clubs, Ontario's team of the year will be grappling with its destiny today, and the cheering in the streets will be approximately as deafening as the love cry of the common garter snake. This team of the year could be Ross Tarlton's Hamilton Thistles, Joe Rothschild's Torontos, or Stan Sargent's Orillians, all of whom were reported to be within hailing distance of the grand aggregate championship when the Ontario bonspiel entered its last day. Closer identification of the new champions is not important, because, as we were saying, nobody except their immediate relatives and their vanquished adversaries gives a hoot anyway.

"The champs will be duly mugged for the newspapers, of course, and at some strategic moment a beaming official of the curling association will spring out from behind a pillar and fill their arms with silver loving cups, hand-wrought bookends, Persian antimacassars, and similar trophies of the chase. But there will be no torchlight parades, no dancing in the squares, no civic banquets.

"On Monday the weary conquerors will return unsung to their desks, even as you and I. The man at the next desk will say: ' 'Morning, George, got a cigaret? Say, you were away last week, weren't you? What's the trouble—flu?'

"IN THESE PARTS, the non-contestant looks on curling as a frivolous, occult calling—if, indeed, he deigns to look on it at all. And yet, a man who helps to win the grand aggregate at a major bonspiel is one of the authentic hardrock heroes of sport.

"First you have to consider that he is far more likely to be over 40 than under 30. In one five-day week he will undergo around thirty-six hours of concentrated physical exertion—roughly twice as much competitive action as the average National Hockey League player is subjected to in an entire season, and three times as much as Joe Louis will handle in a whole lifetime, even if he keeps the heavyweight championship until he's a great-grandfather.

"Moreover, your bonspiel curler doesn't baby his constitution, as these hockey players and prize fighters do, by training on beefsteaks and beakers of pasteurized milk. He goes the distance on ham sandwiches and certain fiery distillates of grain, and if there isn't time for the sandwich that's all right too.

"Further West, where the abundance of natural ice makes it possible for the small fry to cut their teeth on granite, champion curlers are lionized in a manner commensurate with their Spartan talents. The Manitoba bonspiel, which has drawn as many as 340 rinks, monopolizes front-page streamers in the newspapers, or did until war news took over. Non-competitors scan columns of agate type in the early editions to pick out the day's top attractions, then converge in tense hordes to risk being trampled to death or suffocated. A few years ago, they moved the finals into Winnipeg's largest hockey rink. Paid admissions run to three and four thousand a day, in a sport which has been said to have the same irresistible spectator appeal as a telegraph chess match.

"Good curlers are public figures out that way. It is conceivable that some residents of Manitoba have never heard of Wally Stanowski and Turk Broda, but every literate son of the plains knows about Ab Gowanlock, Howard Wood, Ken Watson, Cliff Manahan of Edmonton and Billy Rose of Sedgewick.

"Some day, perhaps, when we get our sense of values straightened out, it will be that way here. In the meantime, a fervent salute to the team of the year—the grand champions of the fourteenth Ontario bonspiel.

"P.S.: What were the names again?"

Cheer For Chicago Cub Cheering Sections

Lou Novikoff, heavy-hitting Cub rookie, doesn't usually do his batting so dishabille as he is in the above picture, but shedding his shirt gives a much better idea of where he gets his power. Lou is a first-class screwball, and considers it an accident if he happens to strike out, be caught out on a fly ball, or thrown out at any base. He has led three minor leagues in batting during the last three years.

Experts Figure Chicago Cubs Have Struck Pay Dirt In Rookie Novikoff

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27—(NEA)—Out of the crop of rookies now in spring training camps, Pacific Coast baseball men figure that the Chicago Cubs have two of the best in Lou Novikoff and Lou Stringer. Not a few consider Novikoff, affectionately dubbed the "Mad Russian," as fine a natural right hand batter as Harry Heilmann.

What is more, coast experts will not be surprised if 22-year-old Lou Stringer chases Billy Herman off second base and becomes a Cub mainstay.

Although he played shortstop alongside Gerry Priddy in high school, competent judges declare it would be a mistake to employ Stringer anywhere but at second base, and the youngster wants no part of the other side of the sack.

His former schoolmate, Priddy, coming to the Yankees from Kansas City, is expected to make a third baseman of Joe Gordon.

Novikoff, a left fielder, is described as a smart screwball who considers is an accident any time he is put out.

The Mad Russian, who corrected a tendency to swing at bad balls, is a real big league hitter . . . swats the ball savagely and on a line. No more than a step can be taken by an infielder on any ball hit by him, which is what enables him to tack that extra 50 points on his average.

FASTEST MAN ON CLUB

Novikoff led three leagues in hitting the past three years.

Handicapped by a chipped bone in an ankle, he missed the championship of the Western Association by three points with .351 in 1937. He paced the Three-Eye with .367 in '38. His .368 led the Texas League runner-up, Nick Cullop, by exactly 50 points in '39, and then he hit .452 in 36 games with Los Angeles, and was adjudged the No. 1 athlete of the minors.

Last season Novikoff, an improved outfielder and the fastest man on the club, manufactured 41 home runs in compiling a .361 mark with the Angels. He batted in 171 runs. The second man in that important department, Ripper Collins, the one-time Cardinal first baseman also with the Seraphs, drove in 117.

Novikoff won a throwing contest with a heave of 386 feet 6 inches, with the ball landing no more than three feet from the platter.

LOOKS BIG

He weighed 205 pounds when he reported two years ago . . . had to play and sweat himself into condition. He improves as the season progresses . . . roars down the stretch.

He has the rounded shoulders and tremendous wrists of the power hitter. The biggest bat in baseball actually bends when he connects.

Born at Glendale, Ariz., and raised in the Boyle Heights section of Los Angeles, Novikoff, 27, is the seventh of 14 children and the father of two.

He started out as one of the slickest pitchers in softball, and for a time it was suspected that the underhand toss would keep him from being a major league fly-catcher. Osteopathic treatments took the kinks out of his wing.

Given a day in Los Angeles, Novikoff stepped to the loud-speaker and announced: "I will now sing that old Russian ballad," and then in a fine voice rendered "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Lou Novikoff packs punch and color.

He will be a welcome addition to Wrigley Field.

Rangers Down Saskatoon 6-3

REGINA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Regina Rangers lengthened their first place lead in the Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League to 11 points Thursday night by downing Saskatoon Quakers 6-3. It was Quakers' last league game.

Alf Kunkel led the league-leaders with three goals. Frank Mario, Angus (Scotty) Cameron and Kennedy were other Regina scorers. Red Hunter, Syd Fenn and Mel Neilson netted for Quakers.

Sports . . . . Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Gerry Nugent, who wanted to get rid of his two star pitchers, has succeeded. . . . The Dodgers took Kirby Higbe and the army soon will relieve the Phils of Hugh Mulcahy. . . . Babe Herman put in a bid for the Seattle manager job, but the front office just filed it under "H" and let it go at that.

Caught on the fly:

Gates Kimball, North Carolina U. heavyweight who has been offered $10,000 to turn pro, is being advised by his coach, Mike Ronman, against doing same.

Vinnie Richards, the tennis pro, has followed Ellsworth Vines into golf and already is down in the low 70's. . . . Don't give up on Challedon in the $100,000 Santa Anita just because of that bum showing in the San Antonio last week.

Agar Gets Three

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 27.—(CP) — Minneapolis Millers last night defeated the St. Paul Saints 6-2 in the American Hockey Association. The Millers' scorers were Agar, three, Tustin, Runge and Barry. Connolly and Johnson tallied for the Saints.

RED DEER RINK WINS TWO EVENTS LACOMBE 'SPIEL

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LACOMBE, Feb. 27.—Jim McRobbie of Red Deer walked off with the Grand Challenge from the local bonspiel on Wednesday when he defeated Harry Teare of Lacombe 11-10. Teare made a great comeback the last few ends after being several down.

McRobbie had beaten Little, also of Red Deer 10-6 in the semi-final and Teare eliminated his fellow townsman, Bowering, 11-10.

The other three members of McRobbie's rink were, H. Bawtenheimer, H. Blades, M. Cunningham.

McRobbie won his second event later in the day in the Visitors' or Lawrence Ltd. competition. His Red Deer rink beat Girling of Ponoka 11-10, after knocking out Labric, Ponoka, in the fours. Girling reached the final by winning from Little, Red Deer.

The Irish rink of Lacombe won the Parson's Cup 13-10 over Lorimer also of Lacombe, after beating Labric. Lorimer won from McCormick, Lacombe, in the other bracket.

A few local games remain to be played.

Rain Or Shine Mioland Favored

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Mioland wants a muddy track and Challedon a dry strip, and therein may lie the answer to the seventh running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap Saturday.

Challedon ordinarily can go in the mud, but is behind in his training schedule, and packing top weight of 130 pounds over the long journey with the added handicap of a slow track is not exactly what he would like.

The current weather guess is that Santa Anita will be dry but rain or shine, Mioland in all probability will be the betting favorite.

World's Skating Champion Arrives: Glenora "Ice Fantasy" Opens Tonight

ENGLISH skaters hold the world championships because they take their skating seriously, work long, hard hours and long years perfecting their technique. More Canadians are skaters but they skate for pleasure and do not strive as hard for the top places.

This was the opinion of Miss Megan Taylor, radiant, dark-eyed world's figure-skating champion who is in Edmonton to skate tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Glenora carnival. The big show starts at 8:30 each night.

Last night a full dress rehearsal was held at the Arena with all scenery and lighting effects. It put the final touches on weeks of drilling and preparation and officials are satisfied that everything is ready for tonight's opening performance.

FIRST BREAK

"It's the first break I've had between carnivals and traveling," she said with a smile. "It will be nice to have a night's sleep in a bed instead of on a train. Besides, I'll be able to have a little practice before the first performance. In Calgary I arrived in the afternoon and had to skate the first night."

When Miss Taylor smiles, she turns on flashing charm. Her manner is gracious and delightful. Dark-haired and brown-eyed, she is radiantly attractive.

Speaking of skating in her own country and Canada, she said, "In Canada the girls skate for pleasure. They like the fun, the carnivals and the costumes. They practice until they can do a solo. They improve their solo performance and they are satisfied.

"Of course there are many in England who skate in the same manner, merely for the fun. But when a girl there begins to learn figure skating she usually tries for the championships. This means years and long hours of practice and the English girls give it."

STARTED AT FOUR

Miss Taylor herself achieved perfection the hard way. She began at the age of four and has been diligently working at her art ever since. She was taught by her father whose present championship is only a climax to a long record of prowess. He skated in Edmonton in 1914 when he was western Canada champion and a resident of Saskatoon.

Asked about the honors heaped upon her in Berlin where she gave a command performance for Hitler, sat in his box and was presented with a huge bouquet of red carnations by him, she said, "Of course, that was very nice at the time, but it doesn't mean a thing to me now. Everyone now would like to put a bomb under Hitler for the misery he has caused and naturally I feel the same way."

Skating in this country is rather different from skating in the warm climates of the United States and Australia, from which she has just come, Miss Taylor finds.

ICE HERE HARDER

The ice here is hard and brittle and does not give the same grip for skates as the softer, artificial ice.

Merely as a technical discussion and not in any sense as a complaint, she explained that the hard, brittle ice here chips out in large pieces when the toe of the skate is jabbed in for a jump. "You don't get the same bounce in your jump as you do on the softer ice," she said.

Having recently travelled 65,000 miles by boat and train, she crossed the Pacific in the Empress of Russia, the liner being escorted by the cruiser Achilles, which put such a crimp in the Graf Spee.

With the ship blacked out at night and all port holes closed, she found the swimming pool the most nearly comfortable place at night as she crossed the equator.

BOOSTERS COP HOOP GAME FROM Y COMETS 40-17

Hurdling one more obstacle on the way to defending their junior provincial championship, the Commercial Boosters, known last year as the Boy Grads, Wednesday defeated the Y.M.C.A. Comets by a score of 47 to 17.

This gives the Commercials a 23 point margin to work on in their next and final game for the city championship.

The outstanding feature of the game was the long shooting by Fred Davies and Bob Scott of the Commercials while Bill Furman led the Comets with 8 points.

The score at the half way mark was 16 to 13 for the Commercials while in the last half the Y.M.C.A. boys were held to four points.

The final game ill be played at McDougall Gym on Friday at 8:30.

LINEUPS

Commercials: Lutsky, Retallack 2, Scott 15, Davies 9, Danilowich 6, Dykes, McClocklin, Walker 8. Total 40.

Y Comets: Switzer 2, Furman 8, Brooks 3, Clarke, Brant 4, Furman, Astrosky. Total 17.

Referee: Lloyd Coutts; umpire, Reg. Robertson.

SOUTH SIDERS BEAT LEAFS 5-4 JUVENILE FINALS

South Side tied up the City Juvenile hockey playoffs on Wednesday night at 119 street rink when they defeated the Maple Leafs 5-4.

Duncan knotted the count with about five minutes to go and Elke banged in the winner just five seconds before the final whistle blew.

In order to break the tie another game has been set for 8:15 tonight at 119th Street rink.

These teams have already played three games in what was supposed to have been a best two-in-three final series. Each club has one win and the other was a 3-3 tie.

Last night the South Side led 2-1 at the end of the first period, but in the next session Leafs scored two.

The South iders then proceeded to slam in three in the last canto while holding their opponents to a lone marker.

LINEUPS

South Side—Shave, Stollery, Duncan, Clarke, Elke, Dawe, Squire, Younie, Fraser, Adair, Stewart.

Officials—Danny McLeod and Bill Arnett.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Leafs, Doolan (Wilson), 5:00; 2, South Side, Fraser, 5:47; 3, South Side, Fraser (Dawe), 12:35. Penalties: Stollery (2), Adair, Superstein.

Second period—4, Leafs, Doolan, 1:55; 5, Leafs, Van Deelan (Barchyn), 17:23. Penalties: Stollery (2), Van Deelan, Superstein.

Third period—6, South Side, Elke, 9:20; 7, Leafs, Baird (Superstein, Doolan), 11:22; 8, South Side, Duncan, 14:40; 9, South Side, Elke, 19:55. Penalties: Baird, Wilson.

Calgary Scores Four On Breaks From Power Attack

CALGARY, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Calgary Stampeders gained a one-game lead over Edmonton Flyers Wednesday night when they came from behind a 1-0 first period deficit to win 6-1, in the opening contest of the Alberta Senior Hockey League semi-final series. A crowd of close to 5,000 witnessed the game.

Second game of the best-of-three series will be played at Edmonton next Tuesday night with the third game, if necessary, scheduled in Calgary March 6. The winner will oppose Lethbridge Maple Leafs in a best-of-five game league final.

Flyers went into the lead midway through the first period when Eddie O'Keefe, leading scorer in the Alberta League's regular season, beat Art Rice-Jones with a rebound from five feet out.

QUICKIE FOR CALGARY

Stampeders lost no time getting back into the picture as the second period opened. Almost from the face-off, Smith slipped a pass over to Cam Burke who skated with the puck across the blueline and let fly a high shot that Pow moved too late to stop.

Four minutes later Calgary stepped into the lead with Jempson and Quigley combining on a smart scoring play.

Late in the session Les Thirlwell, Calgary winger, was carried off the ice with what appeared to be an injured left leg. He fell to the ice while skating down the rink alone immediately before calling for assistance and apparently aggravated an old injury in the fall. He later returned.

GAMBLE FAILS

It was the third period that made the final score so one-sided. On the short end of a 2-1 count as the frame started, the Flyers put on a sustained power attack in an attempt to get the one goal needed to put them back on a even footing and force the Stampeders to open up the play.

Edmonton failed however for the Calgarians broke away from the power attack four times to score.

The third period was little more than five minutes old when Quigley tallied his second to boost the Calgary margin to 3-1.

Burke took the puck to the Edmonton end of the ice and passed out from behind the net to Quigley who completed the "hat trick" with a hard shot into the net.

Shannon broke into the clear and beat Pow with a short shot, then Jimmy Jempson got away on another clean break to make the count 6-1 with seven seconds to spare to end the scoring.

LINEUP

Calgary: Rice-Jones; Dewar, Smith; Duchak; Shannon, Burke. Subs: Jempson, Thirlwell, Quigley, McGoldrick, Sprout.

Officials: Earl Overand, Calgary; Pep Moon, Edmonton.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1, Edmonton, O'Keefe (Yanew), 9.09. Penalties: Smith, O'Keefe, G. Watt.

Second Period: 2, Calgary, Burke (Smith), .55; 3, Calgary, Quigley (Jempson), 4.30. Penalties: None.

Third Period: 4, Calgary, Quigley (Sprout), 5.27; 5, Calgary, Quigley (Burke), 15.42; 6, Calgary, Shannon, 19.10; 7, Calgary, Jempson, 19.53. Penalties: Burke, Mullen, G. Watt, Smith.

GLACE BAY ASKS RULE BE LIFTED

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Judge A. D. Campbell, president of the Cape Breton Hockey League, has appealed to President George Dudley of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at Midland, Ont., for permission to transfer a goalie from one C.B.H.L. club to another, it was disclosed last night after a league meeting.

Without a goalie, Glace Bay Miners want to go into the league playdowns against Sydney Millionaires with Legs Fraser of the ousted North Sydney team in the cage. Fraser is a former Winnipeg, Flin Flon and Yorkton, Sask., player.

Glace Bay lost two cage tenders within a short period. Their regular, famed Jimmy Foster, was barred from further competition because of transfer irregularities. Sub-goalie Earl Boates of Charlottetown quit after a few games for an unexplained reason.

A decision from the C.A.H.A. is expected today.

SHORE'S INDIANS MAKE COMEBACK TO BEAT HERSHEY

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 27.—(AP) — After spotting Hershey Bears four goals, Springfield Indians came back in the second and third periods Wednesday night to gain a 5-4 victory in one of the most exciting American Hockey League games played here this season.

The victory gave Eddie Shore's Indians undisputed possession of first place in the league's eastern division, one point ahead of Providence who were beaten by Pittsburgh 6-1.

The Bears scored once in the first period on Red Hamill's goal and added three more tallies in the second period—Bobby Kirk, Hank Lauzon and Joe Krol scoring—before the Indians got the range.

Pete Kelly, back in a Springfield uniform after doing duty for New York Americans of the National Hockey League for a month, opened the scoring midway through the second period. Fred Thurier, the league's highest-goal-maker, sparked the Indians' attack by registering his 24th and 25th counters. Max Kaminsky and Rhys Thomson scored the other Springfield goals in the last period.

PITTSBURGH 6-1

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Pittsburgh Hornets Wednesday night whipped Providence Reds 6-1 in the eastern division of the American Hockey League.

Eddie Convey scored two Hornet goals and Bill Knott, Henry Currie, Peanuts O'Flaherty and Mickey Blake came through with the other counters. Pep Kelly spoiled the Hornets from a shutout.

M'INTYRE WINS HOTELMEN'S FINAL

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Four of five trophies at the second annual Lethbridge "shirtsleeve" bonspiel were on their way out of the city following conclusion of finals.

The Hope rink from this city kept the Ellison trophy here.

Winners of other events were: Hicks of Chiu, Lethbridge Herald; Steward of Macleod, Gas Company; McIntyre of Edmonton, Hotelmen's; Paterson of Taber, Eatons.

The Hotelmen's final between Stewart of Macleod and McIntyre of Edmonton resulted in an easy 12-6 win for the northerners.

OFFICERS NAMED DIRECT SOFTBALL

Edmonton and District Softball Association at its first meeting elected A. G. Ainley as president and Eddie Oldring and Clare Hollingsworth were named vice-presidents.

Honorary President of the Association is Mayor John Fry and the honorary vice-presidents are Hugh John Macdonald, M.L.A., and Mr. Harry Cohen.

Paul Soderberg, who as secretary-treasurer was largely responsible for last year's very successful season at Kingsway Park, was again named for the same position, along with Margaret Gray as assistant.

Seating capacity at the park will be increased to 600 and other changes are planned.

The next meeting will be held during the third week in March and any teams desiring to enter any of the three leagues—Senior Ladies', Senior Men's or Junior Men's, should get in touch with one of the executive.

Opponents Keep Powder Dry For Possible Ranger Rally

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Every time New York Rangers show any signs of playing the hockey that made them top team in the National Hockey League last season, the rest of the boys around the N.H.L. check up to make sure their powder is dry. Because when Rangers start marching, if they ever do, the opposition will need more than a good reputation.

When Rangers beat Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1 in the first game of the current N.H.L season, the word was out that Rangers had just taken a summer holiday and returned the same potent team that won the Stanley Cup last spring. Before many weeks everyone knew that the first word was wrong, but no one has been able to prove with any degree of authenticity whether Rangers' decline is merely temporary, or here to stay.

They didn't look like a fourth-place team (which they are, nevertheless) when they beat Boston Bruins in Boston Tuesday night. Babe Pratt and his defence henchmen operated with all their old-time dash, Davey Kerr did likewise in goal and Boston's string of consecutive unbeaten games ended at 23.

Despite a season during which their average game has been no better than fair, Rangers may do much damage to aspirations of such well-known quantities as Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins. An N.H.L. team is remembered mainly for its record in Stanley Cup playoffs, when clippings don't count. A sixth-place club could win the Stanley Cup, although it seldom does. A hot streak by Rangers during the next few weeks could relegate mid-season records of Boston and Toronto to the discard.

Rangers will be at home to Montreal Canadiens in New York tonight, while Detroit Red Wings travel to Chicago for the other game of the night. Rangers currently are two points behind the third-place Wings, with Chicago in fifth place and Canadiens sixth.

KITCHENER RINK CONSOLS WINNER

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Perry Hall's Kitchener rink Wednesday night won the right to represent Ontario in the Dominion curling championship Macdonald's Brier event here this week, when William Mark of Bobcaygeon conceded defeat after the 10th end of a one-sided final with the score at 14-4.

Hall's four played a drawing game which completely out-classed the Bobcaygeon rink. Hall played third on a rink skipped by his brother, Bert, when Kitchener won the Dominion championship in 1939, and was third again for his brother on the Kitchener rink which competed for the Dominion crown in Winnipeg last year. his year Perry has W. Henderson, Jr., lead; A. Lehnen, second; and J. A. Lucas, third.

Earlier in the day Mark eliminated Dan Kelly's Toronto Granites 11-10 after an extra end, while Hall defeated Ken Miles of Toronto High Park 9-6 in the other semi-final.

GABBY HARTNETT LIKES NEW JOB

MIAMI, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Without much doubt the happiest athlete in the Giants' training camp is Charles Leo "Gabby" Hartnett, 40, the man who had to lose his job to win back his nickname "Laughing Boy."

Gabby is back now doing what he loves to do best and what he never should have let them stop him from doing. He is catching baseball again, and those who ran into him at various times during the past few years while he was managing the Chicago Cubs will be glad to know that the cure seems complete.

He is the old Gabby, so full of pep and hustle and general good spirits that he is about to work himself into a 200-pound shadow. His salary probably is less than half what is was last year and he is only a second-string catcher to Harry Danning, but Gabby's friends need not feel bad about his losing the Chicago job.

Though he won a pennant in 1938 and proved himself a capable manager from a technical standpoint, the position appeared to weigh on him mentally and affected his grand disposition. That is over now.

SNELL HIGHEST IN CAPE BRETON

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 27.—(CP)—George Jud Snell, who came to Sydney Millionaires from the University of Manitoba, rolled up the highest individual scoring mark ever recorded in the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League, scoring lists revealed last night at the end of the league's regular season.

Snell chalked up 37 goals and 27 assists for 63 points.

Bad man of the league was Mel Snowdon, a Millionaire defenceman from Winnipeg, with 78 minutes in the penalty box.

Mountain Park To Play At Camrose

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

CAMROSE, Feb. 27.—Arrangements have been completed whereby the Mountain Park hockey club will use the Camrose arena for their home games in the provincial playdowns as much as possible in accordance with A.A.H.A. rules.

The Mountain Park hockey club will play a series of two games with the Wetaskiwin Colonels, total goals to count, the winner advancing into the semi-finals for the intermediate championship of Alberta.

The first game of this series will be played in Wetaskiwin Saturday night and the second in Camrose at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Such well known Camrose hockey players on the Mountain Park club as, Ray Sanders, Pete Elock and Wilf Shaw will be seen in action and will give a good account of themselves.

This has been going on for nearly a hundred years and the women are still convinced that they are dealing with real ghosts.

Man O'War Latest Horse To Be Sculptured In Bronze

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Man O'War has won the admiration of his sculptor—posing majestically two hours a day. "Big Red" has been on display for years before thousands of thoroughbred worshippers who have come from many parts of the country to see him so this statue business is merely another job.

The great racer that won 20 of his 21 starts is the father of many famous thoroughbreds, among them War Admiral, Kentucky Derby winner in 1937, and Clyde Van Dusen, the 1929 Derby victor.

"Many human models are more difficult to work with than Man O'War. He seems to like it."

When the model is completed, Haseltine will move it to his New York studio where he will cast a red-bronze statue, 20 hands high, of the thoroughbred.

"I am choosing a red-bronze," said Haseltine, "so that the statue will conform with Man O'War in color as well as shape."

The sculptor said the bronze likeness of Man O'War will stand "20 hands high, because a statue of exact proportion would appear too small. The horse really stands about 16.3 hands, a bit more than five feet tall."

Haseltine said he did not know where the statue would stand when finished. Riddle, he added, "is undecided."

Girls' Basketball

The usual double header games of the City Girls' Basketball League will be played at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium tomorrow evening, the St. Mary's high school meeting the "Y" girls in the first and the Westmount girls playing the Heavener team in the second game.

These two games will have an important result on just which teams will enter the finals of the league series.

GREENBERG SAYS READY FOR CALL

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tiger outfielder, said Wednesday that he is ready to enter the United States army by way of the selective service system "when they call me."

In a statement calculated to resolve any doubts as to his status, the American League baseball standout said:

"I'm in Class One, ready to be called and I'll go when they call me."

"I'm going to go in July," he told newsmen but offered no elaboration to indicate whether he had information to that effect or was hazarding a guess.

When he reached Los Angeles Monday from a Hawaiian vacation he reported he had not asked deferment.

BEARCATS GET JOE M'ARTHUR

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Joe McArthur, key pivot of Bearcats when Port Arthur captured the Allan Cup two years ago, rejoined Bearcats Wednesday after spending a full league schedule with Fort William Hurricanes.

McArthur, on approval of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, will help the first-place Thunder Bay senior group team in the finals next month and along the Allan Cup trail if they hurdle the Geraldton Gold Miners, who finished the league in second place.

Hurricanes released McArthur yesterday and under the C.A.H.A.'s wartime clause he was permitted to replace Bones McCormack of Bearcats who now is on active service with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Hamilton Hit By Cyclone In Third

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 27.—(CP)—St. Catharines Saints Wednesday night scored eight goals in the third period to beat Hamilton Dofascos 12-6 and enter the final of the Ontario Hockey Association's senior "A" play-offs. It was the sixth game of a best seven series.

Joins Boston

EVERETT, Wash., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Earl Averill, veteran major league outfielder, given his outright release last winter by Detroit, said yesterday he has signed with Boston Bees.

Averill spent 12 years in the American League, all with Cleveland, until going to Detroit a year and a half ago.

With The Pin Busters

Pavan of Edmonton Auto Parts nudged in for high single in Motor 10 Pins on Wednesday night when he started off with 213. Bill Lothian copped off best three with 557 from 194, 185 and 178.

In Recreation 10's Lothian was high with 159, 167, 168 for 494.

Two players from Gaults team monopolized the spotlight in Revillon's Mixed. Brown's 273 was the best single and Jones came in with 215, 194, 215 for 624 for the triple.

C.N.R. Calder defeated Peppers two out of three in the finals of the Monday Section Mercantile to win the first half of the season. Lewis had high single of 202 and Jim Hoyle had best three, rolling 197, 163 and 176 for 536. Peppers' aggregate was 2,602, nine pins more than their opponents.

Jim Hunter picked off both high one and three in Wednesday Mixed. He knocked over 291, 203, 191 for 685.

In Commercial Men's Five, Marianix of Snowflakes compiled the best score of the night in any league when he picked up 365 on his last string. Chick Stroud of Sterling Shoes rolled 238, 245, 279 for 762, the best triple for the night.

Fleming of the Aces in Lawn Bowlers chalked up 252, 288, 184 for 724 to capture both one and three highs.

Yorkton Loses To Moose Jaw

MOOSE JAW, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The second-place Yorkton Terriers dropped their final game in the Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League here Wednesday night to the cellar-dwelling Moose Jaw Millers 6-2.

Moose Jaw have one more league match to play and that with the league-leading Regina Rangers here Friday night. Win or lose the decision will not effect league standings.

Frank Warshawski and Joe Medynski each scored two and Dunc Grant and Paul Lavallee got the other for Moose Jaw. Johnny Kukkula and Smith netted for Yorkton.

"KATIE" IN CHARGE OF HUBBY WHILE HYMIE STYMIED

POMPTON LAKES, N.J., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The "Boss" is around these days, so Lew Jenkins is drinking his two quarts of goat's milk every day.

To those who know the Jenkinses of Sweetwater, Texas, the boss is Mrs. Lew—otherwise "Katie"—and she has taken over full charge of the lightweight champion's training for his 10-round non-title fight in Madison Square Garden Friday night with former 135-pound boss Lou Ambers.

Up to now, Lew's erstwhile handler, Hymie Caplin, handled these details, and informed Katie that wives are not welcome around a training camp.

This time Hymie is awaiting sentence for a recent conviction. So Katie is in command at the camp here and is ready to persuade Lew if he disobeys such orders as drinking his goat's milk or getting to bed by 11 o'clock. Katie makes sure he does his road work, too. She paces him on a bicycle as he trots around the Jersey Hills.

The odds-layers have installed him 1-to-2½ choice to whip the boy from Herkimer, N.Y., and even money he puts the "slug" on him early.

Training Camp Chatter

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Manager Joe Cronin has all of his 19-man pitching staff at work now that Oscar Judd has checked into camp from his Ingersoll, Ont., home. The Canadian, who has been working out in a gymnasium for the six weeks, appears farther advanced than any of the other Red Sox chuckers.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—Winning the National League batting championship didn't clinch a regular's post with the Pirates for Debs Garms. Manager Frankie Frisch has him working out with the second squad, giving Jeep Handley first call at third base.

AVALON, Calif.—The "holdout plagued" Chicago Cubs still have their quota of absentees but the most conspicuous among those present is the streamlined Dizzy Dean. At one time last season Dean tipped the scales at 217. Today he weighs 194; says he's in fine shape and looks it.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—New York Yankees' workout yesterday was lifted out of the routine by the fact that players and spectators alike realized Johnny Sturm, up from Kansas City, probably will be their regular first baseman. Sturm, moved up a notch through the sale of Babe Dahlgren to Boston, was the centre of attraction throughout a snappy session.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—Jeff Heath is getting special attention from Manager Roger Peckinpaugh in a campaign to improve his batting form. Trying to restore the Fort William-born fielder to his 1938 effectiveness, the Cleveland manager keeps telling Heath to "be ready to swing at every ball before it leaves the pitcher's hand."

LAKELAND, Fla.—Schoolboy Rowe arrived at Detroit Tigers camp yesterday, four days early. He announced he is feeling "in the pink" after a winter hunting and tramping through the Arkansas hills.

Bill Tilden Defies Time As He Bounds Merrily Along

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—The man has kept his secret long enough. A committee of citizens should go to William Tatum Tilden, the twice, and demand that he reveal the location of the fountain of youth.

If he wants a price for the whereabouts of the spring whose waters guarantee a perpetual bloom to the cheeks and an unceasing bounce in the legs, then the insurance companies should pool their resources and meet his demands.

You must agree with me that William Tatum Tilden has succeeded where Ponce de Leon failed. Else, how in the world are you going to explain the supernatural endurance of the long-legged, lantern-jawed tennis player from Philadelphia? By all normal athletic standards he should be wearing congress gaiters, peering with rheumy eyes over spectacles, and indulging in no more violent exercise than thumbing his clippings.

STILL AT IT

But where is the man? In some quiet retreat, spinning tales of how he won the No. 1 ranking in 1920? No, he is out banging and barnstorming around the country with a group of youngsters who were playing drop the handkerchief, London bridge is falling down, and making mud pies when he was the world's greatest player of the game.

It was an announcement in the papers that he would play here with Alice Marble in a few weeks that turned my thoughts to Big Bill. The blurb said, among other things, that Bill was celebrating his 48th birthday, which, if you care to remember, is the third time in three years he has celebrated his 48th birthday. He seems to like the number 48. Having reached it, he apparently has decided to make it his very own. This gives him three legs to stand on.

Miss Marble was featured in the publicity, and I think the company's press agent is missing a good bet in not playing up Tilden as the star of the troupe. Not in the time of those now living will tennis lovers see the equal of Big Bill. The Perrys, the Vines, the Budges, and all the rest are marvelous players, but Tilden stands alone.

WHAT OF OTHERS?

All you have to do to prove how he stands is to ask where his contemporaries in the golden twenties are today. Bobby Jones is a comfortably plump lawyer in Atlanta. Babe Ruth is an uncomfortably fat watcher from the sidelines. Jack Dempsey is a heavy-jowled restauranteur in New York. Tommy Hitchcock has laid down the mallet to become a Wall Streeter. Jim Londos is wrestling punks on the kerosene circuit. Charlie Paddock's interests in spikes are limited to those on his newspaper desk. These, and others, were the men who made of the 1920's what Paul Gallico so aptly called the golden decade in sports.

Of them all, only Tilden carries on. And he doesn't carry on in a doddering, pathetic fashion, either. How many tennis players are there in the world who could beat him in a one-set match today? Budge might, and the redhead is about the only one. And in a five-set, regulation match, there aren't more than half a dozen players you'd care to bet on to lick the Philadelphian.

LEGS REMAIN SPRY

His legs still are spry enough to make him a fine court-coverer, and what his legs lack is more than made up by what he carries around in that head of his. As long ago as 1918 Tilden was No. 2 in national ranking—23 years—but still he continues to play and play well. Indoor courts, clay courts, en-tout-cas courts, grass courts, cement courts, good lights, bad lights, they are all the same to him.

When he reaches here I want to see him. It may be my last chance before the Smithsonian Institute scouts pick him up and put him in a glass cage next to Eli Whitney's cotton gin. Too, I want a slug of that fountain of youth water he carries around in his canteen. And I'll take it straight.

BIMELECH PACKS TOP WEIGHT FOR WIDENER CLASSIC

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—If Bimelech wins the $50,000 added Widener Cup race at Hialeah Park Saturday, he will come within easy distance of having won $300,000—a record held by only seven American thoroughbreds.

With Challedon and Kayak II in California, Bimelech will carry top weight of 126 pounds, but his record gives supporters reason to hope that Jockey Don Meade can bring him to another victory.

Bimelech was undefeated in six 1939 starts and went on to become the leading three-year-old of 1940 though he was defeated in the Kentucky Derby.

The Widener is expected to be worth $52,300 first prize money—assuming there will be 15 starters. If he wins, this would bring Bimelech's winnings to $299,045. The $300,000 mark has been crossed only by Seabiscuit, Sun Beau, Equipoise, Gallant Fox, Challedon, Zev and Mate.

For the Widener cash and the Widener Challenge Trophy, Bimelech must contend with such outstanding 1940 favorites as Greentree Stable's Hash and Mrs. Marie Evans' Shot Put. Other probable entries include Get Off, Robert L., Sickle T, Corydon, Joe Schenck, Ringie, Royal Man, Snow Ridge, the Chief, Big Pebble, Pretty Pel and Haltal.

Philly Pitcher Caught By Draft

NEWTON, Mass., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Hugh Noyes Mulcahy, 27-year-old Philadelphia National League baseball club pitcher, received word Wednesday that he would be inducted into the United States army for a year's service on March 8, after his plea for occupational deferment failed.

Mulcahy, unmarried, had carried to the District Appeal Board his application for deferment of service because he is employed in a "necessary occupation." Mulcahy also claimed the call would work a hardship on his parents.

German U-Boat Expert Reported Fatally Wounded

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—A Berlin radio report Wednesday that Vice-Admiral Lothar Von Arnauld De La Periere, of the German navy, had been "mortally wounded" Monday night led to belief in London last night that the German U-boat expert was killed during the Royal Air Force's heavy raid on Brest, big Nazi submarine base.

(D.N.B., German news and propaganda agency, reported from Berlin yesterday that the 54-year-old Admiral, said by D.N.B. to be the German naval commander of occupied France, was killed in an accident Monday. U-boats under his command during the last war were credited with sinking 200 ships aggregating 500,000 tons.)

Oppenheim At 74

BOURNEMOUTH, Ang.—(CP)—Driven out of Cannes, France, and then Guernsey Island by German invasions, E. Phillips Oppenheim, 74, writer of spy and mystery stories, is in England finding himself a new home.

Useless Suicide

DEAL, Eng.—(CP)—"A tragic and useless waste of life," the coroner said at the inquest into the death of a 17-year-old boy and girl who suicided in a gas-filled room because they thought the girl was about to have a child.

CHARGES LAID AGAINST EARLE BERLIN STATES

BERLIN, Feb. 27—(AP)—D.N.B., German news agency, reported Wednesday in a Sofia dispatch that assault charges had been made in the Bulgarian capital against the United States minister, George H. Earle, as a result of last Saturday's cafe bottle-throwing incident.

D.N.B. said Earle was accused of "inflicting light bodily wounds." The agency added that "numerous Bulgarian citizens appeared as witnesses."

(Earle said the altercation arose when a man he identified as a German objected when the orchestra played "Tipperary" at Earle's request. The man was hit by a bottle and Earle suffered a cut on his arm in warding off a bottle.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Officials said Wednesday that George H. Earle, United States minister, cannot legally be arrested or tried on the assault charges reported to have been filed against him in Sofia.

They asserted that Earle has diplomatic immunity.

The state department had received no report late yesterday that charges had been filed.

ATTEMPTS TO MOVE BODIES ARE DELAYED

Planes Unable To Bring Out Bodies Of Banting, Two Companions

By BOB DALDORPH

NEWFOUNDLAND AIRPORT, Nfld., Feb. 27.—(CP)—Weather and terrain combined today to delay further the attempt to remove the bodies of Sir Frederick Banting and two fellow victims of a plane crash from Musgrave Harbor, in the bush country 50 miles from here.

A snowstorm closed down on this area during the day, after two planes had flown from here to the community where the bodies lay. The bodies were to be taken out by plane, and it was expected they would have to remain at Musgrave Harbor until the skies cleared.

TROUBLE IN TAKEOFF

Meanwhile, the two planes at Musgrave Harbor—one flew there last night and the other this morning—were meeting difficulty with takeoff conditions. Both had managed ski landings on the deep snow outside the village without trouble, but the takeoffs presented a problem.

Radio reports from the village received here said they would not be able to get into the air with the bodies from their landing spots and would have to move to a lake two miles away. The bodies were to be transported to the frozen surface of the lake on sleds.

To facilitate the hop to the lake crews of the planes this afternoon were tramping out makeshift runways in the snow about their present position.

NO FLYING TODAY

Officials here expressed doubt there would be any further flying today in view of the weather, and in any case said there was little possibility of the bodies being brought here until tomorrow.

In a message to Ottawa yesterday, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps in England, said the corps already has felt of the benefit of work done by Sir Frederick.

Sir Frederick, famed Toronto scientist whose army medical work, General McNaughton said, would "continue to bring comfort to us and confusion to our enemies," died after the plane in which he was making a trans-Atlantic flight on a mission to England developed engine trouble and was wrecked.

Navigator William Bird, Kidderminster, Eng., and William Snailham, Bedford, N.S., were also killed in the crash.

Last night a brief radio message from Musgrave Harbor, where the bodies of Sir Frederick and his two companions lay, told officials here a military plane piloted by a former Ontario bush flier, his name undisclosed, made the successful flight through a snow squall.

PILOT INJURIES SLIGHT

He set his ski-equipped plane down near the isolated northern outpost just after dusk last night. The physician he carried as a passenger reported that Captain Joseph Mackey of Kansas City, civilian pilot and sole survivor of the wrecked American craft he was delivering to Britain was not seriously injured in the crash.

U. S. EMISSARY NOW IN SPAIN ON WAY HOME

MADRID, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Col. William J. Donovan, United States observer, arrived here Wednesday en route home from his unofficial fact-finding swing through the eastern Mediterranean and the Balkans. He is expected to spend several days in Spain and Portugal.

Although travelling as a private citizen, the New Yorker is expected to report personally to President Roosevelt and the United States Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, on the war situation, especially regarding the most effective material aid for Britain.

(His travels assumed a greater significance when it became apparent that he not only was conducting a fact-finding survey, but also was expressing to various statesmen his conviction that Britain would win the war. This was generally believed to have had considerable effect in the Balkans.

(Donovan's tour was criticized by German propaganda organizations. The refusal of French officials in Syria to let him cross that country was laid to German pressure.)

Axis Prepared "Strike Back" At U.S. Berlin Says

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The financial paper Boersenzeitung asserted Wednesday night that the signatories of the Axis tripartite pact—Germany, Italy and Japan—are ready to "strike back" at any United States armed intervention in their "lebensraeume" (living spaces).

Writing under the heading, "Japan, Master in the Western Pacific," Julius Krauss in the paper's leading editorial argued: "For Italy, Japan and Germany this war is a question of life and death which American politicians think they can negate by shipments of money and munitions."

New Ambassador To Great Britain Leaves For Post

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—John G. Winant, new United States ambassador to Great Britain, departed for his post today with the declaration he and President Roosevelt had "agreed on a policy of material aid to Great Britain."

Winant left aboard the Atlantic Clipper, explaining in a prepared statement that "whatever is done must depend on what the American people make possible in the weeks and months ahead."

"We all know what England is doing; we recognize the gallantry, the sacrifice and the unity of her people under the leadership of Winston Churchill," he added.

Benjamin Cohen, presidential adviser, accompanied Winant.

to stop Bren gun production in Canada," said Mr. Howe.

"What The Financial Post publishes in its own paper is perhaps its own business but when it steps out and pays money, as apparently it is doing, to buy space in other papers to make untrue and damaging statements, it is not doing it for philanthropy."

Criticism Said Based On Facts

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Horace T. Hunter, president of the MacLean Publishing Company, declared in a statement issued here last night that "any criticisms that have been made by The Financial Post or other publications of the MacLean Publishing Company have been based upon a thorough study of all the available facts."

The statement was in connection with the charge made by Munitions Minister Howe in the House of Commons at Ottawa Wednesday that "the number one saboteur in Canada since the beginning of the war is The Financial Post. Mr. Howe said "The Financial Post attempted to stop Bren gun production in Canada," and added that he understood The Financial Post was buying space in other newspapers "to make untrue and damaging statements against the department of munitions and supply."

"HAVE ONE PURPOSE"

Mr. Hunter's statement declared that criticisms made by The Financial Post and other publications of his company "have had but one purpose; to inform the public and arouse national sentiment for the total effort that the prime minister declares to be necessary for total war. . . . There have been basic weaknesses in the organization of our war effort. This was to be expected in view of the prodigious task which has had to be assumed by the government and the people. Our anxiety has been to see that they were remedied at the earliest possible moment."

"Mr. Howe's statement that the Financial Post opposed manufacture of Bren guns in Canada is absolutely and entirely false," the statement continued. "We criticized the original contract because of its unbusinesslike terms and the circumstances under which it was let. Mr. Howe recently admitted the soundness of our criticisms by cancelling that contract.

"Mr. Howe questions our right to re-publish as advertisements in other newspapers an editorial from last week's issue of the Financial Post. Those advertisements were published by the Maclean Publishing Company in the public interest. We believe that the speeding up of aircraft production in Canada is vitally important. We published the advertisements to secure a wider audience because we believe that an informed public opinion is the strongest assurance that any weaknesses in our war effort will be quickly corrected. The government spends the taxpayers' money to reprint the speeches of Mr. Howe and other ministers.

"Constructive criticism based on accurate information and designed to achieve greater efficiency in our war effort is not sabotage."

Minister's Attack Attracts Attention

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—Hon. C. D. Howe's attack upon the Financial Post, a Toronto business paper of restricted circulation, has attracted attention, especially in the munitions department where officials have been critical in private of the newspaper's handling of news of war industry. Representing a mixture of reactionary business ideas and new deal crusading spirit, the paper has carried on a campaign of criticism of aircraft production. It has evidently utilized sources of information within the industry.

Meanwhile, it is known that the paper has been warned several times regarding disclosure of military information. In prosy columns of business news, correspondents find items normally regarded as censored and no doubt enemy agents do the same. This aspect probably enters into Mr. Howe's attack as much as resentment against criticism.

TURKS ARE PLEASED

Today's Anglo-Turkish conference was the first since Mr. Eden arrived here yesterday morning. Turkish and British circles expressed pleasure at yesterday's British announcement of capture of the Italian island of Kastelorizo with its seaplane base just off Turkey. The nearness of the base to Turkish soil long has been a sore point in Ankara.

The meeting broke up at 1 p.m. for a luncheon given by Premier Refik Saydam but the greater part of the afternoon was left open for resumption of the discussions. President Ismet Inonu is expected to receive Mr. Eden later.

Reports from Sofia disclosed Gen. Nicola Petkoff, chief of staff of the Bulgarian army, had conferred last night wtih Premier Philoff and Foreign Minister Popoff, preliminary to an emergency meeting of the cabinet.

There was no indication of the reason for the sudden activity, and the Bulgarian government issued another denial of reports German troops had entered the country.

Turkey was given the right to fortify the Dardanelles by the Montreux convention of 1936, ratified by France, Britain, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Germany and Yugoslavia. The agreement terminated the 1923 Lausanne treaty, under which Turkey was forbidden to militarize the region around the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus.

LIBERAL BODY URGED RETAIN ITS IDENTITY

West End Association Decides To Carry Party Standard

Maintenance of its present Liberal identity and organization was decided upon by the West End Provincial Liberal Association at a meeting held Wednesday night in the I.O.O.F. hall on 103 street.

The association also voted to urge other Liberal groups to continue their Liberal affiliation and appointed a contact committee to consult the East End and South Edmonton Liberal groups on this question, as well as others in the province.

President Peter Miller of the Edmonton Provincial Liberal Association told the gathering he felt the Liberal label and set-up should be maintained during the life of the present government but that those Liberals who last year voluntarily entered the Independent group to oppose Social Credit should remain loyal to that coalition.

Mr. Miller also attacked the record of the Social Credit government and stated that it had "broken many promises."

James Morrison, president of the West End group, was chairman of the meeting. He was appointed to the contact committee along with Charles Blair, Peter Glassman, Mrs. J. Clooney and Miss Jean Boyle.

SOCIAL CREDIT BOARD LIKELY WILL EXPAND

May Be Enlarged To Original Five-Member Establishment

Possibility that the Alberta Social Credit board will be enlarged to five members as it was originally constituted, was indicated Thursday. Social Credit members of the house have been discussing this question and feel that by boosting the membership to five the members could travel over the province to a greater extent and thereby bring its messages to a greater number of people.

At present the board consists of three members, Floyd M. Baker, S.C., Clover Bar; Alfred J. Hooke, S.C., Rocky Mountain House, and Dr. J. L. McPherson.

Originally formed in 1937, the board had five members, with Glen L. MacLachlan as chairman. He did not run at the last election and since has joined the army. Mr. Baker, who had been an original member, was appointed chairman.

Other original members were S. A. Berg, Dr. McPherson and the late W. E. Hayes.

After the 1940 session, with resignation of Mr. MacLachlan, the board was reduced to three.

R. E. Ansley, S.C., Leduc, is being strongly mentioned as a likely member of the board as he has taken a prominent part in all discussions on monetary reform in which Social Credit is interested.

BOARD HEARING ARMY TRAINING FIXED MARCH 3

Alberta's War Services board will start sittings Monday, March 3, to hear applications for postponement of military duty from men of the 21-year-old class who attained that age in July, August and September, 1940, it was announced Monday by J. P. McIsaac, K.C., divisional registrar.

Orders to report for medical examination were recently sent to the 21-year-old class in this age group, and it is expected that the actual orders to report for duty at the Camrose training centre will be sent out to recruits during next week. The first of the four-month training period camps will start March 20.

Recruits in the 21-year-old class affected by this call, wishing to have their service postponed, must make application to the board at once.

Star Attraction

War Savings Honor Roll

Shooting Edmonton's pledges to within 30 per cent of the objective, 222 city firms have been awarded the gold honor award, their employees having pledged themselves to monthly purchases of War Savings certificates under the payroll savings plan.

Canvassers are busy throughout the city this week seeking to finish the employer - employee division of the drive before the end of the month, and it is anticipated that the 300-mark will be reached by Saturday.

Many firms have been working on the completion of the signing of their staffs under the payroll savings plan and are awaiting only the return of members of the staff who are sick or out of the city to get into the 100 per cent group. Canvassers report that a considerable number of firms have signed up 98 and 99 per cent of their staffs and have delayed sending in returns until the 100 per cent sign-up has been achieved.

THRONE SPEECH DEBATE EXPECTED LAST FEW DAYS

Debate on the Speech from the Throne will occupy the legislature at the Thursday sitting and probably again on Friday. Indications are that it will go into next week, specially as the budget is not quite ready and there is no immediate need to hurry completion of this discussion. However, when the budget is ready or its completion can be seen, there is no doubt pressure will be applied to wind it up in a hurry.

C. E. Gerhart, S.C., Acadia-Coronation, was speaking when the house adjourned over the Ash Wednesday interlude and he will complete his address Thursday.

A large number of speakers on both sides of the house are scheduled to follow.

Two Are Mailed Dismissal Order

Letters are going forward Thursday from the provincial government to W. H. Wallace, provincial fish and game commissioner, and G. M. Sparge, director of fisheries, informing them of the government decision to dismiss them from their posts, following a report into the operation and administration of the now closed government fur farm at Oliver.

Decision to dismiss them was made known on Wednesday, but as the government was observing the Ash Wednesday holiday, information on the government decision was withheld until Thursday.

It is understood that neither official had been informed of the decision prior to the letters going forward.

CHAMBER ASKS ABANDONMENT VOUCHER PLAN

Claims Treasury Branches Unwarranted Expense In War

The Alberta government should abandon its proposals for "trade claims" and "transfer vouchers", handled by treasury branches and its scheme of Alberta trade-marked goods with bonuses, it was urged by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting of the executive council held at the Corona hotel Wednesday.

The chamber passed a resolution in which was embodied a lengthy list of reasons for the stand taken by the trade organization following study of the government voucher and trade plan by a special committee, composed of J. Boyd McBride, K.C., and H. M. E. Evans.

The chamber takes objection to the scheme, first, on the grounds of what it terms unwarranted expense, contending that Alberta cannot afford to spend $300,000 to $400,000 a year in wartime. This sum could buy a squadron of 12 Spitfire planes. The scheme is therefore inconsistent, the resolution contends, with the avowed intention of the government to economize because of the war.

CLAIMS NOT VALID

Secondly, the Chamber contends, the plan is contrary to the spirit of Confederation inasmuch as it actually means the setting up of a self-contained economy in Alberta by using a system of currency not valid in the rest of the Dominion. The B.N.A. Act provided for free trade between all the provinces. It is contended that bonusing of Alberta products is an attempt to circumvent the provisions of Confederation.

If there is a case for bonusing young Alberta industries it should be done through direct bonuses to the industry itself, the chamber contends, and not through the treasury vouchers, which, it is contended, will have no effect of increasing the amount of Alberta products consumed in this province, as these products are at present enjoying a monopoly here.

General disruption of business, just at a time when business must run with the greatest smoothness, is predicted if the scheme is put in operation, while "rigid and compulsory" features of the scheme are undemocratic and un-British, the chamber resolution states in conclusion.

OFFICERS' MEET WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR ARMY

Conference of officers commanding of Alberta units in the Reserve Army will be held at Calgary next Monday, Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., area commandant, announced Thursday.

All officers commanding Edmonton units in the Reserve army are expected to attend, and Col. Brown also expects to be present.

At this conference Brig. F. M. W. Harvey, V.C., M.C., district officer commanding is expected to outline plans for the reserve army for the present year, in the light of information he received at the conference of district officers commanding held last week at Ottawa.

Resulting from next Monday's parley probably will be information on which members of the reserve forces can base their army service expectations for this year at least.

Having completed muster parades of all Edmonton Garrison units in the reserve army, Maj. A. V. Chase, district paymaster of M.D. No. 13, and his staff have returned to headquarters at Calgary.

PARADE NOW DEFINITELY SET SUNDAY

Edmonton's war services procession and parade which had to be postponed through extreme weather will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m., it was announced Thursday by D. A. Grout, parade organizer and marshal.

All plans for the original parade will be carried through for the Sunday show, and the parade is expected to be the greatest in the city's history.

Active service and reserve units in Edmonton, members of veterans' associations, Alberta Women's Auxiliary, Veteran Volunteer Reserve and other organizations will take part in the parade.

Troops' Dinner Enjoyable Fete

The Christmas dinner of the Edmonton Regiment overseas was "quite an affair" according to a letter from Lance-Cpl. Henry H. Ragan, received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Ragan, 10043 91 avenue. The dinner, he said, was attended by both Lt.-Col. E. B. Wilson and Lt.-Col. W. G. Stillman. He reported that the mince pies, nuts, figs and other bon-bons sent by the ladies' auxiliary in Edmonton were "greatly appreciated."

War Savings Campaign Forging Ahead Here To Goal Of 18,000 Pledges

Forging rapidly ahead to achieve Edmonton's quota of 18,000 workers pledged to make monthly purchases of war savings certificates, volunteer workers are canvassing all business firms in the city this week in an effort to complete the employer-employee division of the city's war savings drive.

These canvassers are meeting with a splendid response, and return each day with hundreds of pledges from city-workers who are co-operating in the drive with an enthusiasm that gives assurance Edmonton will exceed her quota.

While no official figures are available for this week so far, it is estimated that more than 1,000 pledges have been received at the central organization office since Monday, and the number of promises to make monthly purchases is steadily increasing.

Reports from the country districts would indicate that the canvass is making rapid progress now the cold weather is abating. Many of the districts already have exceeded the quota set them, but the committee members have not slackened their efforts to get pledges. "We will get every man, woman and child in this territory in the savings firing line before we are satisfied we have reached our quota," stated a chairman of one district.

AT ST. ALBERT

Wednesday evening at St. Albert an organization meeting was held at which committees were formed to canvass the entire district. As in other districts councillors and municipal officials are rendering the greatest assistance, while private citizens are giving the utmost co-operation.

Owing to the late start, due to bad weather and the consequent difficulty of country travel, it is anticipated the drive will be continued into March.

From The Gallery

By STAN ROSS

HERE it is Thursday with the session a week old and still no "want of confidence" vote proposed by anyone. It's not right. It's not like the good old days away back before 1941 when a division used to be called every afternoon and sometimes a couple more after recess. Why back in those days the premier never knew from day to day whether or not he'd be sustained by more than 40 votes, and the opposition were right in there fighting every minute.

But that's all changed now. The members even speak to each other across the floor of the house. Opposition Leader Walker went so far as to declare that he'd support the premier with respect to legislation, if the government ever suggesed any that appeared beneficial to the public, and the government members have actually permitted an opposition speaker to get through a speech without being heckled. It's not right. These things aren't according to Hoyle. First thing we know, the members on both sides of the legislature will begin collaborating over policy and legislation.

• • •

Even the Press Gallery crowd are changed this year. They say "please" and "thank you." They put their ashes in the ash-trays. Rummy has become a lost art. Next, they'll be having curtains on the windows—maybe peach tinted copy paper. There's a Woman in Their Midst!!

Fifth columnists, you can shoot. But female columnists present a more subtle problem. You never know where they're going to pop up next, or what to do with them when they do.

And now that one of these female writers has actually popped up in the very midst of the legislative press gallery, another traditional male domain has gone the way of the old-fashioned barber shop. Nothing more remains now but to quietly wait for the advent of the first female stereotype operator. This isn't a matter of sentiment, as you might suppose. It isn't even a question of principle. It's an affair of state. Think of the embarrassment of the sergeant-at-arms if, some day he were ordered to take the Albertan's political expert—Miss Helen Beatty—into custody.

With 25 bills introduced, a quantity of reports tabled, and 10 speeches sailed away, the legislature shows progress. It's one week closer to indemnity day.

• • •

Statistics also disclose that of the ten speakers heard so far, six were making their first appearance on the floor of the house. They need not have been quite so apologetic about it either. They made a much better showing than did some of the beginners back in 1935.

• • •

It won't be long now before C. I. Sayers, the new by-election member from Camrose, takes his seat in the legislature. But think of all the nice long speeches that he's missed already.

• • •

It must be pointed out that this column doesn't cover everything that happens in the legislature, but it takes a couple of days or so to accumulate a fair sized paragraph on political issues.

• • •

The Sirois report has appeared in the debate. Whether or not the Premier helped shelve the report, and, if so, whether or not he was right in doing so, are two matters that are argued indefinitely. But both sides of the house agree that some discussion of Provincial-Dominion problems is necessary. The only remaining quibble being as to whether or not such a discussion was possible during the Ottawa meeting.

• • •

The debt issue boils down to a question of method. All sides agree that debt legislation is necessary; that creditors merit consideration; and that honesty in dealing with debts is essential to the welfare of the community. The opposition take issue solely with the way in which the government has been handling the debt situation, and they object to the results which the government has achieved.

• • •

Monetary reform is talked about by every speaker, but the real issue is limited to the question of what the government can accomplish with its Treasury Branch scheme. The government calls it monetary reform. The opposition call it an extravagant experiment. The government says it will increase purchasing power. The opposition charge that it cannot. They say the government is only attempting to replace money by a substitute, and since the substitute money can only be obtained in the same manner that dollars are now obtained it cannot perform any greater service. The government says it can.

• • •

The only other issue is that of roads. All sides agree that more roads should be built. It is clear to all sides that unless the existing roads are maintained they will be ruined. Mr. Fallow indicates that funds are too short for extensive new construction, and he also knows he must maintain what has already been built. There is no issue here beyond the question of how much the government can spend during the year. And that's that.

• • •

And with the Social Crediters supplying pats on the back and the opposition furnishing verbal kicks in the rear, the combined forward motion so projected by both camps is carrying the session on and on.

Charged with being a member of an illegal organization, by having possession of literature of the banned Watchtower and Tract Society, Fred Walker Maynard of Rycroft, Alta., was remanded until March 7 at 2 p.m. when he appeared before Magistrate Harold Hawe in police court Thursday. Bail was set at $1,500.

Great British victory of Paardeberg in the South African War will be celebrated by the Army and Navy Veterans Edmonton Unit on Friday night with a smoker. The celebration will be held in the Imperial Vets Hall, 10021 102 avenue, and the program opens at 8 p.m.

Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice George B. O'Connor in supreme court Thursday in the action brought by Bernard Smyl, 14-year-old Bordenave district resident, seeking $675 special and general damages from John Pichelnyk, district farmer, for injuries received when bitten by a dog owned by Pichelnyk. Mr. Justice O'Connor found that the defendant was liable for the damage done by his dog to the youth, but reserved judgment on the amount of damages to be awarded. A. T. McLean, Edmonton, counsel for the plaintiff, adduced evidence that Pichelnyk "sicced" his dog on young Smyl who was bitten on the leg and back. The injuries necessitated hospital treatment.

CONFLICTING EVIDENCE IN AUTO THEFT

Decision Is Reserved In Charges Against Adjuster

Conflicting accounts concerning theft of a car belonging to A. McGavin about three years ago featured police court hearing Thursday morning of a charge of false pretences against R. Noel Saunders, adjuster with the firm of Brewster, Cross and Taylor.

City police report concerning theft of the McGavin car in December 1937 and subsequent recovery in the city, contrasted with a report allegedly made by accused to an insurance company concerning the theft of Mr. McGavin's car in February 1938 and its recovery four miles east of the city in a badly damaged condition.

FALSE PRETENCES

Saunders is charged in this particular case with false pretences and intent to defraud the Western Assurance Co. of $239.50. Three other charges of false pretences are still to be heard against the accused and Magistrate Millar at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing Thursday morning reserved decision until the other cases are completed.

According to the evidence laid before the court by Special Prosecutor Neil D. Maclean, K.C., Saunders had adjusted the claim for damages sustained by the McGavin car.

STOLEN FROM HOME

Archie McGavin, manager of McGavin's Ltd., testified he had been leaving for Saskatoon at about 9 p.m. on the night of December 5, 1937, when his car was stolen from the door of his home. He took a taxi to the railway station, leaving his wife to report the loss of the car.

According to a city police report submitted, the car was recovered on the South Side a few hours later. Loss of the battery was the only damage that Mr. McGavin could recall, he testified.

Witness said that sometime in the summer of 1938 his car was again stolen from in front of his home. The thieves had pushed it down a hill and abandoned it. He recovered the car and had made no report of a loss to anyone on that occasion, he told the court, nor did he make any claim for damages.

Mr. Maclean later submitted what was purported to be a report to the insurance company concerning an adjustment made on the McGavin car by Saunders.

In this report it was stated that the McGavin car had been stolen from in front of the McGavin home on the morning of February 25, 1938, at 7 a.m., just as Mr. McGavin was leaving to catch the train for Vancouver.

AUTO DAMAGED

The car was recovered three hours later on Highway 15, about four miles east of the city, in a badly damaged condition, Mr. Maclean quoted from the report. The report stated the thieves had apparently lost control of the car and had crashed it through a fence after driving it at top speed down a steep hill.

The adjuster's report stated the cost of repairs totalled $239.50.

Herbert I. Simpson, accountant, with Price-Dayton garage, identified work sheets made out on December 6, 17 and 27, 1937, and totalling in all $229.47, as accounts for work done on the McGavin car. Work orders were for $30.83, $61.80 and $136.84, respectively. There was a general order, made out in 1938, with no date given, for $239.50.

The Western Assurance Co. had been sent a receipt for $239.50, the files revealed.

Hearing of other charges against Saunders were continuing Thursday afternoon.

Edmonton bank clearings for the week ending Thursday totalled $3,633,149 as compared to $3,962,299 for the corresponding week last year, the clearing house reported on Thursday.

RESPONSE TO RECRUIT CALL IS GRATIFYING

Men Are Asked To Bring Documents When Enlisting

Response to the call for recruits in Edmonton and district has been most gratifying, Maj. J. Howard Gainor, M.C., district recruiting officer for M.D. No. 13, declared Thursday. In all, 1,756 men are being sought under the present recruiting drive in this city and district.

Maj. Gainor on Friday will be at Vegreville at 10 a.m. and at Innisfree at 8 p.m. to interview prospective recruits. On Saturday at 10 a.m. he will be at the Legion Hall, Vermilion and at 10 a.m. Sunday he will be at the Legion Hall, Wainwright.

"I am delighted with the response we have received here," he said. "Men of a fine type are offering themselves and I am sure from the enthusiasm displayed we will recruit our quota."

He said that while he with a medical board, would be visiting rural points, recruiting would continue here at the Prince of Wales Armory under the direction of Lt. Col. Allan H. Elliott, officer commanding No. 1 Sub-Depot.

Maj. Gainor requests that prospective recruits bring with them their birth and marriage certificates and birth certificates of children, if any, as this will facilitate completion of documents.

Cards of Thanks (6)

Mrs. Gordon Macdonald wishes to thank her friends for the kind expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes received during her recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Sisters and Nurses of the Misericordia hospital.

In Memoriam (7)

To assist readers in preparing "In Memoriam" notices the Edmonton Bulletin has prepared a booklet of some very appropriate verses. It is free upon request. Call, write or phone for a copy.

In loving memory of Margaret Georgina Warry, who passed away February 27, 1940.

"Deep in the heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best."

Legal Notices—

Notice of Application to the Legislative Assembly

NOTICE is hereby given that The City of Edmonton will apply at the next session of the Legislature of the Province of Alberta, for an Act amending the Acts constituting The Edmonton Charter, in the following respects:

1. To ratify and confirm a certain agreement dated the 9th day of September, 1940, made between The City of Edmonton and The Calgary Power Company, relating to the interchange of electrical energy;

2. To provide that no refund shall be made in the case of local improvements undertaken on the unit rate system;

3. To provide that notice to the City of accidents caused by snow, ice or slush conditions upon the highways of the City must be given within seven days of the happening of such accident;

4. To provide that Council by by-law may require persons enjoying certain highway privileges, such as sidewalk crossings, vault areas or signs or objects upon, overhanging or encroaching upon the highways of the City to insure in a blanket policy with the City to cover damages which may be caused by reason of the existence of such crossings, vault areas or encroachments and to charge the premium against the properties benefitted by way of taxes or to collect such premiums in such other way as Council may direct.

5. To empower Council to classify, license and regulate house to house canvassers of merchandise and to fix different license fees according to the classification adopted by Council, including the power to fix increased license fees in respect of non-residents;

6. Such further or other amendments as Council may deem necessary or expedient

DATED at Edmonton, Alberta, this 10th day of February, 1941.

ULTIMATUM IS GIVEN BY JAPS TO INDO-CHINA

Japan's "Final" Proposal Must Be Accepted By Midnight Friday

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Japan was reliably reported tonight to have delivered an ultimatum to French Indo-China, demanding that she accept Japan's "final" proposal to mediation in the Indo-Chinese-Thailand border dispute by midnight Friday.

It was understood Japan had given notice she would take "forceful action" if a favorable reply was not forthcoming.

(When it is midnight Friday in Tokyo it will be 9 a.m. Friday M.S.T.)

The nature of the action planned was not disclosed, but it was understood the foreign office had notified Vichy that unless a favorable reply was forthcoming the matter would pass to jurisdiction of military officers in the French colony

Competent sources said the foreign office would accept no alteration of the Japanese mediation proposal and would extend the time limit only if it was satisfied that French colonial authorities were awaiting confirmation of their stand from Vichy and not "playing for time."

By H. O. THOMPSON

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—(BUP)—Japan, faced by the threat of an imminent breakdown in Thailand-French Indo-China peace negotiations, prepared today for an emergency evacuation of its citizens from Indo-China.

It was understood that the foreign office had instructed Baron Yasu Hayashi, consul general at Hanoi, Indo-China, to make immediate arrangements for the evacuation because of the uncertainty over the peace negotiations.

"PEACE BY FORCE"

There was every indication that Japan had determined to force Indo-China to accept its terms by this week if possible and certainly before the expiration of the current truce March 7

The implication seemed to be that Japan was prepared to impose the peace by force if it could not do so by diplomacy.

Japanese anxiety was increased when newspaper dispatches from Bangkok reported that a Chinese army of 20,000, backed by strong artillery and tank units, had crossed into the Shan area of British Burma to fill the gap caused by the dispatch of Burmese reinforcements to Singapore.

The dispatches said also that Chinese "fifth columnists" had accompanied the army

Japanese saw the reported move as a threat of combined British-Chinese-French Indo-Chinese action in event of a Far Eastern explosion

The lower house of parliament suddenly adjourned this afternoon until March 18 in order to give the government a clear path for emergency action. Members were ordered to remain in Tokyo for a possible emergency session.

PASS SECRETS ACT

Just before the adjournment the House of Peers passed the drastic official secrets act, previously passed by the lower house, imposing the death penalty for the most serious leakages of official information

Inspired newspaper editorials indicated that Charles Arsene Henry French ambassador, had firmly declined to approve the forced peace terms. They charged the French government with conspiring with "third powers" to obstruct Japan's policies.

They denied that Japan in presenting France with its terms, had violated an agreement to respect Indo-China's sovereignty.

Asahi said openly that Japan had accepted "fair" demands by Thailand and that it would urge Indo-China to reconsider its "insincere" attitude.

Newspapers in apparently inspired editorials indicated that the deadline for Indo-Chinese acceptance of the terms might be set for this week-end.

New York Paper Sees Beginning Of Axis Defeat

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(CP)—"The wheel begins to come 'round," the New York Herald Tribune says today in an editorial on the British capture of Mogadiscio, capital of Italian Somaliland

Recalling that it was from Mogadiscio that the first pressure upon Ethiopia was applied by Italy more than five years ago, the newspaper say.

"Mogadiscio is a place of next to no importance in itself But it was in this territory that the whirlwind was sown; it is to this territory that it is now returning

"We are all back upon the map of Ethiopia, from which we started six years ago; and the beginning of its meretricious glory."

Pan-Handlers Out

LONDON. — (CP) — Begging or collecting money is illegal in London's air raid shelters, according to new "Ten Commandments" issued by Civil Defence Commissioners.

Heroic Checker

LONDON. — (CP) — A freight checker at a London railway station battled his way into a blazing locomotive to remove the driver and fireman but both died from their injuries.

Canadian Wheat In Storage Over 492 Million Bushels

OTTAWA, Feb 27.—(CP)—Canadian wheat in store in the week ended Feb. 21 totalled 492,532,978 bushels compared with 492,128,607 the previous week and 325,767,681 in the corresponding week last year, Dominion bureau of statistics reported Wednesday.

Wheat stored in Canadian elevators totalled 445,919,654 bushels. This compared with 445,633,334 the previous week and 296,349,256 in the corresponding week last year.

Canadian wheat in the United States amounted to 46,613,324 bushels, an increase of 118,051 over the previous week when 46,495,273 were reported. Total for the corresponding week last year was 29,418,425 bushels.

LONDON VISITS OF MINISTERS ARE OF VALUE

LONDON, Feb. 27—(CP)—Hope that a "steady stream" of Dominions ministers will come to London to discuss war problems, was expressed Wednesday night by high British government sources who said they were delighted with the presence of R. G. Menzies of Australia, the first Empire premier to visit the United Kingdom in this war.

The source explained he had no fault to find with the existing machinery for inter-empire consultation but stressed the value of personal talks. Asked if his reference to a steady stream could be interpreted as a forecast, the informant replied it was "Just a strong hope."

He referred to the value of the visits of Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Hon J. L. Ralston and Hon. C. D. Howe, respectively Canadian ministers of agriculture and national war services, national defence, and munitions and supply.

Here's A Patriot

AUGUSTA, Me.—(CP)—With a note asking Uncle Sam to "keep the change for national defence" a citizen mailed a $20 bill to pay his 22-cent income tax.

Eighteen million nickels were produced by the Philadelphia mint alone in March, 1939.

STUDENT HALTS RUNAWAY TEAM IN CALGARY ST.

CALGARY, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Donald Welsh, 19, of Calgary won the praises of the city police at noon Wednesday when he stopped a runaway team of horses after the frightened animals had galloped four blocks with a wagon trailing behind them.

The team, owned by a liveryman, ran away when the driver stepped down from the wagon to make a call Constable R. Williamson, motorcycle officer, saw the runaway but his efforts to halt the team were unsuccessful

The team tore through a railway crossing, with the wagon swinging crazily behind them. Delayed by his effort to stop the team on foot, Constable Williamson came speeding up behind on his cycle as the team ran through intersection after intersection

Welsh saw the team swinging down the centre of a street and tore after the wagon. He got a hold, climbed aboard, took the reins and pulled the team to a stop just a block from where he first noticed the runaway.

Constable Williamson complimented Welsh on his presence of mind and entered the incident in police records

Welsh appeared nonchalant about the whole business and passed it off as just the sort of thing anyone could have done. He is a high school student

Syl Apps Out Until Playoffs

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Syl Apps, ace playmaker of the leading Toronto Maple Leafs, will be out of action for the balance of the National Hockey League schedule but probably will be available for the playoffs, Dr. R. J. Galloway, club physician, announced Wednesday.

The big centre suffered a torn ligament of the left knee as Leafs were held to a 4-4 tie by the Americans in New York Tuesday night.

Dr. Galloway said Apps would be released from hospital in two or three days but it would be necessary to keep his left leg taped. The club physician added Hank Goldup, on the sidelines since early in the season with a fractured hip, would be available by playoff time or a game or so earlier

Varsity Law Club Members Entertain At Annual Dinner

Honoring members of the graduating class, the Law Club of the University of Alberta entertained at its annual banquet on Wednesday evening in the Macdonald hotel.

Distinguished guests included Mr. Justice Tweedie, Mr. Justice O'Connor, Mr. Justice Crawford, Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, Dean J. A. Weir, Dr. McIntyre, Mr. George H. Steer, K.C., Mr. L. Y. Cairns, K.C., Mr. Ronald Martland, Mr. J. W. Hugill, K.C., Mr. W. S. Gray, K.C., Mr. H. H. Parlee, K.C., and Mr. G. M. Blackstock, K.C., chairman of the public utilities commission, who was the chief speaker of the evening. Hon. William Aberhart and Judge A. U. G. Bury were unable to attend.

Fifty students attended the banquet.

Toast to the bench was proposed by Mr. Alex. Smith and replied to by Hon. Mr. Justice O'Connor. Mr. [illegible] Dubuc proposed the toast to the bar and the reply was given by Mr. L. Y. Cairns, K.C.

Dr. W. A. R. Kerr replied to the toast to the university, proposed by Mr. [illegible] and Dean J. A. Weir replied to the toast to the faculty, proposed by Alex. S. Wil[illegible]. Mr. George H. Steer, K.C., proposed the toast to the graduating class and Mr. Morris Schumiatcher replied.

Parish Tea Is Rendezvous Of Many Guests

The Calder home of Mrs. A. [illegible] was the scene on Tuesday of a tea in aid of St. Edmonds Parish. Proceeds from which, were to go towards bazaar work.

A musical program featured the entertainment of the afternoon. A charming soloist was Miss S. McNeil, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. J. McNeil. Mrs. N. Devlin also entertained with several delightful piano solos.

The tea table was laid with a pretty lace cloth and centered with daffodils in a silver basket, and flanked on either side with tall tapers.

Assisting the hostess in serving were Mrs. R. Charbonneau, Mrs. J. Gagne, Mrs. S. Foran, Mrs. L. Lamoreaux and Mrs. E. Lortie.

Others present included Father [illegible], Mrs. A. B. [illegible]

Canada Nurses' Chief Matron Visits Here

Wearing her blue wool service uniform, and her decorations as Commander of the British Empire and a member of the Royal Red Cross, Miss Elizabeth Smellie, C.B.E., R.R.C., matron-in-chief in Canada of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Nursing Service, told reporters, Thursday, that in her military office, she could say nothing about her work. "As a matter of fact," she added, "I know nothing of interest beyond our regular routine work."

Miss Smellie is spending Thursday in Edmonton during the course of a visit to military districts across Canada.

500 NURSING SISTERS

Miss Smellie stated that there are now about 500 Canadian nursing sisters in England, who are serving under Miss Emma Pincey, formerly of Kingston, who is matron-in-chief of the service overseas. The Canadian service keeps in touch with the overseas group, she reported, on matters of mutual interest. More than 4,000 applications for nursing service have been received from Canadians and Americans, but British citizenship is one of the requirements. Applicants must be at least 25 years of age, she said.

Miss Smellie was with the service overseas during the last war, and continued her work until 1920, when she became chief superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada. In June last, she was granted leave of absence to return to her war work. In the previous war, she was assistant to the matron-in-chief. "I've just slipped back into the job of 25 years ago," she said.

From Edmonton, Miss Smellie will go to Regina, Saskatoon, and Winnipeg, before returning to Ottawa, which she left two weeks ago.

Pembina Dance Is Gay Affair Of Wednesday

A CHARMING picture of "Ye Olde English Inne" was conveyed in the decorations that adorned Pembina Hall on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the gay Pembina Prance. Maroon and gold streamers twisted to form diamond panes, a bowl of yellow daffodils and maroon carnations in a copper bowl, deep red candles on the newel posts and fleur-de-lis shields combined to form this pleasing illusion.

Guests were cordially welcomed and received at the door by Miss Mabel Patrick, acting dean of women students, and Miss Nellie Coyle. Honor guests of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr and Dr. and Mrs. MacEachren.

The Women's House Committee was in charge of the Formal, to which only residents of Pembina Hall who are not Freshettes, are eligible to ask escorts. Members of this committee, under the presidency of Miss Nellie Coyle, include Miss Margery Upton, Miss Peggy Trotter, Miss Helen Warnock, Miss Jean Vallance, Miss Gladys Vickery and Miss Doris Danner.

In charge of decorations were Miss Daphne Grafton, Miss Peggy Trotter, Miss Doris Danner and Miss Mary Lawson.

Among those present were the Misses Jessie Lancaster, Catherine Young, Daphne Grafton, Dorothy Clarke, Marjorie Campbell, Doreen Darley, Beth Low, Bette Adams, Enid Parsons, Enid Mestor, Marjorie McCrea, Yatchio Yoneyama, Missao Yoneyama.

The Misses Edith Kennedy, Margaret Ferguson, Mary Lawson, Alma Ballantyne, Betty Stewart, Mary Moore, Clarice Nagler, Bessie Sidorsk, Mary Francis, Margaret Copeland, Helen McConkey, Fern McKeage.

OYSTER STEW

When making oyster stew it is important to remember that the oysters should be sauteed first in butter and only until the edges begin to curl. Add to hot milk, season and sprinkle with paprika. To make a richer stew, substitute one cup of light cream for one cup of the milk in your standard recipe.

OUT of the chemist's test-tube came this dramatic evening frock—for it's made of a new slit cellulose film yarn. The yarn is handknit to form a "fabric" that has a gem-like glitter and sparkle, particularly striking in the contrast of black and white used here. The skirt has a becoming front fullness, high round neckline and short cap sleeves. The jacket is double-knit, with an over-stitch belt giving an elastic effect. Designed by Madeleine Leyda.

Strauss Opera To Be Presented During The Coming Week

Comprising some of the most delightful music by the Austrian composer Johann Strauss, "The Bat" will be presented by the Empire Opera Company in the Empire theatre for three days, commencing Thursday of next week.

Under direction of Mr. Atha Paul Andrewe, final rehearsals are now being held, in readiness for the opening night. Mr. T. W. Dalkin, Mr. G. Alex Kevan, and Mr. Ambrose Holowach are handling the dramatic, chorus and ballet work respectively, and many original and interesting effects have been executed in these departments.

The leading feminine role of Rosalind is being played by Miss Shirley Neher and opposite her is Mr. James Saks.

In the balance of the roles are Jack I. Gish as Alfred, Aurline Tanner as Adele, Jim Richardson as Frank, Ian Jordan as Dr. Falke, Donald Cameron as Blind, Vivian Jones as Orlofsky, Wallace Ironmonger as Ramusin, Isadore Goresky as French, Robert Gordon as Murray, James Slessy as Ivan, John Dalziel as Al Be.

Business Girls Hold Annual Dinner Party

International Night was marked on Wednesday by members of the Canadian Business and Professional Women's Club. The celebration took the form of a dinner, and was held at the Corona hotel. The occasion was an annual one, and one in which Edmonton members of the club join with their sister-members in the many clubs throughout the world to toast their international organization. This association stands for the bettering of working conditions for women and the raising of woman's status in the business world.

Miss Emily Cleaver, president of the club, presided during the evening. Mrs. Paul Malone was guest speaker, her topic being "Australia". Miss Lutie Jessup was a very charming soloist.

Among others attending were Mrs. E. Myles, Mrs. J. W. McTaggart, Mrs. Jean C. Walton, Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. M. Devlin, Mrs. M. A. M[illegible], Mrs. M. L. Chapman, Mrs. C. Bryson, Mrs. A. Kerr, Mrs. Vera Hulme, Mis[illegible]

Mrs. H. Robson Is Regent Of I.O.D.E. Unit

Mrs. H. Robson was named regent of the Susan Buchan junior chapter, I.O.D.E., at the annual meeting of the chapter recently at the home of Miss Peggy Goss. Mrs. Robson succeeds Mrs. B. Tonsi, who is leaving the city shortly.

Others named to executive posts were Miss Doreen Pheasey, first vice-regent; Miss Gloria Peterson, second vice-regent; Miss Isabell Hay, secretary; Miss Gwen Davies, treasurer; Miss Barbara Hay, standard bearer. Councillors are Miss Kathleen McLeod, Miss Marguerite Warring and Miss Peggy Goss, and war conveners, Miss Dorothy Quilley and Miss Patricia Merritt.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The way in which new foods are presented to a baby is important if baby is to like them. Just one thoroughly disagreeable experience with a strange food and the child will ever after be suspicious of it.

Swallowing by spoonful portions is familiar enough to us, but the small baby has been used to drinking only fluids and getting those in tiny portions. He uses his lips and tongue to suck. When a new food is put into his mouth by spoon, he suck upon it until it gets into his mouth and then thrusts his tongue out as he has been wont to do when sucking—and out comes the food. Just let mother accept this act as indicative of distaste and her troubles begin.

Instead let her keep repeating, "if at first you don't succeed, etc.," and present another spoonful. Let her use a small spoon. Let her keep her face bright and smiling as if this were something awfully nice which was about to happen to the baby. Let her tip his head back slightly and put the food rather far back in the mouth. Then baby will just have to swallow it, and when he has he is going to be enormously pleased with himself and anxious to repeat the experience.

To increase his interest in the new food every effort should be made to make those first portions of it exceedingly good to taste. The orange juice should be naturally sweet and strained of all pulp. Add enough plain boiled water so the juice will never be stranglingly sharp. Keep giving it by spoon until the baby is eager for larger mouthfuls, then begin offering it by cup.

Sieve the vegetable as smooth as paste and salt and butter it delicately. Don't think babies don't know about flavors. They enjoy good flavors as well as we.

Strain the cereal, if it is a home-cooked one, so that it too is smooth and lukewarm, but not hot, and add just a bit of the baby's familiar formula over it.

Don't make the mistake of mixing a food baby likes and any kind of medicine. If baby doesn't like cod liver oil, don't spoil his taste for orange juice by forcing the two together. Shortly, he'll have neither.

Let each food stand on its own merits and be liked for itself alone. And don't be too discouraged if as much food comes out as goes in during these first adventures with new flavors and strange textures. Pleasantness and patience will win the struggle.

The leaflet, "Recipes for First Foods," may be obtained by anyone who is interested. Send your request with a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department in care of this newspaper.

Desserts Add Nutrients To Lenten Meal

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Nutritious desserts can round out meatless Lenten meals. In planning your meatless menu, include all the ingredients used in the dessert in your total nutrition count. The souffle recipe below uses four eggs, nut meats, and orange juice. All are important nutritionally. Therefore it is not necessary to use as many proteins or vitamins in the earlier part of the meal as it would be if the dessert did not contain so much food value. Note also—eggs and oranges are both surplus commodities.

ORANGE NUT SOUFFLE

Four eggs whites, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup orange marmalade, ¾ cup finely chopped nut meats.

Beat egg whites until stiff, adding sugar toward the end of the beating process. Gradually fold in marmalade and nut meats; pour into the upper part of a 1¼-quart, heat resistant glass double boiler. Cover and cook over boiling water for 50 minutes.

SAUCE

Place beaten egg yolks in the top of a one-quart double boiler. Add sugar, salt, juice, and milk. Cook over hot water until thickened or mixture coats spoon, stirring occasionally. Cool quickly.

Serve souffle immediately when finished with chilled sauce. Keep it right over the hot water, so that it will remain puffy and light even while serving.

Here's another highly nutritious dessert to add food values and interest to the meatless dinner. Dried apricots and eggs are also surplus commodities.

APRICOT UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

One-half cup butter, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ pound stewed dried apricots. Melt butter in large frying pan. Spread sugar evenly over butter and arrange the drained apricot halves, cut side up, on top. Cover with the following cake batter.

CAKE BATTER

Three eggs, 1 cup sugar, 5 tablespoons apricot juice, 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, pinch salt, ¼ teaspoon lemon extract.

Beat egg yolks until light and beat in sugar and flavoring. Add apricot juice and flour which has been mixed and sifted with baking powder and salt. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour batter over apricots and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Turn upside-down onto a cake plate and serve warm with remaining apricot juice, and with whipped cream, if desired.

Tomorrow's Menu

Tired of your hats! But not yet ready to purchase Spring bonnets? Well then, drape your hat with yards of veiling! Choose lovely, flattering colors. For instance—use beige veiling dotted with brown over your Winter weary brown felt. Then for a quick change use henna-colored veiling. A deep rose-pink is charming and gives you the look of a Renoir portrait. And too, you may wear the pink veiling with a black hat!

Buy two little sample-size boxes of face powder; beige for the brown hat and rose-rachel for the black, so you match your complexion tones to your veil. A quick beauty change!

DOROTHY DIX Says:

Dear Dorothy Dix—I would like your opinion on a question which I feel troubles many girls today. Should a boy and girl who are in love with each other and who plan to marry have pre-marital relations? I have always felt that this was wrong, but my girl friend, who has gone with many different boys of all types, says boys all feel that if a girl loves a fellow she should give in to his desires. My friend thinks this makes for a happy marriage. This makes me wonder if a girl who goes with a boy steady and intends to marry him is right in living with him as his wife before marriage. Can you clear up this matter for me?
JEAN.

Answer—The Bible is considered such an old-fashioned book and the Ten Commandments such an outmoded document that I don't suppose there is any use in calling the attention of the modern young girl to what it says about committing adultery. However, I should like to remind her that the Seventh Commandant has not been repealed. It still stands, and every woman who breaks it has to pay for it in one way or another.

Every mail brings me many letters that are virtually duplicates of yours, written by girls who are still held by the teachings of right and wrong that they have learned at their mothers' knees, but who have come to the parting of the ways when they must choose between their own honor and having dates with boys, and who are misled by other girls who, having soiled their own skirts, wish to drag all other girls into their bedraggled group.

To you and to all these girls I would say this: Putting aside all questions of morality and decency, consider what a poor bargain you make when you become one of the sisterhood of the streets, because you sell out cheaper than they do.

When you become a man's mistress, whether for love or money, you have no right to draw your skirts away from any harlot. You have broken the law that civilization has imposed upon women from time immemorial, and if your crime is discovered you pay for it with disgrace.

Don't befool yourself into thinking that because women's point of view about chastity may have changed that so has men's.

They may tell you that you have a right to your sex life, and that love takes the sin away from an illicit relationship, and that they admire and respect you more for defying the conventions. It is the old line of the seducer.

But back in every man's mind is a contempt for the woman who has no code of honor by which she stands, and when he marries he wants a woman who comes to him virtuous, not one who is second-hand goods.

He may decide when it comes to marrying that he wants a wife whom other women will receive instead of one at whom they will look down their noses. For it is a frightful handicap for a man, both socially and financially to marry his mistress.
DOROTHY DIX.

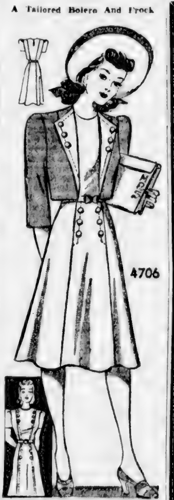
A Tailored Bolero And Frock



This breezy young style has a double purpose in life! Worn with its well-cut, tailored bolero, it makes a dashing street ensemble. Take off the jacket and you've a becoming all-occasion frock. Anne Adams has designed Pattern 4706 with smart emphasis on line rather than detail. The round-necked princess dress gives you a slim and willowy look and is very easy to cut and sew. The bolero, with its long or three-quarter-length sleeves, flaunts dashing revers. You may use a stitching-and-button trim on both the frock and the revers of the bolero. Make the bolero in contrast if you wish; then face the revers to match the dress.

Pattern 4706 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16, dress and revers, takes 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric; a bolero, 1⅜ yards contrast.

Send 20 cents in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

WOMEN DO NOT HAVE "EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES" WITH MEN IN AMERICA

Though women have been given the right to vote, and have been admitted into hundreds of occupations formerly closed to them, the truth is that there are many types of work from which they are still excluded.

Some of these occupations are listed by the Census Bureau. Blacksmith, baggageman, brakeman, railroad conductor, coppersmith, electrician, fireman, forester, pilot, plumber, railway mail clerk, stone mason, tinsmith, butcher, boilermaker, railroad locomotive engineer or fireman and hostler.

Yes, they are even denied a chance at being garbagemen or street cleaners! But they could probably do all these jobs well if they ever undertook them.

Lovely Rugs Crocheted From Old Silk Stockings

Dyed in Soft Blending Colors

Charming for a homey living room nook or for a bedroom — this colorful octagon rug you can make from old silk stockings at the cost of a little dye!

It's easy, too. You cut 2-inch bias strips from the stockings, sew them end to end, and crochet them together with single crochet. In no time you've finished a rug 30 inches in diameter.

Sew all your violet strips together and crochet a centre 7½ inches in diameter, starting with a chain of three joined in a ring. Follow with three rows of ivory, five rows of bright blue and 12 rows of purple. Add eight stitches in each row.

You'll be so proud of your handiwork — and how clever you'll feel, finding such a lovely use for your ripped stockings.

For detailed instructions for crocheting this rug see our 32-page booklet. Tells also how to hook, weave or braid mats in interesting patterns. Includes tufted rugs, other beautiful and [illegible] made with simple [illegible] inexpensive materials.

UKRAINIAN IN CANADA DOING HIS WAR DUTY

Young Men Join Armed Forces In Service Of Empire

WINNIPEG, Feb. 27—(CP)—A "new Europe," based on friendship and co-operation, is being built in Canada, Hon. R. F. McWilliams, lieutenant governor of Manitoba, said in a broadcast address Wednesday night.

The lieutenant governor was introducing Capt. Michael Syrotuck battery commander of the Royal Canadian artillery, who spoke for the Ukrainian people of Canada in a new broadcast series "Canadians all," arranged by G. H. Lash, director of public information. The address was broadcast over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Mr. McWilliams said other races must learn the ways and ideas of the Anglo-Saxon to succeed in Canada, "but for us there is less necessity for learning about the other races, and, I am afraid [illegible] inclination to do so.

"But we cannot afford to take that attitude. . . . Mutual understanding is the first condition of good will."

Capt. Syrotuck said enlistments of young Canadian-Ukrainians in the Canadian army were "proportionately far higher than their population. . . . "That they will give a good account of themselves, I have no doubt."

He asked for a [illegible] and more sympathetic understanding between the Anglo-Saxon and French-Canadian and the Ukrainian races"—all that was required to strengthen their feeling "of loyalty, devotion and co-operation."

Lieut.-Gov. McWilliams said in the prairie provinces there were nearly 250,000 Canadian-Ukrainians, and in Manitoba they constituted 12 per cent of the population. There were between 30,000 and 40,000 people of Ukrainian stock in the other provinces.

"From among them have come several members of the legislature of each of the prairie provinces and at least one member in the Dominion house (Anthony Hlynka, New Democracy member for Vegreville)," he said.

In employing the McPherran No Trump Convention, your partner, of course, must have a thorough understanding of the various responses. A response of two no trump by partner is a forcing bid and shows a tremendous hand.

Opening—♦ K. 27

In today's hand we find West attempting to interfere with the normal bidding with his four-diamond overcall. North, however, bids four no trump, which under these circumstances is the same as the two no trump bid, showing a big hand and asking partner to continue bidding. North does not have to worry which type of hand South holds. If it is the No. 1 sub-minimum type, then he has at least an ace, a king, and a queen. These tops, with North's tremendous strength, should produce a slam even without a long suit. If South has a No. 2 freak suit hand, then his suit should be solid, with North's help, and the slam should be made with six or more tricks in this long suit plus North's side tricks.

South, with a good, solid heart suit, jumps to six hearts, and that is all the information North needs to go to seven.

You can see that, even though the McPherran No Trump is bid on sub-minimum and freak types of hands, it does not prevent you from getting into slam contracts.

North and South have 13 tricks in top cards, regardless of the opening lead.

McCoy Health Service

When we speak of paralysis, we refer to a loss of sensation or motion in a part of the body, due to some condition affecting the nerve path anywhere from the brain to the muscle affected. It is obvious then, that paralysis is merely a symptom of some lesion which exists, and is not in itself a disease. Palsy is a word used to designate a certain type of paralysis such as Bell's palsy of the face.

Authorities are agreed that infections and systemic poisonings are common causes of paralysis and it often becomes evident in deficiency diseases such as pernicious anemia, beriberi, and pellagra. After many years of improper living, and incorrect eating, it is quite common for the blood pressure to go so high that the delicate blood vessels in the brain give way and rupture. We then say that the individual has had an attack of apoplexy, or a "stroke" and the resulting paralysis depends upon the amount of damage done. One of the most common forms of paralysis caused in this manner, is known as hemiplegia, in which one half of the body is paralyzed, in most cases the face and trunk being less affected than the leg and arm on the side involved. Many cases of hemiplegia are transient in nature, and the patient suffers from recurrent attacks from which he appears to recover each time, only to have another setback later on.

While paralysis is most common in those over forty, it is quite often seen in young people, coming on in these cases from heart disease due to rheumatic fever, and other causes which cause a softening of the brain tissue. A blow on the head or a fall may bring on hemiplegia, and it may be present at birth due to difficult delivery or a brain hemorrhage. Monoplegia is that type of paralysis which affects a single part or limb, such as the face, the arm, leg or sometimes the face and tongue are affected. Sometimes in the monoplegia affecting the face the patient loses his memory completely.

Another form of paralysis is that referred to as paraplegia, and in this type both legs are involved. Generally speaking, no matter what the type of paralysis is, the causes behind the attack are the same, and the treament must be systemic and designed to build up the entire organism. Cleanliness is essential, and bowel and kidney elimination should never be neglected. The use of massage is of considerable value, but should be used under the direction of a physician. Those readers who would like to receive further information on the subject are invited to send for Dr. Frank McCoy's article entitled "Paralysis." Send your request to the McCoy Health Service, enclosing a large self-addressed envelope and 5 cents in stamps.

Questions and Answers

Question: Mrs. E. S. writes: The fingers of my left hand are swollen and the knuckles are enlarged and out of shape. What would this be?

Answer: There is a possibility that you may have arthritis as the early symptoms of this disease are similar to those you describe. Of course it is not possible to make a diagnosis in this way, and I suggest that you be examined.

Question: Mr. Y. V. T. writes: We have a ranch and have begun to grow avocados. Would you tell me the food value and what foods it combines with?

Answer: Avocadoes are right in vegetable oil, containing about 20 per cent. The avocado is a good source of vitamins A and B and is one of the most nourishing foods, since it combines with any other kind of food. It may be used in salads, or spread on sandwiches. It should be soft enough to be easily eaten with a spoon.

SAVING YOUR FINE CURTAINS

To prevent sheer curtains, or curtains that are weakened from long use, from tearing in an automatic washer, place them in a pillow case or strong mesh laundry bag before washing. First shake out the dust thoroughly, soak curtains in cold water for about one hour, then wash in thick, mild soap suds and lukewarm water. Do not agitate the machine too long; depend on the suds to loosen the soil. Rinse in clear tepid water until the rinse runs clear. Without twisting, press out the excess water by hand or wrap curtains in heavy absorbent towels. If desired, a little starch may be added to the last rinse water. Dry on a stretcher.

WALNUT DRESSING

Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

As soon as a songbird signs for Hollywood, she becomes a stickler for perfection. No matter how good her figure is, it's got to be better.

So it isn't surprising to find Rise Stevens, one of the Metropolitan opera's bona fide beauties, is now engaged in a fiercely waged program of slimming. Just what Miss Stevens hopes to lose is not apparent—she is five feet seven inches tall, weighs 135 pounds and measures: Bust, 35 inches; waist, 26 inches; hips, 35 inches.

PROGRAM

It is hard to see how she can improve on these specifications. But her program is such a well rounded combination of calisthenics, massage and outdoor activity backed up with common-sense in eating that many of you could adopt it to advantage.

She has one-half hour of what she calls gymnastics plus one-half hour of massage every other day. And daily she takes a couple of turns around the Central Park reservoir—favorite exercise spot of celebrities in New York.

Another of her favorites is to lie on the back on the floor and "reach" one leg straight up in the air, keeping the other flat down on the floor. As you reach up with the leg, keep pushing up with the hips and arching the back until you are as high as you can go with that foot. Rest, and repeat with other leg.

You can do quite a few exercises of that kind in half an hour—if you work. And Rise likes to top off with massage. If you cannot manage that, however, you can do rolling exercises which give superb results. The wind-up to Rise's gymnastics is a good floor massage. Just lie full length and roll, over and over, first in one direction, then in the other.

To concentrate your floor massage on the hipline, lie on the back with arms extended straight out at sides shoulder-level, knees flexed and feet on floor. Hoist the hips off the floor, turn slightly to bring a fat pad into range, and come down on the floor with a thud. Keep hoisting, turning and thumping until you have covered the hipline.

NO COACHING

Although she herself needs no coaching in posture—singers learn quickly to carry themselves beautifully—Rise believes the average woman could improve, and that she would make more effort to do so with a penalty attached for failure. So she suggests that instead of practically walking correctly with a book balanced on the head, you do your stint with a plate balanced on your head.

If you are only a few pounds overweight, she believes in "cutting out the sweets, pastries and heavy foods"—besides, she points out, they are bad for the complexion.

Your Dietitian,
IDA JEAN KAIN.

PEANUT CHOCOLATE SAUCE

On a vanilla pudding or on ice cream, sometime try your regular recipe for chocolate sauce with a couple of tablespoons of peanut butter added.

What To Do

A group of high school girls and boys have formed a social club and meet at the different homes on Saturday evenings. They are coming to my home next month and I would appreciate suggestions for refreshments and entertainment. This is their first visit to my home and I want to make it an outstanding evening. Thank you. IRMA L.

Answer—Food and fun are practically inseparable in the after-school activities of the younger set, so why not ask the crowd to come for dessert at the beginning of the evening. Help-yourself service is the rule and keep your table decorations on the sports side rather than the dressy order.

The refreshments could be a delicious fruited gelatin ring filled with whipped cream and a rich, tender, red-brown chocolate cake—three big layers of it. Plan to serve hot coffee at one end of the buffet table and hot cocoa at the other end. And, of course, have salted nuts and candies.

The entertainment is likely to take care of itself but teen-age boys and girls always enjoy dancing to radio or records, or glee clubbing around the piano, or games, or a mixture of all these.

Points For Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Bill: "Mother and dad helped me plan these shelves. See, I have boxes for all the things I collect, and this is my card index so I can find what I want."

Son: "Mother, where are those pictures I was saving for my scrapbook?"

Mother: "I very likely threw them away. When you leave things lying about, you can expect that to happen."

Collecting may develop habits of order or of disorder, depending upon the help a child has in learning how to classify and keep his collections.

Gas Pains Like Stabbing Knife

Mrs. Lester Suffered So Violently With Indigestion She Could Hardly Stand It—Now She Is Praising Mosby's Tonic and Says: "It Surprised Me! My Pains Are Relieved!"

Sincere Statements—from many parts of this city and general section—praising and endorsing MOSBY'S TONIC, continue to pour in daily to the Army & Navy Department Store, where this "New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents," is being introduced and explained to the local public.

MRS. LESTER

For instance, just a few days ago, the following Sincere Statement, describing what MOSBY'S TONIC can do in certain forms of suffering, was received from Mrs. E. C. Lester, of 1915 Yew Sts., Vancouver, B.C. Read this well-known lady's Grateful Statement, which follows:

Gas Pains Felt Like Knife Stabbing Her

"I had suffered with a badly disordered stomach and a sluggish liver," said Mrs. Lester. "Whenever I ate I would have gas pains. Sometimes these gas pains were so violent they felt like a sharp knife was stabbing me. Oh! I tell you, it almost was more than I could stand. I felt tired and sluggish ALL THE TIME. Day after day I read in the papers about Mosby's Tonic, so finally I started taking it. I noticed an almost INSTANT CHANGE. Almost before I knew it I was improving. Now I can eat my meals without gas pains afterward and I don't feel tired like I did. This medicine also regulated my bowels. I never heard tell of a medicine that could do so much for a person. I spent a lot of money on different medicines before I got Mosby's Tonic, but this is the first time I ever found anything to give me REAL relief. I glady endorse it because I want to do my share to help others by telling the public how this splendid medicine relieved the suffering I had been enduring for a long time."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach; Helps You in General

MOSBY'S TONIC acts in several ways at one and the same time. That is, it contains 20 ingredients, including [illegible] Roots and Herbs. So it helps you in GENERAL. It enlivens the liver, clears sickening bile from the system and relieves biliousness, sick headache and yellowish "muddy" complexion. It invigorates the kidney action and relieves night rising and backache. Weak rundown people soon feel like different men and women.

Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. It is within the reach OF ALL! In fact, you can actually take this Splendid Formula for just a few cents per day. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's—NOW—and start taking it!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as "The MOSBY TONIC Man" is now at the ARMY & NAVY DEPT STORE, Edmonton, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

Ontario Will Pay 75 Per Cent. Of Costs Of Relief

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Premier Hepburn told a delegation from the Ontario Mayors' Association yesterday the provincial government will pay 75 per cent of relief costs this year. The municipalities will pay the other 25 per cent.

The meeting was called to discuss the situation arising from the federal government's decision to suspend its contribution to relief expenditures. Formerly the dominion and provincial governments each paid 40 per cent with the municipalities absorbing the other 20 per cent.

Surplus Reported

REGINA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — An audited surqlus of $341,997 on operations for the fiscal year ending Jan. 31, 1941, will be reported by General Manager E. G. Hingley at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association next Tuesday.

Aircraft Of Six European States Seen In Lisbon

LISBON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Airliners bearing the colors of Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Italy, Spain and Portugal landed at Sintera airport Wednesday and were drawn into line side by side—a sight not to be seen at any other airport in Europe, and a rare one even here.

In the airport bar, Britons and Netherlanders, Germans and Italians form separate groups, with the Spanish and Portuguese joining both.

Sometimes both groups mingle in impersonal discussions of the weather, but there is never a whisper of war talk.

Pension Benefits

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Pensions benefits of the Canadian (Active) Army apply to Canadian (Reserve) Army members and their dependents if disability or death is suffered by the reservist while on duty, it was stated Wednesday in a return tabled in the commons for Alan Cockeram (Con. York South).

AVRO-ANSONS SOON ON WAY HOWE STATES

Minister Explains Delay In Production Of Training Planes

OTTAWA, Feb. 27—(CP)—After a period of difficulty due to several causes the program of building Avro-Anson twin-engined trainer planes in Canada is "on its way," Munitions Minister Howe told the House of Commons Wednesday.

Answering rumors and criticism of FederalAircraft Limited, the government-owned company charged with arranging for manufacture of Ansons required for the British Commonwealth air training plan, Mr. Howe said he had no doubt the company's promise that the first plane would fly in March and that heavy production would be under way in June and July would be fulfilled.

NOT MANUFACTURING

Federal Aircraft was not a manufacturing company, said the minister. It was formed to organize and promote the production of Anson planes by contracting for the making of various parts with Canadian manufacturers; but its first big job was to redesign the plane so it could be made efficiently in Canadian plants.

Originally the British government wa to suspply Canada with 1,500 Ansons, but after the fall of France this became imposible and the government had to arrange for production in Canada, at a time when Canadian aircraft manufacturers were all busy on other models. The redesigning took time.

"I think its (the company's) first and most serious mistake was that the magnitude of the job was underestimated," said Mr. Howe.

MANAGERS CHANGED

"It was only in the latter period when that was discovered and when the general managership was put in other hands that we finally got the design to a place where the sub-contractors could go full out on certain parts of the operation."

The first general manager was R. J. Moffatt who, Mr. Howe said, was an outstanding aircraft designer but did not turn out to be a good executive. When the directors realized this the services of W. A. Newman, chief mechanical engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, were obtained as general manager.

"Mr. Newman pulled the affair together in which I consider a marvellous way and today I believe the Anson program is well on its way," said Mr. Howe.

Mr. Howe said reports that H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver, chairman of the Wartime Requirements Board, had recommended the dissolution of Federal Aircraft were untrue.

VICTORY SEEN IF PRODUCTION IS SPEEDED UP

QUEBEC, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Victory for the British Empire "will not be long in coming" if Canada's help is "given speedily and in full measure," Sir Howard D'Egville, general secretary of the Empire Parliamentary Association, said Wednesday night in an address to the private bills committee of Quebec's legislative assembly.

"Unfortunately for the freedom-loving people of the Democracies, who love peace, we are not the best organized to face dictatorships with their rapidity of decision." If it were not for the co-operation between the British navy and the navy of the colonies, he said, "we would not have been able to organize soon enough to face the common enemy."

Hitler, Sir Howard said, believes and acts on the principle that "terror is the most powerful factor in waging a war."

"The Germans wait until their enemies are thoroughly demoralized from within before they finally strike the blow which they hope will destroy them. The present war is far more a psychological war than a material war. It is primarily a question of psychological attack and defence."

Referring to the American continent, Sir Howard said that the Royal Navy and the British Isles are the only reason why Hitler has not been able to attack the United States.

"If they did not exist, the Germans would overrun the Atlantic and the Americans, very probably kept busy in the Pacific by Japan, would be unable to prevent the North American continent from being attacked in turn."

Ottawa Reveals Cost Of Booklet On War Activity

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — (CP) — Printing of booklets entitled "Canada Carries On," issued by the government in August, 1940, and December, 1940, cost about $7,357, according to a return tabled Wednesday in the House of Commons in reply to a question by A. H. Bence (Con., Saskatoon City).

There were 50,000 English copies and 20,000 French copies of the first edition and 100,000 English copies and 50,000 French copies of the second edition. About $2,500 also was spent in distribution of the booklets.

Japs Leaving

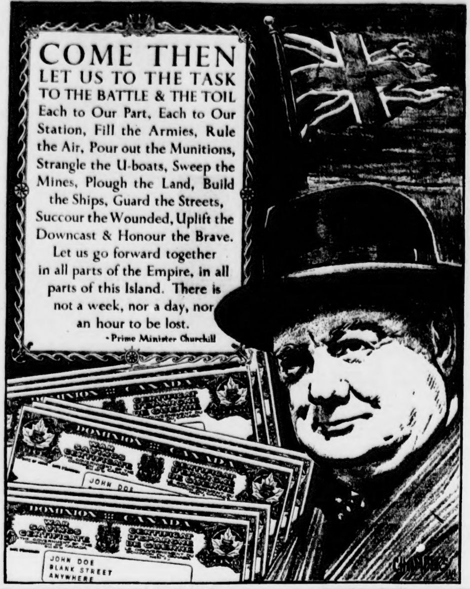
TOKYO, Feb. 27—(AP)—The newspaper Nichi Nichi reported today from Singapore that Japanese families had begun to leave for Japan because "of the tense far eastern situation."



COME THEN LET US TO THE TASK TO THE BATTLE & THE TOIL Each to Our Part, Each to Our Station, Fill the Armies, Rule the Air, Pour out the Munitions, Strangle the U-boats, Sweep the Mines, Plough the Land, Build the Ships, Guard the Streets, Succour the Wounded, Uplift the Downcast & Honour the Brave. Let us go forward together in all parts of the Empire, in all parts of this Island. There is not a week, nor a day, nor an hour to be lost.

-Prime Minister Churchill

GOVERNMENT IN SASKATCHEWAN IS SUPPORTED

REGINA, Feb. 27—(CP)—Hour-long addresses by Premier W. J. Patterson and H. K. Warren, (N. R., Bengough) were heard in the Saskatchewan legislature Wednesday as the throne speech debate continued. The government survived its second challenge of the present session when it defeated another want of confidence motion by a recorded vote of 33 to 13.

Like the want of confidence amendment defeated Tuesday, the measure introduced by Mr. Warren concerned agriculture. It proposed to add the following words to the reply to the throne speech: "That this legislature regrets His Honor's advisors did not attempt to get parity prices for our farmers from the federal government." It was seconded by A. C. Stewart, (N.R., Yorkton).

Mr. Patterson issued a call to the Saskatchewan people for sacrifices and contributions to the limit of their capacity in order that the war might be won, saying: "Anyone not willing to do that is not worthy of his citizenship in Canada and the British empire."

Mr. Warren admonished the government for its refusal to consider a coalition administration during war time; assailed political patronage, which he called the chief activity of the Liberal government, and challenged the government to press Ottawa for a better deal for western farmers and business men.

There are 92,850,000 miles of telephone wires in the United States.

Quebec Officer Claims Sabotage Cases, Montreal

MONTREAL, Feb. 27—(CP)—J. Gordon Ross of Quebec City, provincial officer of the civilian protection committee, told a service club Wednesday that sabotage attempts had been discovered in Montreal factories.

He said in one manufacturing plant 79 fire extinguishers had been drained of their contents and filled with gasoline. The ruse was discovered when the manager noted one of the extinguishers turned the wrong way on the wall.

"There are fifth columnists here and plenty of them," Ross warned, "but I do not think we have many of the international kind. There are a great number whose minds will change from day to day."

FAMOUS POLICE DOG IS PLACED IN RETIREMENT

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Blue-book tabled in the Commons Wednesday recorded the retirement of Canada's most famous four-legged policeman.

Commissioner S. T. Wood, in the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for 1939-40, said that the shepherd dog Dale, born in Alberta in 1932, had suffered from rheumatism and strained heart and was retired to a life of ease.

Dale was the property of a member of the force and when little more than a pup saved the life of his master and a comrade, lost in a blizzard at 35 below zero. Placed on a leash, the dog was told to search and led them to a cabin where they took shelter.

In 1935, after a frantic posse had searched for hours for a missing two-year-old child, Dale caught the scent in a rain-drenched trampled field, raced through high wheat with a mounted constable behind him and located the child.

On the way to this search Dale assisted in the check of a suspicious car and located stolen articles in a field. Dale had a part in protecting Their Majesties during their tour of Canada. He was employed in searching box cars and buildings before the Royal train came to Unity, Sask.

As old as a man of 56 when reckoned in the years of a dog, Dale was retired from the force after due inquiry by a court of officers and repurchased from the force by his first owner.

To succeed him are other dog policemen of note, among them Tell, Black Lux, Tuff, Perky, Sultan, Chief, Egon and Bacchus, each of which has his own record of good service.

War Victory By "Heavy Thinking" Is Not Favored

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The government Wednesday rejected a plan to win the war by "heavy thinking."

Sir William Davison, Conservative, suggested in the House of Commons that British citizens throughout the world "unite every night at the striking of 9 o'clock by Big Ben on some thought—such as the continued virility of the British Empire."

The government's answer was given by Clement R. Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, who said:

"Nine p.m. British time is not nine p.m. throughout the Empire. It is inappropriate to broadcast nine strokes of Big Ben when it is six a.m. in Australia and the middle of the night in India."

25 Locomotives Ordered By C.N.R. For U.S. Lines

MONTREAL, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Canadian National Railways have ordered 25 freight locomotives for service on their lines in the United States, it was announced Wednesday by R. C. Vaughan, vice-president in charge of purchases.

The announcement said the new engines were required to handle increased traffic on the Grand Trunk western lines of the system. They will be built by the American locomotive works at Schenectady, N.Y.

Casualty List

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—The war office's 137th casualty list issued Wednesday night contains 200 names made up of 31 killed, 16 who died of wounds, 49 wounded, six who died while prisoner of war, seven wounded and prisoners, 18 prisoners and 72 who died.

FORMER WIFE OF PRINCE IS DEAD, DENMARK

OTTAWA, Feb. 27—(CP)—Word of the death of Mrs. Thorkil Juelsberg, former wife of Prince Erik, of Denmark, at her country estate near Copenhagen, was received here Wednesday by her brother, Col. J. R. Booth.

Mrs. Juelsberg, formerly Lois Booth, of Ottawa, was married to Prince Erik in 1924 at All Saints' church here. Later the marriage was annulled by King Christian X of Denmark, in compliance with a petition the couple made mutually.

News of Mrs. Juelsberg's death was relayed to her mother, Mrs. J. Fred Booth, of Los Angeles, from Swedish sources. Mrs. Booth had learned last November that her daughter was seriously ill.

Mrs. Juelsberg's first husband, Prince Erik, renounced rights of succession to the Danish throne at the time of his marriage in Ottawa. He had lived in Canada and the United States from 1922 until the marriage.

Senator Norris Supports Bill To Aid Britain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Senator George Norris (Ind., Neb.), one of the little group of senators who voted against the 1917 declaration of war on Germany, supported the lease-lend bill in a broadcast address Wednesday night as "necessary to keep us out of war."

"If we pass this bill," he said, "the probabilities are that England will win; that Hitler will fall; and that the great machine built up by him to destroy the peace of a civilized world will fall apart and disappear."

Royal Naval Patrols Guard England's Ports

Constantly keeping watch against Hitler's promised invasion of England, units of the British navy are shown patrolling near a channel port. A message is being passed by line from a destroyer to a cruiser while both vessels are under way.

Strange Interlude In War At Sea

Although they face the triple threat of submarines, mines and bombing planes daily, these men of a British patrol vessel can still grin cheerfully as they watch one of their number give a shipmate a trimming. These little patrol ships are in port only for brief spells to refuel and take on ammunition and supplies. Their big job is keeping the sea lanes open that England may get her vital imports from overseas.

R.A.F. And W.A.A.F. Convalescent Home Kept Busy

At a hospital in the northeast section of England, wounded Royal Air Force pilots and W.A.A.F. girls are now "in mending." The hospital which is more of a convalescent home after patients have recovered from operations or serious illness, is used by both the R.A.F. and the girls of the W.A.A.F., and they get together for walks on the grounds. The men are provided with a gymnasium with many types of sporting and athletic machines. Above we see a group of wounded and recuperating pilots of the Royal Air Force and the girls walking about the grounds.

Warbird Hatchery In Australia

A view of one of the production floors at the Commonwealth Aircraft Corporation plant in Australia, where "Wirraways" are turned out for the Australian Air Force. The "Wirraway" is a development of the United States NA33 type plane, the word itself means "challenge."

Old Glory Flies To Africa

The American flag was carried into African waters for the first time in U.S. commercial aviation's history when the Dixie Clipper, on a route-proving flight, landed at Bolama, Portuguese Guinea. No. 1 passenger on the plane (seen in background) was homeward-bound Wendell Willkie.

Had Her Eyebrows Lifted, Anyhow

Amid momentous controversy over whether the Duchess of Windsor did or did not have her face lifted, this new picture of the famous pair arrives from Nassau. Proves nothing, maybe, except that the Duchess can still lift those charming features when surprised.

Ferrying Planes To Britain

Bernt Balchen, left, and Clyde Pangborn, U.S. aviators, are pictured as they arrived in Baltimore, Md., aboard the Bermuda clipper after flying giant Consolidated patrol bombers to England. Head of a group of aerial deliverymen, they also have flown Lockheed Hudson bombers to Britain.

Battledress For Women

Style gives way to comfort, women of the mechanized transport corps find the battledress style of uniform much more comfortable for their work than their previous uniform. In this case a member of the corps is actually cranking a car, an operation that many of us thought went by the bye with the birth of the self-starter.

Americans Move Out Of Far East . . . Crisis Moves In

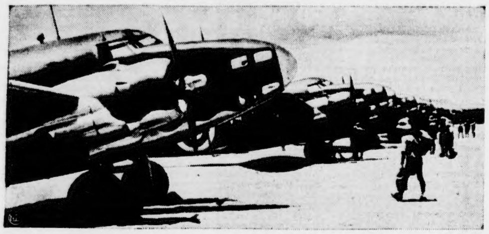
Japan matched Nazi threats in Europe with ominous action in the Far East. Her battle fleet, top, was reported concentrated off the French Indo-China coast. Americans in the area were ordered to speed up the general evacuation started several months back, lower left.



Australia countered the Japanese move by reportedly sending some of her bombers, above, to British Malaya, north of heavily-defended Singapore. An emergency meeting of her war council was called. The Netherlands Indies government ordered its shipping into neutral ports. Observers believed all these actions together meant the long simmering far eastern war kettle was finally about to boil over.

Niagara's New Bridge Taking Shape

The first section of the great arch of the new Rainbow bridge at famed Niagara Falls was placed in position on St. Valentine's Day. Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Ontario highways minister and chairman of the Niagara bridge commission dedicated the 63 ton grillage as it was lowered into place. Work is being carried on from both Canadian and U.S. shores. Picture shows progress up to the present.

WAIT FOR ME

By KATHERINE MACY

BLONDE JAN MACLEOD, 20, caretaker's daughter on the ROBERT VAN VLIET Virginia estate, elopes with 21-year-old PETER VAN VLIET III, the owner's son. The couple go to New York City for their honeymoon but on the wedding night Peter gets a telephone call from AVIATOR JIM BROWNELL and explains to JAN that he has to leave her for a little while. "Wait for me, darling!" he says as he leaves the hotel room. On awakening the next morning Jan discovers Peter's bed has not been slept in. She telephones STEPHEN GARDNER, a newspaper reporter whom she met at the estate, and over breakfast she explains about Peter's leaving the hotel, but overlooks mentioning their marriage. Steve misunderstands and Jan, humiliated, rushes away from the table, telling him whatever he is thinking he is wrong and she doesn't need his help. Steve apologizes and gets enough money to pay Jan's hotel bill and carfare back to Hollymount. Arriving home, she finds her father, ROB, had a heart attack and the doctor thinks he isn't going to pull through.

CHAPTER TWELVE

THE next two days were a nightmare of inactivity. Upstairs Bob Macleod lay in a coma, unbroken save for his occasional mutterings, which broke Jan's heart.

"This came to the Park Avenue house yesterday," Fania said, giving the telegram to Jan. "The hotel forwarded it to me, because they had no other address and thought I might know something about it." She added, "I haven't read it, and I am not asking any questions."

While the nurse was out for a few hours in the afternoon, she sat by his bed, trying to see some flicker of recognition in his grey face.

"If only I had been here!" she told Dr. Cullum in her first rush of grief. "I shouldn't have left him, I shouldn't have! I knew he was sick."

"There's nothing you could have done, Jan," said the doctor. "Don't torture yourself with might-have-beens. He telephoned me when he felt the attack coming on. You couldn't have reached me any more quickly."

LITTLE COMFORT

His words did little to comfort her. No one had asked why she had gone from Hollymount. Mrs. Tuttle, who was installed in the house all day now, had been brought by the doctor.

In her good, if clumsy, way she puttered around the house after Jan, doing her best to keep things going smoothly.

On the second evening, while Mrs. Tuttue was trying to make Jan eat some dinner, the nurse appeared in the doorway and beckoned to her. The girl put down her napkin and rose fearfully.

"He is conscious," said the nurse. "But be careful."

Rob's eyes were open and he tried to smile as he saw Jan. She knelt by the bed and put her hands in his. He said weakly, "I wish . . . I were sure . . . you were going to be all right."

"Don't talk, Dad," she said.

"I must . . . while I can. Mr. Van Vliet will be good to you. Let . . . him . . . help . . . you."

Jan blinked through her tears and patted his hand reassuringly. "I don't want him to. You'll do it yourself."

Her father shut his eyes wearily. She stayed beside him until the nurse came and took her away.

* * *

Robert Van Vliet came for the funeral, and, with him, Fania. Jan was surprised and rather touched to see Peter's stepmother.

Her opinion of Fania was somewhat softened by her memory of that night beside Peter's bedside, but it was not essentially changed. Perhaps she had been wrong.

The Van Vliets, however, faded into the background as she sat in the little church and watched Rob's old friends come to pay him their last respects.

Her father's 15 years in Virginia had earned for him the love and respect of his neighbors.

Some of them knew his story: that of a Scotch immigrant boy who had come to America with a few pennies in his pocket. He began to work in the gardens of a Long Island estate and continued there until the doctor ordered a change of air for his wife.

Then he and little Jan and her mother had come to Hollymount, where his wife died. He had by then become an expert in breeding horses, in raising fine fruits and vegetables and flowers.

Not only his absolute loyalty to Robert Van Vliet, but his knowledge of his business had won for him a unique place in the hearts of those around him.

Jan thought, "They will miss him. And oh, I will, too!"

* * *

Robert Van Vliet walked about the small living room of Dower House as if it were too confining.

"But did he leave enough money to take care of you?" he asked finally. "I was distressed, Jan, because you would not let me do this for you. I had meant to pension your father very soon, for I knew his health wouldn't stand up much longer, but I had been afraid to suggest it to him. I didn't think he would want to turn over the place to someone else. What I have offered you is the equivalent of that pension."

"That's not very much. It can't last long, and then what will you do?"

GOING TO LEAVE

"I'm going to leave Hollymount, of course. But I do thank you for offering me the money, Mr. Van Vliet."

"Leave Hollymount? What will you do?"

"I'm going to New York. I can't stay here. You'll have to find a new manager, and he will need Dower House."

"New York!"

"I'm going to take a business course. I've had some training, but I need more. Dad's money will pay for it. After that, I can get a job."

"Isn't there something you can do here? You don't know anything about New York, Jan. It's a terribly big place, you'd be lost in it. Have you ever been there?"

She was surprised to see Fania, who was standing by the window, turn and look at her keenly. "Yes," said Jan slowly. "Just once."

When he had been convinced, with difficulty, that she meant what she said, Robert rose and said, "I needn't tell you that I have lost a friend.

"You have my New York address, and I want to hear from you when you get there. Perhaps I can help you get a job."

Fania lingered after he had gone, and beckoned Jan to sit beside her on the lounge. The older woman was dressed in delicate black. The veil on her hat masked her eyes somewhat, but Jan could feel them on her penetratingly, with that strange questioning she had felt when Robert had asked her about New York.

Fania opened her bag and brought out a yellow envelope. "This came to the Park Avenue house yesterday," she said, giving the telegram to the girl.

"It had been sent to the Plaza. The hotel forwarded it to me, because they had no other address and thought I might know something about it." She added, "I haven't read it, and I am not asking any questions."

LOOKS AT ENVELOPE

She looked at Fania, who was lighting a cigarette unconcernedly.

"What made you think it might be for me?"

"Just a thought. I didn't know anyone else to try. Also, I thought you might have taken my advice."

Jan tore it open. The wire had been sent from New York, and the date was two days after Steve had sent her back to Hollymount.

It read, "Sorry about all this, but it couldn't be helped. Something big came up. Will write details later. Suggest you go back to Hollymount. I'll be seeing you. Love. Peter."

Then, with a spasm of anger, she crumpled the paper in her hands, walked to the fireplace, and threw it into the flames.

WATCHES MATCH

Fania watched the match in her hand burn to its end and dropped it, too, into the fire. She asked casually, "Want to tell me about it?"

Jan shook her head. She couldn't speak. This was too much Peter's off-hand assumption that she would go back to Hollymount because he told her to, that she would wait for orders in a hotel room, penniless, in New York . . . waiting until he chose to let her know about his next whim. . . .

"Did I bring it to the right . . . er . . . person? If you say so, the secret is locked in my bosom," said Fania. "It occurs to me that I might be a useful bystander if you want to confide in anyone."

"There isn't any secret," said Jan

"Then . . . I hate to insist, but . . . was it a mistake?"

"Yes," said Jan with slow, burning, bitterness, "a very bad mistake."

FUNERAL HELD FOR B. R. GRAY ON WEDNESDAY

Remains Of Railroader, Great War Veteran, Sent To Vancouver

Attended by many friends, including a large number of his brothers in the railroaders' lodges, funeral service was held Wednesday evening at Howard & McBride's chapel for Benjamin Richard Gray, 54, 12706 123A street, C.N.R. conductor who died suddenly Monday evening at Fallis.

Over the casket was draped the Union Jack and Mr. Gray's Great War medals. He served overseas with the 35th Battery, C.F.A.

Coming to Canada as a child, Mr. Gray joined the Canadian Northern Railway at Port Arthur as a trainman in 1908. He had been in the railroad's service continuously since that time, except for a short period from 1913 to 1915.

He was promoted to conductor in 1919 and for the past six years has had the run between Calder and Edson. He succumbed to a heart seizure Monday evening while inspecting a stalled freight train at Fallis.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. S. Clark, who spoke of Mr. Gray's great kindliness and ready friendship for the many people who knew him.

Besides his widow he leaves two daughters, Patsy, 17 and Viola, 14, also two sisters, Mrs. W. Lapp of Midland, Ontario and Miss Isabel Gray of Detroit and one brother, Septimus of Midland.

BOYS GUESTS OF ROTARY AT LUNCHEON MEET

Boys from the Edmonton Rotary Club's annual summer camp at Edmonton Beach were entertained at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Macdonald hotel Thursday. The boys, all looking very young and very polished up for the occasion, enjoyed community singing led by Reg. T. Rose, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here.

Guest speaker was Max W. Ball, president of Abasand Oils Ltd., who told the boys that the reason the Rotarians were so interested in boys' work was because they "got a kick" out of looking after the young fellows. He advised the youths to give someone else a boost sometime and carry on a string of good turns from one generation to another.

Ranged outside the banquet room on display tables, were a number of model airplanes, carvings and paintings, all the work of youths who attend classes at the Y.M.C.A.

George Cormie, chairman of the boys' work committee of the club, introduced Mr. Ball and explained some of the work being done amongst boys by his committee. He thanked members for their cooperation with him in his work.

Law Club Holds Annual Banquet: Toasts Are Given

Twentieth annual banquet of the University of Alberta Law Club was held Wednesday evening in the Macdonald hotel with John M. Goode acting as toastmaster.

Toast to the bench was made by Alex Smith and answered by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor; the bar proposed by Michel Dubuc and answered by L. Y. Cairns, K.C.; to the University, proposed by W. A. Howard and answered by Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, president of the university; to the faculty, proposed by Alec Williamson and answered by Dean J. A. Weir, K.C., of the faculty of law; to the graduating class, proposed by George H. Steer, K.C., and answered by Morris Schumiatcher.

Guest speaker was G. M. Blackstock, K.C. Others present included Dr. M. A. McIntyre, Ronald Martland and J. Hugo.

Moderately Cold Weather Forecast

The Edmonton forecast at 8:30 a.m. Thursday was "moderately cold" and the weather has been just that during the past 24 hours. From 5 above at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, temperatures changed but slightly and at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, it was 2 above, with a barometric pressure of 27.70 unsteady.

Snowfall is heavy in the near north with six inches reported at High Prairie and Grouard. Ceiling and visibility are zero at these spots, and are only fair at other near north points. Temperatures average zero.

Motorist Charged Danger Driving

Charge of dangerous driving was laid against John Holtorf, 11846 71 street, following a collision between two cars in the exhibition grounds west of the Arena office Wednesday night. According to a police report, the car operated by Holtorf struck an auto operated by Robert George, Wetaskiwin, when the latter was pulling out from the curb. Both cars suffered considerable damage but no one was injured.

Holtorf pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs with the option of spending 21 days in jail, when he appeared in police court before Magistrate Howe Thursday.

Aim Reported Fatal

George H. Earle, U.S. ambassador to Bulgaria, who felled an unidentified German in a Sofia cafe. Earle is reported to have struck the German in the face with a bottle after the German had hurled a bottle at him during an argument over the playing of "Tipperary" by the orchestra at Earle's request. Unconfirmed reports state the German is dying of a fractured skull.

Yukon Southern Air Transport has installed a new type aerial on its planes for radio range flying, it was reported by B. Phillips, vice-president. This style, recently developed in the United States, is similar to the perpendicular, telescopic automobile aerials. One difference is that it projects downward from the underside of the fuselage, instead of up as on cars.

* * *

The value of the aerial is chiefly in detecting the "cone of silence" immediately above the towers of the radio range station when flying blind. The former V-type aerial was not as sensitive to the cone of silence and gave trouble when it iced up in winter flying.

* * *

When the perpendicular aerial becomes iced, it can be wound up or retracted and then re-extended, this operation cleaning it of ice.

* * *

Yukon Southern is the first northern air transport company to adopt this type of retractible perpendicular aerial. The aerial is located immediately under the plane's radio, which is in the pilot's cockpit.

North Sawle, Canadian Airways, left Thursday for Yellowknife with four passengers. Joe Irwin was southbound from Fort Smith to Edmonton. Phil Lucas was northbound from McMurray to Aklavik, and Cecil McNeal was bound from Prince Albert to Goldfields.

* * *

Entertainment To Aid Czechs In War

Edmonton Czecho-Slovakians tonight (Thursday) will stage a bingo party at the Alberta Avenue Community hall in aid of their compatriots' drive throughout Canada to raise $50,000 to aid the Czech army fighting in Great Britain. Officials said recently that to date over $20,000 of this objective has been reached and it is hoped that this evening's party will do much to augment the Edmonton quota, which is expected to be reached within the next few weeks.

Auto Is Looted During Afternoon

A quantity of articles with a total value of approximately $30 was stolen Wednesday from a car belonging to F. Jamieson, Calgary, parked in front of the Macdonald hotel. The thief or thieves forced open the locked doors of the car to steal two steamer rugs, a flashlight and a hat. The rugs are dark, blue plaid and valued at $19.80. The hat has the initials X.F.J. on the hatband.

ROAD REPORT

Safety Slogan: At intersections "flying corners" are dangerous. For safety, a complete stop is often required.

Thursday's A.M.A. report: All main roads open; St. Paul, heavy; Peace River, blocked at Fairview; Provost, blocked west of Coronation, open east.

PROGRESS MADE IN ORGANIZING WAR SERVICES

Satisfactory progress is being made in the organization of the United War Services drive which opens March 24 with an Alberta objective of $240,000, it was reported Wednesday by Ed. H. Ayling, campaign director for Northern Alberta, at a meeting in the Memorial Hall.

Announcement was made of the appointment of three chairmen of committees. J. G. Nickerson heads the budget and accounting group; L. Y. Cairns, K.C., is in charge of publicity and O. C. McIntyre leads the list committee. Two other committees for the city and outside campaigns are not yet complete.

Permanent office for the Northern Alberta committee will be opened in Edmonton shortly to conduct the drive. Objective for Northern Alberta has not yet been fixed, it was disclosed at the meeting, but it has been suggested that the northern section contribute two-fifths of the total of $240,000. Definite objective will not be named before the boundary line between north and south Alberta, for purposes of the drive, has been set.

Shipyards Busy On Navy Craft, Merchant Ships

Eastern shipyards are busy turning out craft for the navy and for merchant shipping, it was stated by P. D. McAvity, Toronto, of T. McAvity and Son, brass, steel and iron manufacturers of St. John, N.B.

"Eastern factories are busy and we have had some difficulty in getting enough skilled workers, which has caused a bottleneck, but that situation is being ironed out as we are bringing new men along, training them for the work." Mr. McAvity said.

Asked if he was the "Son" in the company name, Mr. McAvity replied, "No, I am the son's son. We have been in the brass and steel business in St. John since 1834."

He is registered at the Macdonald.

Leave By Air

M. C. McCannel left Wednesday night by Trans-Canada Airlines for Toronto to attend the executive meeting of the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants. Also aboard the plane were Dr. G. Whissell of Legal, for Montreal; H. N. Davis of Ogilvie Flour Mills, and F. E. Gustavison of S. S. Kresge Co., Ltd., both for Calgary.

Most partially deaf persons are able to hear conversation better in noisy places.

HEAVY ASSAULT IN DAYLIGHT ON ENGLISH TOWN

East Anglia Town Bombed On "Big Scale" During Day Attacks

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(CP)—An east Anglican town was bombed "on a big scale" in daylight today and relief posts were set up to care for casualties.

Two other east Anglian towns were attacked in hit-and-run raids.

In one coastal town, a single dive bomber dropped high explosives and incendiaries and then machine-gunned children in the streets. A number of people were killed.

LONDON IS BOMBED

Shops and houses collapsed. An undetermined number of persons were buried in the underground bars of a crowded hotel and cries for help came out amidst the wreckage.

A load of bombs also was dropped on London during the daylight hours and the streets of four English villages were machine-gunned.

In last night's raids on London a bomb wrecked a canteen of an air raid precautions station, formerly a hospital, killing and injuring a number of persons. Wounded nurses worked with rescue squads in the light of flares to aid others more seriously wounded.

Night fighters damaged two raiders over Britain. One of the daylight attackers on the east coast was believed to have been shot down.

Dwellers along the east coast could see the explosions of bombs aimed at ships. The ships or their escort put up a heavy anti-aircraft fire.

The German aircraft flew through heavy mist over the Strait of Dover to reach England.

A communique said the German nocturnal assaults were on "a considerable scale" but added "there were very few casualties."

NIGHT FIGHTERS BUSY

Points in east, southeast, south and west England also were raided, the government reported, but it added that "no heavy attack developed in any area."

An absence of searchlight activity in London indicated night fighters were aloft taking care of the defence.

KING EXPRESSES SYMPATHY OVER BANTING DEATH

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—(CP)—Government House announced today receipt by the governor-general of a cable from the King expressing His Majesty's sympathy over the death of Sir Frederick Banting, distinguished Canadian medical scientist who was killed with two others last week in a plane crash at Newfoundland.

The King's message read:

"It is with deep regret that I have learned of the death of Sir Frederick Banting. His loss will be mourned in many lands by the thousands to whom his brilliant work has restored health and well-being, but nowhere more than in the Dominion which was his home."

Nazis Drive Dutch

LONDON. — (CP) — The Nazis have introduced compulsory labor services for all 19-year-old Dutchmen, who will be compelled to spend six months in camp, according to Dutch circles in London.

FASCIST TROOPS, MOTORIZED UNITS BOMBED BY R.A.F.

ATHENS, Feb. 27. — (AP) — Italian troop and vehicle concentrations at Luzati and Fieri, on the Albanian front, and a convoy off the Albanian port of Valona have been bombed and machine-gunned by British fliers in support of Greek land forces.

After vehicles were hit at Luzati, southeast of Tepeleni, and military camps hit at Fieri with several large fires resulting, the attackers dived low and machine-gunned the Fieri headquarters and other targets, a British communique said today.

Other aircraft successfully machine-gunned a convoy and a gunboat two miles off Valona. All R.A.F. planes returned safely.

More Vitamin A

LONDON—(CP)—While the nature of the product was not divulged, it was announced in the House of Commons experiments were being made to determine the value of the certain Vitamin A food to military night fliers.
